WASHINGTON, Sept. 15. (Ex- —Lest the country take the tariff debate in the Senate seriously there is recalled the that Pat Harrison of Mississippi after making one of his four-hour speeches the Republican party of every crime known to man, across the party aisle to the occupied by Senator James E. of Indiana and said:

Will Rogers Remarks:

SANTA MONICA, Sept. 15. [To the Editor of The Times:] Philip Snowden, Mr. Ramsay MacDonald's "head man," went over on the continent and talked the Allies out of a half-billion of Germany's reputation money. And he came back to England a bigger hero than MacDonald.

So Ramsay says to himself I will do the going from now on, so he is coming over here. So watch him, Herbert, Englishmen are the only race of people that never travel for just fun.

Personally I think he wants to show us the advantages of England retaining the largest navy. You won't be asked for any monetary consideration, Mr. Hoover. Just do a little fancy ship sinking.

Yours,

WILL ROGERS.

GROUNDED LINER AGAIN ON HER WAY

Guatemala Floated at High Tide Off Mazatlan, Mex.; No Damage Reported

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 15. (AP) Messages received here tonight from the Panama Mail liner Guatemala, which went aground off Mazatlan, Mex., today, stated that the vessel has been floated and is proceeding to Los Angeles apparently undamaged.

The messages were received by C. C. Mallory, assistant general manager of the ship line here. Mallory was told that the vessel was floated at high tide and is proceeding to Los Angeles, where it is due to arrive Thursday morning.

No mention was made of any damage and officials of the line assumed that the vessel is unharmed.

Earlier dispatches said the Guatemala had gone aground on an ebb tide in a fog. The salvage tug Peacock had been sent from Los Angeles to assist the stranded vessel.

Soviet General Staff Now at Vladivostok as Base of Military Action

Russians Believed to Have About 20,000 Soldiers on Eastern Front

SHANGHAI, Sept. 15. (Exclusive) Gen. Chang Tso-Hsiang, commander-in-chief of Chinese defenses, reported today that seven Chinese river boats were sunk by gun fire from soviet gunboats in the Upper Amur River Friday evening.

The same source says the general staff of the soviet far eastern armies have arrived at Vladivostok, now the base of military activity, the same as in the Russo-Japanese War, and the soviet force on the eastern front is estimated at 20,000 men, including 6000 infantry at Pogranichnaya, 2000 infantry at Harbarovsk, 7000 cavalry at Blagoyveschensk, and others scattered along the border. One thousand soviet troops lately moved to a point eight miles from the town of Huichun, garrisoned by small Chinese defenses.

It is learned that more than 1000 Chinese citizens have been moved to Vladivostok, and it now is estimated that 7000 are detained there. The town of Hei-ho, near Blagoyveschensk, is reported to have been bombarded on the 13th and 14th inst. by soviet fire, resulting in many houses being destroyed. One steamer of a gold-mining company was sunk.

ATTEMPT TO BLOW UP BRIDGE AGAIN FOILED

HARBIN, Sept. 15. (Exclusive)—Another attempt to dynamite the long Sungari bridge here was frustrated last night by soldiers defeating and driving off an armed gang of asserted soviets. In the attack, which occurred at 10 p.m. one soldier was killed and one wounded, a heavy rain enabling the culprits to escape.

It was decided today to move military headquarters from Machaho to Pogranichnaya, and also to establish an airdrome, indicating that the Chinese intentions are not to evacuate Pogranichnaya, as previously reported.

Soviet airplanes yesterday dropped leaflets stating they have no further intentions of bombing Pogranichnaya.

Tribute was paid to Mr. Kvale by representatives of Congress, the local church, the Norwegian Lutheran Church of America, and Luther College, Decorah, Iowa, from which he was graduated.

Mr. Kvale was burned to death in his cottage near Fergus Falls last Tuesday night.

SANTA CRUZ, Sept. 15. (AP)—Uncle Sam took a hand in the troubled municipal affairs of Santa Cruz tonight with Prohibition Administrator William Walker directing raids on fourteen asserted speakeasies.

In response to complaints from civic organizations, Walker descended on the town with a score of prohibition agents, seizing a large quantity of liquor and arresting eight men. They were taken to San Francisco and lodged in County Jail, where Walker said he will hold them until tomorrow, when they will appear before the United States commissioner there.

QUINCY, Sept. 15. (AP)—No responsibility was fixed at the inquest here today for the gas explosion in the Plumas county highway tunnel which killed three San Quentin convicts and injured three others yesterday. Rich Uncles Plan for Financing

Mail Order Motor Subject of $45,000,000 Deal for Manufacture

Duponts and Leeds Among Those Interested in Meeting Today

NEW YORK, Sept. 15. (Exclusive)—Final details of a $45,000,000 deal for the manufacture and sale, through a mail-order house, of a baby automobile to be shipped in a packing case which later can be used as a garage, will be arranged tomorrow at a conference in Washington, D. C., it was learned tonight. The car is the invention of James V. Martin of the Martin Airplane Factory, Garden City, L. I. He is reported to have obtained the support of a syndicate headed by William B. Leeds, the Dupont interests, and Sears-Roebuck & Co.

It is expected the baby automobile, which will seat two, will sell for less than $200.

The successful culmination of the deal tomorrow will mark the happy ending of the dream of an inventor who is one of the world's pioneers in aviation, the confirmation of the faith of a woman who believed in him and his idea, and the end of difficult negotiations by powerful financial interests.

GETS HALF-INTEREST

Mrs. Lillian Fayre is the woman who backed her belief in the baby motor and obtained as a reward a half interest with Prof. Martin in his invention. Little is known of her except that she had been active in helping to get the automobile placed on the market.

Prof. Martin is a Harvard graduate who took up flying in Europe in 1910 and brought to this country one of the first Bleriot machines. He is credited with many aeronautical inventions.

It is reported that the inventor has for some time refused to meet persons interested in financing the automobile. The financial representatives who will meet with him in Washington tomorrow finally obtained an appointment after many delays.

It is said by the inventor that the car is not the scaled-down edition of the larger cars, but an entirely different kind of automobile. There's no chassis or chassis frame. The car is described as a body containing an engine and four wheels. Each wheel is mounted independently and powered.

IT HAS NO SPRINGS

There are no springs in the car, each wheel being suspended with rubber aviation cord, the tension cord used for the suspension of airplane wheels. It permits each wheel to take the road bumps independently of the other.

The models that have been built and approved by Sears Roebuck & Co. experts have a wheel base of sixty inches as compared with the seventy-five inches of the Austin, the English small car. The model A Ford, smallest American car to date, has a wheel base of 103½ inches.

The car is equipped with a four-cylinder, air-cooled motor, and has the usual electric starter, speedometer, and other attachments. It weighs only 600 pounds. The inventor says it will do fifty miles an hour on a gallon of gasoline.

The packing case garage is regarded as a great novelty, it is said, by the mail-order executives who have been looking for a small car for mail-order sale for a long time. This case is equipped with a hinged door from which the car is unloaded and which afterward becomes the door of the garage.

One of the uses seen for the new car is as equipment for explorers and travelers over rough country. The car can be shipped in its packing case from point to point, the case folding so that it can be carried when the car is in use. The springless wheels afford an advantage in rough traveling, it is claimed, there being no rebound as each wheel dips into a depression.

The inventor declares the car has few moving parts that require lubrication and that these parts can be lubricated for life before it is shipped. The motor requires a supply of oil but Martin says it will use much less than the ordinary small car.

TIGER DISCUSSES DYING

Clemenceau Asserts He Will Not Oblige Press With Sudden Death and Funeral Will be Quiet

PARIS, Sept. 15. (Exclusive)—Chuckling ghoulishly, Georges Clemenceau, war-time Premier, today discussed his own death and prospects of after life with a few journalists who succeeded in penetrating the barrier around his cottage on the seacoast in the Department of Vendee.

"Get the hell out of here," is the literal English translation of what the Tiger yelled at the newspaper men upon their arrival, but the crusty old "father of victory" later relented long enough to utter a few sinister predictions about the end of his days.

"In the first place, I warn you that when I die you will not know a thing about it," the war-time Premier chuckled. "Anyway, it is not going to happen suddenly, even though you would like to see me kick off in order to have a story," he continued.

"I will die slowly, and I already have made all arrangements. If I die in Paris, as soon as I am dead they will put me in a coffin and ship me to Vendee, without a drum or a trumpet. In that way nobody will be bothered by my obsequies, not even myself. If I die at Vendee I will be right on the spot and it will not be the least trouble to anybody."

Regarding the hereafter, M. Clemenceau expressed himself very pessimistically about passing the time playing a harp.

"Concerning my philosophy, I am an atheist, but not in the ordinary sense of the word," he declared emphatically. "When a fine woman once reproached me for destroying her faith, I replied to her and the Jesuit director by her side, 'When I go to bed it is with the hope that I will sleep well and not with the hope of waking up.'"

Having delivered himself thusly, the old Tiger suddenly took on his crusty manner and repeated, "Now get the hell out of here."

Boy Gives Blood to Save Life of Chum in Wreck

SAN JOSE, Sept. 15. (AP)—Ralph Pilgrim, 15 years of age, tonight gave a pint of his blood to save the life of his 12-year-old chum, William Baker, who was injured this morning when the automobile in which the two were riding crashed into a tree at Alum Rock Park, seven miles east of here.

After going to the hospital with his injured chum, who had the jugular vein of his throat cut open by glass, young Pilgrim went to the police station, told the officers he was driving the car without his parents' permission, that he was an inexperienced driver, had no operator's card, and that the accident happened because his attention was distracted.

Dr. H. Levin said tonight that Baker undoubtedly would have died had it not been for Pilgrim's sacrifice.

Unusual Feat Saves Cyclist

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 15. (AP) The handlebars of his motorcycle broken off in the crash which killed his companion, James Mathias, 27 years of age, of San Francisco, escaped death today by guiding the speeding vehicle for half a mile by grasping the fork holding the front wheel. Unable to stop the bike, Mathias finally crashed into an automobile coming in the opposite direction. He suffered slight bruises.

The accident occurred on the Hayward-San Mateo bridge. Frank J. Pierce, 22, riding with Mathias, was thrown from the motorcycle when it struck a concrete pillar a glancing blow. His head was crushed.

Three Killed as Auto Overturns

HELENA (Mont.) Sept. 15. (AP)—Three ranch hands lost their lives in the overturning of an automobile about twelve miles east of here today.

The automobile, traveling at a high rate of speed, turned over on a level stretch of road and was demolished.

Santa Maria Watershed in Peril as 100 Men Fight to Conquer Menace

One of Dangerous Blazes in Northwest Breaks Out With Added Fury

FIRE RAGING ALONG NEW IDYLLWILD HIGHWAY

RIVERSIDE, Sept. 15. (AP)—A serious brush fire, which started late today along the new highway to Idyllwild, San Jacinto Mountain resort, tonight has burned over 5000 acres on the southwestern foot of the range and is threatening to sweep toward Kean's and other mountain camps. Supervisor G. K. Elliott of the San Bernardino National Forest is directing 200 fire fighters and calling for more aid. The undergrowth is reported to be extremely dry, causing the flames to race furiously up the brush-covered slopes.

UKIAH STILL BEING MENACED BY FLAMES

UKIAH, Sept. 15. (AP)—Although large forces of men working all night, taking advantage of a lull in the wind, have taken precautions against new outbreaks, Ukiah still is in danger as forest fires smolder tonight within a mile of the city.

State Forester M. B. Pratt, directing the efforts of fire fighters, stated that fresh winds are rising and should a "strong wind blow in the right direction the consequences may be disastrous."

A cabin was the only building destroyed to date. State fire and game wardens from a large part of the State are concentrated in the Ukiah sector to control the situation. Pratt explained that weather conditions are very bad as it is hot and dry throughout Mendocino county.

Pratt charged that fifty incendiary fires have been reported in Mendocino, Humboldt and Sonoma counties during the last week. Every effort is being made, he said, to obtain evidence that the fires were set deliberately and if successful those guilty will be prosecuted.

Flames in the California National Forest still are out of control and burning fast. Nearly 3000 acres of Sanhedrin Mountain has been burned and large forces are fighting to control the fires. Pratt reported that a fire in Humboldt county National Forest lands is out of control and fighters have been sent from Eureka to help confine it. Of two dozen other small fires in Northern California the majority are either out or under control, the forester said.

WASHINGTON BLAZE SPREADING RAPIDLY

PORTLAND (Or.) Sept. 15. (AP)—Fanned by a thirty-mile wind the Dole fire in the upper Little Washougal country of Clark county, Washington, today was given new life and spread into the southwest corner of the Columbia National Forest, reports received at the district forest office here revealed. A veritable fine snow of ashes, carried from the blaze across the Columbia River by the wind, rained down on this city, covering streets, sidewalks and roofs with a thin layer of dust.

Forest officials said the Dole fire has burned out more than 30,000 acres of logged over, second growth and green timber lands. Officials visibly are worried by the reports that it has entered the Columbia forest. They recalled that in 1902 a fire in the same country destroyed more than 600,000 acres of timber and caused several deaths.

Fire losses in national forests of the Pacific Northwest so far this year have been ten times greater than last year, officials of the district forest office here estimated today. Only 23,443 acres were destroyed last year, while fires this

MRS. COOLIDGE GIVES CREED

Advice to Brides on Eve of Son's Marriage Shows Her Own Frugality and Sagacity

NORTHAMPTON (Mass.) Sept. 15. (Exclusive)—A wise wife keeps her hands and her mind busy with useful tasks. She is always sympathetic, but guards against fussiness. She is economical, and never sets her heart on luxuries that would endanger the budget. She never plies her husband with questions, but listens attentively to what he chooses to tell her. She is studiously discreet, and abhors all gossip. She chooses her clothes to please his fancy and her menus to please his palate.

This is Mrs. Calvin Coolidge's stock advice for brides, according to her Massasoit-street neighbors; and tallies exactly with Florence Trumbull's theories on the wife's part in building a happy home. Mrs. Coolidge herself has refused all public comment on the approaching nuptials of her son John; but to the old-time neighbors she has sung the praises of her future daughter-in-law unstintingly.

It is not surprising that Mrs. Coolidge admires her daughter-in-law-to-be, because Miss Trumbull is very like the Miss Grace Goodhue of former days in temperament, mind and manner, old friends report. Florence is gracious, good-natured and inclined to be talkative and John, like his famous father, never seeks conversational laurels and does his thinking in silence. Florence's inexperience in the culinary arts does not disturb Mrs. Coolidge in the least.

"I didn't know much about cooking myself, as a bride," she explains, smiling. "In fact, I never won any prizes with my pies. It won't take her long to learn the essentials."

Mrs. Coolidge never did much cooking except when her faithful housekeeper, Mrs. Alice Rockahon, took a vacation. Florence Trumbull, on the other hand, has avowed her intention to shoulder the culinary burdens of the family single handed.

"Housekeeping is a much simpler matter, nowadays," admits Mrs. Coolidge. "The main thing is

EXPORTS SHOW LARGE INCREASE

Manufactured Articles Get Credit for Advance

Great Share of Growth Due to Auto Shipments

Gain of 10 Per Cent Noted for Fiscal Year

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14. (AP)—A steady advance in the value of manufactured articles exported from the United States was said today by the Department of Commerce to have been chiefly responsible for an increase of $497,000,000 in exports for the fiscal year ending June 30.

Exports for the year were valued at $5,274,000,000, an increase of 10 per cent over the previous year, while imports totaled $4,292,000,000, a 3.5 per cent gain.

"The accelerated growth of exports of finished manufactures," the Commerce Department said, "was the most notable feature of export trade during 1928-29. This group totaled $2,509,000,000 and was responsible for seven-eighths of the gain in total exports."

A large share of the gr owth was due to increased foreign shipments of automobiles, parts and accessories, which totaled $591,000,000 in 1928-29, a gain of 39 per cent over the previous year. The number of passenger cars, bodies and trucks exported was 36 per cent greater than the previous year and more than ten times larger than in 1921-22.

Outstanding increases also were reported for machinery, gasoline and iron and steel products. Cotton exports were considerably larger in the last six months of 1928 than a year earlier, but were much reduced in the first half of 1929. Wheat exports were unusually small following the 1928 harvest, which partly offset increased trade in other articles.

Imports of gold exceeded exports by $155,000,000, compared with a loss of $498,000,000 the previous year. No explanation of this was given in the report, but Commerce Department officials have explained that the gold movement to the United States has been caused partially by high money rates in this country.

Sanatorium for Nation's Stage Folk Dedicated

SARANAC LAKE (N. Y.) Sept. 15. (AP)—A gabled stone sanatorium on an Adirondack eminence was dedicated today by the National Vaudeville Artists to the actors of the United States.

Eddie Cantor, president of the association of stage folk which erected the $750,000 institution, expressed the hope in his address of dedication that the sanatorium will be only the first unit in a tuberculosis foundation in which many stage organizations will participate, and Henry Chesterfield, secretary, prophesied that it will become "the center of a vast community where every member of this profession and those allied with it can come to seek health."

The sanatorium, situated on a forty-acre estate, has the largest quartz solarium in the world.

FIRES RACING ON IN IDAHO AND MONTANA

MISSOLUA (Mont.) Sept. 15. (AP) Two fires in Idaho and Montana made devastating runs last night, forest officials learned here today. The Big Creek blaze, eighteen miles west of Avery, Idaho, spread over much new acreage, and the Holbrook fire, on the South Fork of the Flathead River, in Northwestern Montana, raced forward one mile.

Twenty-five men were sent to the Big Creek blaze from Spokane and Missoula reinforcements are expected to leave here tomorrow for the Flathead area.

The fire hazard is regarded as critical as at any time during the season.

given by the bill to the textile and shoe industries of his State. There is Wagner of New York, who must faithfully represent not only the Wall-street financiers, but the dairy industry and truck farmers of his State. There is even Simmons of North Carolina, leader of the Democratic attack on the tariff, who always in the past has succeeded in taking care of his State in tariff revision, and is on the alert to do so again. The list could go on until the roll was called of at least half the Democratic members of the Senate.

The Democratic Senators will stand together against the administrative features of the legislation, notably the "flexible" provision giving the President the power to raise or lower rates up to 50 per cent on advice of the Tariff Commission, and many of them will join with the small band of Republican insurgents led by Borah in voting for the motion to limit revision to agriculture. But when the final showdown comes on significant schedules and when the final vote comes on the bill, enough Democrats will unite with the regular Republicans to see the tariff safely across the hurdles.

ATTACK INSINCERE

Pat Harrison and Jim Watson, the latter the Republican Senate leader, indulged in a typical combat reminiscent of the story told at the opening of this article on Friday. Harrison did his stuff on the floor of the Senate. In a long harangue which no one who witnessed the scene took seriously, he accused Reed Smoot of Utah, chairman of the Finance Committee, of everything from raising the duty on tooth brushes so as to keep people from brushing their teeth to boosting the tariff on combs so they would not be able to comb their hair.

It was a speech obviously insincere to those who were on hand to hear it, and see Harrison deliver it, but which nevertheless makes the kind of reading in the Congressional Record the Democrats want.

Senator Watson made his reply over the radio the same night. He delivered a sort of Old Mother Hubbard speech which predicted that the great American cupboard would be bare if the Democrats were not watched and blocked in their attempt to defeat the Hawley-Smoot bill. One thing he did say of importance was that in his opinion, and he ought to know, President Hoover would be glad to sign the bill as it stands. He closed with the familiar appeal for the country to stick to the Republican protective policy "for its maintenance means prosperity and its abandonment means despair."

And so the tariff fight is on.

SPOKANE, Sept. 15. (AP)—A resolution condemning the use of magazine pictures depicting girls smoking cigarettes was adopted here yesterday by the United Brethren of Christ, Oregon conference. The resolution read:

"We go on record as being stirred to battle by the terrible cigarette evil, especially the brazen pictures showing beautiful girlhood contaminated by cigarette advertisements. We recommend that members of the church protest in writing to those magazines which have lowered themselves to giving their pages to such advertisements."

MRS. COOLIDGE OFFERS ADVICE

the wife to keep herself busy. I have always taken great interest in hand work, crocheting, embroidery and sewing of all kinds. The modern girl does not do much with that sort of thing; but I expect there will be a revival of popularity before long for such arts."

The fact that Florence Trumbull doesn't know how to cook won't bother John as much as it would most husbands, according to Mrs. Lindsay, his landlady at Amherst for several years. For it seems that the son of Calvin Coolidge has won distinction for an ironclad digestion as well as an enthusiasm for large quantities of cucumbers, olives and other indigestibles. Furthermore, he abhors fresh vegetables and doesn't observe the difference between delicatessen products and the perfect product of a home oven. Any girl who can work a can opener can keep him gastronomically satisfied, the landlady feels. Even the stoniest of biscuits would not give him indigestion.

FRIENDS SURPRISED

John's schoolboy friends are somewhat surprised at the $78-a-month rent that the young couple are going to swing for the next year. It doesn't sound like John, particularly when his family has gotten along so well on $42 per month, they said. All predict an economical future for the daughter of the Connecticut Governor.

"Why, John's saved almost $15 a week out of the $30 that the New Haven and Hartford people pay him," exclaimed a chum enviously. "He got a lot of free meals, of course, and spent his week-ends with the Trumbulls. That helped out a lot; but he's of a saving nature, anyhow. Coming back from college, he'd always take a trolley car rather than a cab. It's all bunk about his buying a saxophone. He learned to play on the other fellows'.

"And sometimes at a dance he would sit in with the band and play their instruments. He always managed to get better buys at the army and navy stores than the other fellows; and got his shoes resoled more often than anyone I know."

QUESTION OF CAR

The question of Miss Trumbull's car has aroused considerable comment along Massasoit street. The Coolidges never owned a car until this year, when they purchased a used Lincoln from the government. While her husband was Governor, Mrs. Coolidge is said to have expressed a longing for a Ford to close friends; but never to her husband.

"We can't afford it," she told them, "so I've put it out of my mind."

Massasoit street wonders how John will be able to finance repairs and gasoline on his $30 a week, without the outside aid which the young couple is reported to have scorned.

Mr. Coolidge often speaks with pride of the wholesome atmosphere in which her son grew up. While her husband was Governor, she spent most of her time with the children in the duplex frame house on Massasoit street, because she felt "simplicity was best for the boys."

Even the films were a rare diversion. On evenings when there was no prayer meeting, the neighbors would gather together for community sings. Grace Coolidge usually played the piano and sometimes John played his violin.

The Coolidges are much pleased by their son's choice of a bride, their friends testify. Even Calvin is said to have expressed his approval with something approaching loquacity. Northampton buzzes with gossip concerning the approaching wedding but, as yet, nobody has been able to find out what Mrs. Coolidge is going to wear.

FILM ACTRESS' BROTHER HELD

Jack Noonan Arrested in New York for Trial Here

Theft in Ted Lewis's Home Charged to Youth

Sally O'Neill's Kin Explains How He Got Property

NEW YORK, Sept. 15. (AP)—Jack Noonan, brother of Sally O'Neill and Molly O'Day, motion-picture actresses, was arrested today at the request of Sheriff William Traeger of Los Angeles, whose telegram said Noonan recently was indicted in Los Angeles on charges of burglary and receiving stolen goods.

The complaint against Noonan was made by Ted Lewis, orchestra leader, and two indictments were returned against him.

Noonan, who says he is a son of the late Supreme Court Justice Thomas F. Noonan of New Jersey, denied the charges and blamed his difficulties on an unnamed Hollywood actor and studio attache, who, he said, asked him to keep the property he is charged with stealing and which was found in his room. He said he was told it was too late to take the property back to the studio. Subsequently, Noonan said, he learned his name had been used in selling other property.

The property he was charged with having stolen consisted of fur coats and costumes, Noonan told police.

The arrest was made at the home of Capt Frank Hay, an aviator, in Hempstead, Long Island, where Noonan was traced by detectives who learned that he recently had been discharged from St. Mark's Hospital.

Noonan carried his right hand in a sling as the result of the amputation of the middle finger. Police said he explained that the amputation became a necessity because of an infection resulting from a "set-to" with a pugilist when the man insisted on entering a cafe in a Hollywood suburb about three months ago. Noonan said there were three men and three women in a party and he did not want to enter the cafe because of a previous "unpleasant experience" there.

Noonan was technical director for "The Patent Leather Kid" in which his sister, Molly O'Day, appeared with Richard Barthelmess.

He said he stopped in Tulsa, Okla., for some time on his trip east and had about decided to surrender when police arrived.

NOONAN SOUGHT SINCE GRAND JURY ACTION

Jack Noonan, brother of Sally O'Neill, motion-picture actress, has been sought in connection with the burglary of the home of Ted Lewis, musician and vaudeville artist, since the grand jury investigation of the robbery on the 6th inst. Lewis reported to the Sheriff's office that furs and dresses belonging to his wife and valued at near $6000, were taken by burglars during his absence in New York City last summer. One-third of the loot was recovered by Sheriff's deputies.

During the grand jury investigation here Frank De Paul, said to be a close friend of Noonan, appeared for questioning but was not held. Noonan, at that time, was variously declared to be in Oklahoma, New York and hiding in Los Angeles.

The youth has had other brushes with the law and last July entered a guilty plea to a drunk charge, paid a fine of $40 and previously had been fined for hitting a hotel clerk.

Governors Meet on Border Line

NOGALES (Ariz.) Sept. 15. (AP) Two governors of two States met today on the international border at Nogales, smiled and shook hands. They were John C. Phillips, Governor of Arizona, and Francisco Elias, Governor of Sonora.

As they clasped hands across the border line American troops stood at attention on the American side of the line and Mexican troops did likewise on the Mexican side.

The ceremony was a part of the program of the international aerial celebration and the Mexican independence fiesta.

Unique Method Heals Rupture

A Doctor's Invention Credited With Many Healings After Failures of Ordinary Trusses

Telling how they are now free from all truss wearing, many persons who had long suffered from single and double rupture gladly give credit for such freedom to the unique and simple invention of Dr. A. A. Kaiser. From long experience with groin rupture, the doctor knew the drawbacks of the old types of trusses and in working out his findings he did away with those old faults—his invention having no leg straps, no elastic belt, no spring bands, no plug pads. As a consequence, it affords real comfort in use and best aids Nature to heal the injury as the many reports from users so well verify. To encourage everyone with reducible groin rupture to enjoy the comfort and constructive benefit of Dr. Kaiser's creation, the manufacturers, The Easyhold Company, 1808 Koch Building, Kansas City, Mo., will send it on trial to all who write for it. This trial offer has proved a blessing to a great many people. It may be the same to you. Write today.

GIRLS PUT ON STOCKINGS AFTER BARE LEG VICTORY

NEW YORK, Sept. 1. (Exclusive) With cooler weather making it impracticable for girls to go barelegged, the city fathers of White Plains, N. Y., and New Haven, Ct., have decided that there is really no harm in the stockingless fad. The bare-leg advocates who fought all summer for the right to dress as they pleased, having won the argument, are pulling up their stockings and triumphantly declaring themselves victors.

The City Board of Education of White Plains announced that it does not contemplate enforcing the rule that girl students must not appear in sleeveless short dresses or with bare legs.

In New Haven Mrs. Anabell Young had presented to the Board of Aldermen a petition asking them to make it illegal for girls so dressed to appear on city streets. She withdrew her petition today, thereby canceling a public hearing which was to have been held tomorrow.

Present for the congress, to be held October 14 to 18, will be leading surgeons from North and South America and many distinguished visitors from abroad. While all problems of surgery and medicine will be discussed and demonstrated, the subject of cancer will have special attention.

X-RAY TREATMENT

According to Dr. Bowman C. Crowell, head of the clinical research department of the surgeons' association which also has under investigation the subject of the care of the injured and the treatment of fractures, the cancer problem in its different phases will be presented by eminent American surgeons. Foreign surgeons will also take part in the symposium, including Dr. James Heyman of Stockholm, who will make a report of progress in treatment of the disease by radium and X-ray as observed in the Radiumhemmet, or cancer institute with which he is associated.

In discussing plans for the symposium, Dr. Crowell also revealed that thousands of records of cancer cases have been placed on file in the College of Surgeons for reference of American surgeons in all parts of the continents.

"Since 1922 the clinical research department of the College of Surgeons has been collecting records of cancer cases for the benefit of the 9000 members of the association and also other qualified members of the profession who call on us for expert opinion on the various phases of cancer treatment," explained Dr. Crowell.

CASES POOLED

"The result is a pooling of cases and experiences which makes the entire country a laboratory at the service of the individual surgeon.

"The department of clinical research carries on a work which is distinct from all other cancer research.

"The department does not concern itself with experimentation and delving into possible cause of cancer, but is an agency that collects, classifies, analyzes and evaluates the actual work of practicing surgeons the country over. The results of its studies are made available to all surgeons and published for benefit of the profession generally.

"Our studies show very definitely that as soon as the public can be taught to seek regular, competent medical advice, most of the cases of cancer will be detected in an early stage and the percentage of cures will be greatly increased.

"For example, we have over 1230 cases of cancer of the womb and more than 500 of cancer of the breast, which have been followed for a period of over five years since treatment and studied by our committee. This study emphasizes the bright side of cancer. In cancer of the womb of some types when treated early, 42 per cent of the patients are alive and well at the end of five years.

"In a study of all cases of cancer of the breast entering the hospital early or late, 20 per cent of them, early or late, were found to be alive and well more than five years afterward, while if only the early cases are considered, the successful five-year cures mount to 57 per cent."

FAMOUS COMFORT SHOES
NOW IN LOS ANGELES

Dr. Kahler shoes are now obtainable in Los Angeles—the result of an insistent demand by the thousands who know their unrivaled comfort and smartness.

Kahler comfort is not just a phase, a fad or a new idea. It is a positive fact, tested and proven for more than 75 years. In 1853, Dr. Peter Kahler made a study of the foot and the requirements of a shoe to conform to it. He was the first to design a scientific comfort shoe. Dr. Kahler shoes are good looking, too. They meet the most exacting demands of style in leathers, in patterns, in workmanship.

Every Dr. Kahler shoe embodies 5 famous Kahler features—the instep support; the combination last (2 sizes narrower at the heel); the built-in arch; the straight-line last, and the cupped heel seat. We can prove how important these are to foot comfort.

SEVEN ACCUSED IN STRIKE DEATH

Men Held for Manslaughter in Carolina Slaying

Coroner's Jury Told About Shooting of Woman

Witnesses Describe Attack by Anti-Communists

GASTONIA (N. C.) Sept. 15. (AP)—With the Coroner's inquest into the death of Mrs. Ella May Wiggins, victim of an anti-Communist mob, only partly completed, seven men were held in bonds of $1000 each on charges of manslaughter. They were arrested on warrants issued at the request of Solicitor John G. Carpenter.

The inquest started in the Gaston county Courthouse yesterday morning and was in progress most of the day. Adjournment was taken until next Saturday.

The men arrested are F. T. Morrow, driver of an automobile, which collided with a truck in which twenty-one members of the National Textile Workers' Union were fleeing from a mob; Theodore Sims, Lowery Davis and Troy Jones, who were in the car with Morrow; George Lingerfelt, driver of the truck; I. M. Sossoman, master mechanic of the Loray Cotton Mill at Gastonia, and Will Lunsford, a Loray mill employee.

CONSPIRACY CHARGED

The warrants charged that the men "did conspire, confederate and agree together to slay and did slay Ella May Wiggins."

They were released on bonds of $1000 each signed by J. A. Baugh, general manager of the Loray mill of the Manville-Jenckes Company.

While the inquest was on it had been planned by relatives of Mrs. Wiggins to conduct her funeral from the home of an aunt in the Loray mill village, but two hours before the time set the ceremony was postponed until tomorrow.

It was stated that the International Labor Defense has taken charge and will issue a statement later.

Twenty-nine witnesses were heard at today's session of the inquest. Four physicians testified that Mrs. Wiggins met her death from a single bullet wound. A mill superintendent corroborated in large part the story told by the workers on the truck.

WOMAN TELLS STORY

Hobart White, 15 years of age, whose arm was broken when some member of the mob clubbed him, and Mrs. Mary Goldsmith Jones told their version of the incident. Mrs. Jones was wounded on the lip. She said she could not swear she was shot but is positive she was not hurt in the collision.

G. R. Spencer, superintendent of the American mill at Bessemer City, and occupants of the truck, all told Coroner Wallace and his jury that men armed with pump guns apparently tried to halt the strikers when they were dumped out of the wrecked truck. As the strikers fled Mrs. Wiggins was killed.

Several witnesses declared shots were fired at those who remained in the truck.

The shooting was the result of an attempt by anti-Communists to prevent an advertised meeting in South Gastonia by Communists and members of the National Textile Workers' Union, which last April called a strike in the Loray mills.

Plump Police 'Sentenced' to Electric Chair

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 15. (AP)—For their health's sake, Pittsburgh's police and firemen have been sentenced to the "electric chair."

Known as the combination vibratory chair, the equipment vibrates when charged with 110 volts of electricity. One of its primary objects is to reduce the waistline of several officers with excessive avoirdupois.

HEIRS SETTLE FIVE-YEAR WAR

Shrunken Chicago Estate to Be Divided

Man Acquitted of Slaying Gets Largest Share

Fiancee of Millionaire Youth to Share

CHICAGO, Sept. 15. (Exclusive) Division of the $1,000,000 estate of young William Nelson McClintock, over which many court battles have been waged, will be announced in a few days. This was indicated yesterday as attorneys concluded arrangements for settling the fight out of court by dividing the estate almost equally between William Darling Shepherd, acquitted of a charge of slaying his ward through the administration of typhoid germs, and a score of contesting claimants, headed by Miss Isabelle Pope, fiancee of the millionaire orphan.

Miss Pope and the ten cousins are the chief claimants of the estate. It is understood that they have signified acceptance of the terms of settlement. Signatures of minor claimants are said to have been obtained during the week.

McClintock's will gave the estate to Shepherd except an annuity of $6000 to Miss Pope. The will was drawn on the youth's twenty-first birthday by Shepherd, who is a lawyer. The legal battle began in 1924, shortly after McClintock's death.

During the five years it has been in the courts the estate has dwindled into the pockets of attorneys. One estimate fixes the present value at $500,000.

The cousins are William Eaton of California, Luella Yokum, Minnie Kerstens, William J. Eaton, Ira P. Eaton, Charles E. Eaton, Archie Eaton, Viola Eaton and Maude Walker, all of Ottumwa, Iowa.

FORD TOUR REAL TEST OF PLANES

Reliability Run Will Start First of October

Fifteen-Day Cruise to Cover East and South

Two Autogiros Among Forty Entries for Flight

NEW YORK, Sept. 15. (Exclusive)—With the major races of the year over, with advance models of leading aircraft manufacturers daily claiming superiority over planes of the past, one of the real tests of modern aircraft construction will get under way October 1 with the start of the competition for the Edsel Ford reliability trophy in the national air tour.

Forty entries will take off on that date from the Ford airport at Dearborn, Mich., setting out on a fifteen-day cruise, and closely watched by the scoring committee, which will award the trophy to the plane best suited for commercial purposes. Planes of all classes and descriptions will be among the starters, and classifications will be made of their particular purposes so that scoring may be done on an equitable basis.

The fleet will vary from ten two-place biplanes to the giant Curtiss Condor, a twin-motored ship of 1300 horsepower carrying eighteen passengers.

STABILITY TO BE TESTED

The test will consider stability and other features, and will include monoplanes, biplanes, sesquiplanes, closed and open models for passengers and mail, high and low-powered planes, and two models of the Cierva autogiro, the most novel development in modern aviation. The tour will mark the first entrance of the autogiro into open competition with planes of conventional design.

Although the exact specifications of entries have been left to the judgment of the manufacturers and owners of the planes, the governing committee has set limits for them. The loads to be carried must conform with the conditions set out by the Department of Commerce in its requirements for license and certificate of airworthiness, and the plane must possess other qualities valuable to aerial transportation, such as speed in excess of a minimum of eighty miles an hour, maneuverability and freedom of control, excess power for safety and a marginal safety factor warranting safe performance under conditions less than ideal.

ROUTE LAID OUT

The contest committee will require each plane to qualify for the event by making four laps of a measured course of one mile, twice in each direction. In the test flight the contesting plane will be closely calibrated for maximum and minimum speeds, useful load, conditions of control and other technical data, all of which will be used by the referees as a guide to the final awarding of points to the winner. In the contest itself, planes will be checked out of the starting field in intervals one minute apart.

The entourage will fly to Windsor and Toronto the first day, to Ottawa and Montreal the second and then by stages through Maine and New England, the Middle Atlantic States and the South, returning to Dearborn by way of Georgia, Tennessee, Kansas, Iowa, Minnesota, Wisconsin and Illinois. Stops will be made each night at the largest airports on the route and scores will be checked by daily laps. Each day the planes will take off again inversely as they arrived the night before, the last to check in being the first to resume its journey, thus keeping the fleet as nearly a body as possible.

MARKING OF HIGHWAYS URGED TO AID FLYERS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15. (Exclusive)—Air marking of principal highways as a navigating aid to flyers was urged in a statement today by Harry H. Blee, chief of the Division of Airports and Aeronautical Information, Department of Commerce. He announced that a pamphlet will be issued shortly giving proper specifications for the suggested markings.

The standard to be recommended, he said, will consist of simple markings involving in each instance the official route number preceded by the letters "U. S." in case of Federal highways, or by the State abbreviation in case of State highways. Wherever practicable, Blee said, the symbols should be lettered directly on the pavement, in white or yellow, using characters from ten to thirty feet high, depending on the width of the paving.

The markings, he added, should read from west to east or south to north, depending on the general direction of the highway, and should be placed at all intersections and at intervals on each route of not more than twenty miles.

WAGGONER MAY PLEAD INSANITY

He Confers With Counsel on Defense Project

...moval to New York Sans Contest Expected

CHEYENNE (Wyo.) Sept. 15. (AP) ...ation that an insanity plea may be the defense of C. D. Waggoner, president of the Bank of ... Colo., to the Federal charge he is facing in connection with an attempt to obtain $500,000 from six New York banks was given today in conversation between the banker's attorneys and relatives of Waggoner.

A deputy sheriff told the Associated Press correspondent that ... of the defense was discussed in the conversation but C. D. Crump, one of Waggoner's attorneys, refused to discuss that angle of the case.

According to the deputy sheriff, Crump announced his intention of having Waggoner examined by an alienist and if the examination discloses the banker is not mentally sound his plea to the charge will be insanity.

CONFERENCE AWAITED

Crump late today said he still awaits the arrival of United States Attorney Walton, with whom he will confer before deciding whether Waggoner will contest the order for his removal to New York.

Announcement of his decision, Crump said, may not be made until tomorrow.

Heavily shackled Waggoner arrived here today in custody of Earl ..., deputy United States marshal, and immediately was placed in a cell in the Laramie County jail.

Shortly after his arrival Waggoner conferred in his cell with Crump. Waggoner's attorney said after conferring with Walton he will be able to state definitely his client's position on his removal to New York, where he is facing Federal charges of using the mail in the furtherance of a scheme to defraud.

WIFE SEES HIM

Conversation with his wife and son, Delos Waggoner, and Waggoner's brother-in-law and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Todd of Olathe, Kan., the bank president indicated he is not contemplating contesting the removal order. Mrs. Waggoner discussed with her husband and his attorney whether she should go to New York in the event her husband is taken there.

In view of the fact that she has not been subpoenaed by the government as a witness in the case the conversation centered on whether ... would pay her transportation to New York.

... here said they do not ... a contest from Waggoner on the removal order. They ... any opposition on his part would be futile and merely would ... settlement of the case.

When United States Marshal Patton asked Waggoner's attorney definitely whether his client would contest the order, Crump said he did not know but would have an answer later after talking to the United States Attorney.

HE WILL BE SHACKLED

Marshal Patton announced he personally will take Waggoner to New York if the banker does not contest the order, and indicated the banker will be shackled hand and foot when he leaves Cheyenne for the East.

Regarding his prisoner's conduct on the trip from New Castle here, Marshal said he was "well behaved." The deputy United States Marshal said he took an Oregon boot with him but did not place it on Waggoner, using only a pair of handcuffs. He said his prisoner "looked ... enough, but one can't tell what he is thinking about."

On his arrival here, Waggoner presented an appearance very unlike that of the shrewd manipulator he has been pictured. He shaved off his mustache in New Castle yesterday and was wearing an old brown sweater and a pair of corduroy trousers when he stepped off the train chained to the deputy marshal.

After a brief rest in his cell Waggoner appeared in the Sheriff's conference room, smiling and smoking a cigar. He was greeted by his wife and son and Mr. and Mrs. Todd.

E. C. Raymond of New Castle, retained as chief of Waggoner's counsel, is expected to arrive here tonight by automobile.

TRULY THE CLOTHING SENSATION OF THE YEAR. MAKE YOUR PLANS TO BE HERE FOR THE OPENING, WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 18, AT 8 O'CLOCK

Tomorrow's Times

The complete story of this Retiring-From-Business Sale and the Price Reductions will appear in tomorrow's Times. The sale begins at 8 a.m. Wednesday.

Reasons for Our Retirement

We feel that this startling announcement demands some words of explanation. This decision to retire was made suddenly—in fact a month ago it was the farthest thing from the minds of both members of the firm.

It was only recently, in a campaign of expansion, that the Hollywood shop was opened in the Warner Bros. Theatre Building. This shop is now closed, and stocks moved to our Hill Street store.

Unusual opportunities have now presented themselves to both Mr. Politz and Mr. McDowell to separately enter into other business fields, details of which will soon be given to the public. They will enter their new enterprises as soon as the clothing business can be liquidated.

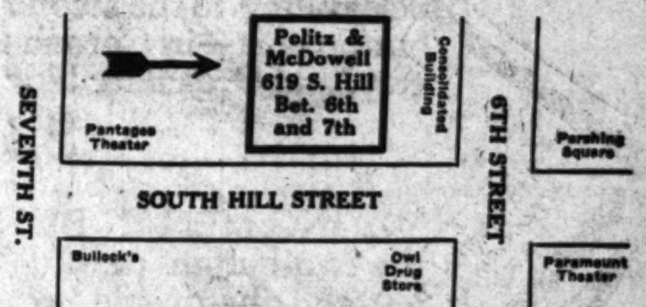
Months ago, before thought of retirement was formed, orders were placed for our regular Fall business for both shops. Most of this new merchandise is in the store; other shipments will follow as soon as completed. We would like to have cancelled the orders, but that was impossible, because of heavy outlays by manufacturers for materials and labor. Now we must find a quick and effective means to dispose of our stocks.

25 Per Cent Reductions

On New Fall Stocks at the Beginning of the Season

Politz & McDowell quality suits and overcoats at 25 per cent under regular prices, right at the beginning of the Fall season, marks an event that will and should be the clothing sensation of the year.

Every garment is ticketed and marked in plain figures. There will be no deviation from this routine. Make your selections and receive 25 per cent—one-fourth—off the regular prices, with the assurance of the same quality, same service and the same satisfaction that this store has always been noted.



Beginning Wednesday, September 18th, we shall open our Retiring-From-Business Sale. It will not be long-drawn-out. We want a quick and snappy close-out, so we will give a straight 25 per cent discount off our regular prices without reservation.

British Administration of Philippine Group, Long Continued, Legalized by Treaty Now

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15. (Exclusive)—An unusual treaty providing for British administration of a group of American-owned islands located at the southern end of the Philippines has been negotiated by the United States and Great Britain.

The islands belong to the Turtle group and lie just off the coast of British North Borneo. Although acquired by the United States from Spain following the Spanish-American War, the Turtle Islands never have been administered by this country. The records show that they have been administered by the British North Borneo Company, a British protectorate, for close to half a century. They comprise a total of approximately twelve square miles of territory, are seven in number and have a population of 220, mostly Moros and Chinese.

The treaty fixes for the first time the boundary between British North Borneo and the most southerly of the Philippine Islands. In addition the British company will continue to administer the islands until such time as the United States desires to take over the administrative duties.

The Turtle Islands produce two commodities—turtle eggs and cocoanuts.

Quiz Promised on Prison Fraud

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 15. (Exclusive)—Thorough investigation of reports that San Francisco and Los Angeles business men have been defrauded of $6000 by a group of men who planned to exploit Prof. Damascus Gallur, San Quentin bandmaster, recently paroled for hospital treatment, will be made by representatives of the State Prison Board tomorrow, it was announced by E. H. Whyte, State parole officer.

According to the reports reaching Whyte, three men solicited funds from business men to bring about the release of Gallur. They promised the donors large returns to be earned after Gallur was liberated.

FAMED CARRIER CHIEF DIES

Howard K. Brooks, Long American Express Company Executive, Rose From Foot of Ladder

NEW YORK, Sept. 15. (AP)—Howard K. Brooks, for fifteen years vice-president of the American Express Company, died today at his apartment in the Westover Hotel, West Seventy-second street.

He had been ill for two months. Mr. Brooks was 75 years of age. He began his business career at the age of 13 years as "news butcher" on the old New York and Oswego Midland Railroad in New York State and within a short time became a successful vendor of peanuts, curios and kindred wares. From that point on the story of his career in the transportation and financial fields parallels one of Horatio Alger's tales.

ON GROUND FLOOR

The urge to progress led him to take a clerkship with the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad at Utica, N. Y., and from that position he went to the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul as cashier in the then frontier town of Milwaukee.

He transferred his activities to the American Express Company in 1882, when he became a clerk in the company's Milwaukee office. Brooks at once turned his energies to pushing the sale of money orders which the company began issuing in that year and one of his methods was to purchase oversized bed sheets, have advertisements painted on them and spread them over the backs of horses drawing express delivery wagons.

EARNS NEW NAME

New York officials, however, upon learning what was being done, notified the Western vice-president that such advertising was not suitable for the dignified express business and Brooks was transferred to Chicago and placed in charge of the money-order department for the entire Western division. For many years he was known among his associates as "Safe, Cheap and Convenient" Brooks because of his display of those words on the bedsheet horse blankets.

A short time later he became widely known in the financial world through his authorship of the first foreign exchange textbook ever published and of the first foreign exchange conversion tables ever worked out. The textbook became a standard for colleges and still is used, while the conversion tables became a necessary part of the equipment of all banks.

PROGRESS UP LADDER

In 1891, when the company started the travelers' cheque system, Brooks was largely instrumental in developing it. In 1905 he was appointed fiscal agent for the entire financial department of the company with headquarters in Chicago. Ten years later he was elected vice-president and came to New York. Nine years ago he was elected a director of the company.

In addition to his financial work Mr. Brooks was credited with having been instrumental in establishing the American Express Company's travel, advertising and foreign trade departments.

DAY CRISP AT HOOVER FISH CAMP

President Mixes Sport and Business on Outing, Probably Last This Year

MADISON (Va.) Sept. 15. (AP)—Cool autumn weather was nature's contribution today as President Hoover and a party of guests enjoyed what may be the Chief Executive's final visit until next spring to his fishing retreat on the headwaters of the Rapidan River.

After a quiet night in the sharp coolness of the mountains, the guests and their hosts spent the day in a variety of diversions—with hiking, horseback riding and horseshoe pitching occupying a large part of the time.

The Chief Executive, however, has not given relaxation full sway on the trip, and the party was not far on its way yesterday when he began a series of conferences that continued over into today. Mrs. Hoover left the Presidential car soon after Washington was left behind and Chairman McNary of the Senate Agriculture Committee, and Col. William J. Donovan, former assistant Attorney-General, joined Mr. Hoover.

Senator McNary's committee has summoned members of the Farm Board for hearings Friday to consider their confirmation and rumblings of opposition to several, particularly Chairman Legge, have been heard in the Senate. It has been expected that this situation will be discussed by the President with Mr. McNary during the week-end.

Malaria Most Deadly Disease

LONDON, Sept. 15. (AP)—Malaria is credited with causing more deaths and sickness than any other disease in a report by Sir Malcolm Watson, director of malarial control at the Ross Institute for Tropical Diseases.

The institute recently opened a malaria department, and Sir Malcolm went to India and Ceylon for an extensive investigation. He says two-thirds of Ceylon, once supporting a prosperous civilization, is virtually uninhabited now on account of malaria.

His campaign in the eastern hemisphere comes simultaneously with one recently announced in the west, headed by the Gorgas Memorial Institute in Panama.

Ross, after whom the British institute is named, discovered thirty years ago that malaria is transmitted by mosquitos.

Driver Accused in Girl's Death

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 15. (AP)—Miss Elizabeth Stone, 19-year-old stenographer, was killed and six other persons, including another girl, injured seriously in a head-on collision between two automobiles in the Richmond district early today. Miss Stone was a passenger in a car driven by Richard Sheldon, automobile salesman, who suffered a fractured skull and internal injuries that may prove fatal.

Witnesses of the accident told police Sheldon's car was proceeding at high speed on the wrong side of the street when it collided with the second machine in which rode Thomas Evola, 19, and Rose Borrell, 18, his fiancee.

A manslaughter charge was placed against Sheldon.

The most highly perfected motor cars in the world today

NEW CADILLACS NEW LA SALLES NEW FLEETWOODS

A greater line of more than 50 magnificent new types and models

A Lower and Wider Price Range on All Body Styles

New Designs—Lower Racier Lines—Greater Seating Capacity—Larger Engines—More Power and Speed—Richer Finer Fisher and Fleetwood Bodies—Non-Shatterable Security-Plate Glass Standard Equipment in All Windows, Doors and Windshields—Syncro-Mesh Silent-Shift Transmission—Safety-Mechanical Four-Wheel Brakes—New Harmonized Steering System—New Recessed Instrument Panel—Every Essential Engineering and Mechanical Feature Refined Beyond all Previous Cadillac Standards

With the advent of these three superb lines of new Cadillacs, La Salles and Fleetwoods in a lower and wider price range, the doors automatically open to admit thousands of new owners to the Cadillac family.

In plain and easily verified terms of value, these resplendent new models make an irresistible investment appeal.

The market has never known cars as highly perfected or as complete in every major and minor detail. So, too, on a price comparison basis, the market has never offered so large a measure of in-built worth.

Carrying with them more strongly than ever the class distinction which has always made Cadillac so desirable, these three new groups reach out and take over by right of conquest in value-giving what can almost be called a universal quality market.

It is important to realize how this new distinction has been won. Cadillac has never built to price, realizing that such a policy leads inevitably to elimination from the high quality field. Rather, the highest quality has been sought first, while price-value has been reached through volume and superior resources. Uniqueness of quality-value has thus been achieved and is now more startling than it has ever been in Cadillac's history.

How true this is becomes evident as soon as you become personally familiar with these three new lines and then look about for purposes of comparison.

So sharp and striking is the advantage in favor of Cadillac, La Salle and Fleetwood in the performance, appearance and price alignment of this greatest of all Cadillac programs, that it amounts to the creation of a new Cadillac business and a new and vastly greater Cadillac public.

Cadillac, the world's quality standard, becomes also the price and value standard of the world by which all other car values must come to be judged.

Expressed in the fewest possible words with a full sense of their weight and importance, Cadillac promises in these three groups the greatest chassis value, the greatest body value, and the greatest gross and net monetary value known to the motor industry of the world today.

The first promise of greater chassis value can quickly be demonstrated by description, examination and part-and-quality comparison with the world's costliest cars.

It can be proved likewise by performance demonstration—revealing measures of power, speed and acceleration, transmission ease, braking certainty and riding luxury which even Cadillac-La Salle-Fleetwood have not attained before.

The second promise will reveal itself at a glance in Fisher and Fleetwood bodies so rich and beautiful that the average body appears almost tawdry by comparison.

The third promise can be verified by studying the very best that the market offers in chassis, performance and appearance and noting how far beyond this other best the Cadillacs, La Salles and Fleetwoods go in all respects.

A summing up of this comparison can have only one result—proof positive of the statement printed above and reprinted here for emphasis:

Cadillac, the world's quality standard, has become also the price and value standard of the world by which all other motor car values must come to be judged.

Not in any one thing but in all things—in speed plus acceleration plus power plus economy plus appearance plus non-shatterable Security-Plate Glass plus Syncro-Mesh Silent-Shift Transmission plus Safety-Mechanical Four-Wheel Brakes—so unmistakably the greatest monetary value of the industry that no buyer need call upon a salesman to point it out for him.

. . . Consider the delivered price as well as the list price when comparing automobile values. Cadillac-La Salle delivered prices include only reasonable charges for delivery and financing.

'LOOKING GLASS' AIDS CHEMISTS

Mirror Used in Extracting Marvelous Gases

Feat Holds Interest of Petroleum Industry

Anaesthetic With Pleasant Odor Developed

CAMBRIDGE (Mass.) Sept. 15. (AP)—One of the most unusual uses for a mirror has been found at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

The "looking glass" is employed in a new ingenious process for separating gases in the research laboratory of organic chemistry.

The mirror is made by silvering the inside of a large vacuum tube. Its function is to keep at a more even temperature the contents of a worm coil within this tube. Lack of air in the tube helps to insulate the coil, but the reflection of heat waves by the mirror is the critical factor.

The use of this mirror illustrates the seemingly unsurmountable problems that chemists tackle and the simple methods found to solve them. The problem in this case is to extract separately some of the numerous substances in the gases of petroleum refineries. Enormous quantities of these gases are unavoidably produced in the so-called "cracking process" for making gasoline.

METHOD EXPLAINED

The method for doing this, adopted by Dr. H. S. Davis, director of Project No. 19 of the American Petroleum Institute, is to take advantage of the slight differences in boiling temperatures of the hitherto inseparable substances.

The top of the worm coil is kept very cold. The mixed gases pass in at the bottom, but due to "fractional condensation and distillation" only one reaches the top. The others condense to liquids which continuously run down and out from the coil.

Thus, a slow, steady stream of pure gases, one after another, can be separated from the mixture. But success depends on almost perfect temperature control—and the mirror is the latest word in several steps devised by Dr. Davis to bring success.

News of what the mirror helps to accomplish already has attracted wide attention in the petroleum industry.

NEW ANAESTHETIC

Dr. Davis is obtaining in pure form substances not previously isolated. He is learning their proportions, so that the petroleum industry may judge which ones exist in sufficient quantity to be worth recovering. There is always the possibility of isolating something of great usefulness to mankind.

For example, Dr. Davis has some very pure liquid isobutene. In an open dish completely surrounded by ice it boils away rapidly into the air. Accordingly it is kept in a steel bomb. It is an anesthetic with a pleasant odor, but its exact effects are not known, for physicians have never had enough for experimentation.

From the isobutene in petroleum gases there has recently been made an alcohol which ranks commercially as a brand new one. It is a white solid which can be melted by the heat of the hand and has a camphor-like odor. It is useful in making things from dry-cleaning liquids to artificial musk. Another substance in the waste gases is erythrene, useful for artificial rubber. Thus far no one knows whether it is extractable in paying quantities.

The substances that Dr. Davis seeks are principally olefins. Their great value lies in their properties of combining readily with other substances to form new compounds.

CONVICT FIGHTS TO LIVE SO HE CAN BE EXECUTED

OSSINING (N. Y.) Sept. 15. (Exclusive)—After surviving a midnight operation Frank Plaia, a New York gunman, fought grimly in Sing Sing Hospital today for a life the State hopes to claim.

If he wins he loses, for Plaia is sentenced to die for the murder of Sorro and May Grazzio, Elmont (L. I.) couple. The murder occurred December 15, 1928.

"I'll beat this rap," Plaia said to those in the sick room. "Then I'll get sprung from that death house and get myself another trial."

"I hope he recovers," said Warden Lawes. "I ordered his operation when doctors told me it was absolutely necessary to save his life."

Plaia, who complained of intestinal pains, was taken from the death house, heavily guarded, soon after midnight. A keeper stood beside the operating table in the prison hospital while Dr. W. H. Sweet of Peekskill removed the condemned man's appendix.

"Be careful with me, boy," Plaia joked with Dr. Sweet and his aides as he was given anaesthetic. "I've got a lot to live for, you know, and my health is mighty important to me."

LONDON CHEERS RHINELAND UNIT

Occupation Troops Greeted on Return Home

Men Appear to Be Tired After Long Trip

Regret Voiced Over Having to Leave Germany

[Copyright, 1929, by New York Times]

LONDON, Sept. 15. (Exclusive)—Crowds six and seven deep lined the approaches to Victoria Station tonight to greet the troops returning to London from the Rhineland.

A burst of cheers rang out beneath the train shed as sixty-six men of the Second Leicestershire and Second Dorsetshire regiments stepped from the train and was echoed in the streets outside as the little detachment marched off. They looked businesslike in steel helmets, but tired after the nineteen-hour train journey from Wiesbaden to Ostend.

One sergeant of the Dorsetshire regiment tried to explain the drooping expressions on the men's faces.

"We are not too keen on coming back," he said. "We liked the Germans and they liked us. We lived well and had a good time in many ways—and some of us have left girls behind us."

The returning detachments are being sent to Catterick Camp in Yorkshire and the Portland encampment.

BELGIANS BEGIN TODAY TO LEAVE GERMANY

JUELICH (Germany) Sept. 15. (AP) Two battalions of Belgian infantry will evacuate this town tomorrow. One battalion of pioneers, including a detachment of military police, will remain until October 28.

Evacuation of the entire Belgian occupied area in the second zone will be officially concluded on November 29.

OAKLAND CRASH KILLS ONE AND INJURES TWO

Woods, 47, Berkeley, and E. A. Heron Piedmont. Physicians said Woods and Heron will recover. The accident occurred when Heron's car collided with that in which Dumovich and Woods were riding.

CLEWS FOUND TO EARLY MAN

Lime Flakes in Ireland Held Prehistoric

Scientists Dispute Value of Discoveries

Country Thought Under Ice in Glacial Period

DENVER, Sept. 15. (AP)—"Old Ireland" may become a term of deeper significance through scientific interpretation of findings on the Hibernian isle of limestone flakes believed to have been chipped by man.

Dr. E. B. Renaud, professor of authropology in the University of Denver, indicated the importance of the finds before scientists of the American Association for the Advancement of Science in Albuquerque, N. M.

Existence of man in Ireland while humans were developing a stone-age civilization on continental Europe, he explained, has been denied by prehistorians. They based their stand on the supposition that the country was under ice during the whole glacial period.

The flakes, which cast a different light on Irish prehistory, were first found in June, 1927, by J. P. T. Burchell, on the beach of Coney Island, County Sligo. In following weeks he discovered at Rosses Point more than 100 flakes in a small area.

Two more were found later embedded thirty-nine feet deep in boulder clay at Ballyconnell. Burchell and J. Reid Moir of Ipswich established the findings as representing a collection of humanly manufactured artifacts.

There has been some opposition to their claims, Dr. Renaud stated, but many well-known British archaeologists and geologists have accepted the findings as evidence of humans living back in an interglacial phase.

TEETHING KILLS PERFECT BABY

Wonder-Child Found Dead In His Crib at Age of Four Months

NEW YORK, Sept. 1. (Exclusive)—At the age of four months Daniel Resnick was pronounced a perfect child. Doctors marveled at his physical development. They pointed out that whereas infants usually cut their molar teeth at the age of 2 years Daniel's already were visible. That was a week ago.

"This morning the baby was found dead in his crib by his mother, Mrs. John Resnick. Doctors say that the strain of cutting the teeth so early had been too great for the infant's heart.

and to the interests of the United States, have been obtained from Americans constantly in touch with the negotiations as they developed during the Paris conferences. Their report, therefore, can be relied upon as trustworthy.

Although these men have requested that, for personal reasons, their names should not be used, this story of the reparations bank, of the reasons for its creation, of the necessity for it and of its probable effect upon the United States and upon the other nations to which Germany is in debt, may be accepted as an accurate presentation of their interpretations, and it is to be considered in no sense the expression of individual opinion.

SUSPICION AROUSED

To begin with, when such an institution as the bank for international settlements was first proposed consideration was given to it not because of pressure from powerful financial interests, but from necessity. As a matter of fact the plan came as a complete surprise to the international bankers. When these same "moneyed interests" first heard of the proposal they were extremely "gun-shy" and looked upon it with suspicion.

It was their view—but a view which later was refuted—that there were already enough banks in the world, and that this international bank would usurp powers and duties which existing banks could perform. Upon further consideration the benefits of the proposed bank were seen and the moneyed interests stamped the plan with their approval.

At the same time the reparations negotiations were going forward in Paris. Germany refused, point-blank, to agree to any plan that would make the question of her payments a political football among the nations which were her creditors. At that time she stated frankly that if the nations to which she owed money proposed to force her to make payments which would be divided up—so much to France, so much to England and so on—and which would then be lodged in political treasuries, she could not consent to assume any obligations such as she finally agreed to.

Under such conditions as Germany feared would arise, German financiers would have had literally dozens of nations to dicker with, many of which undoubtedly would have made it difficult to pay and no two of which would have acted in concert.

In the face of the stand-pat attitude of the creditor nations it was the main problem of the reparations experts to devise some method of payment that would give Germany assurance that she would be treated fairly and would insure the creditor nations that their payments would be met promptly and in full.

GERMANY PROTECTED

"I am certain," one financier said, "that Germany would not have undertaken even 50 per cent of these obligations if she had had to face the political treasury situation of the world. The international bank was necessary to get Germany to undertake obligations adequate to meet the reasonable requirements of the creditor governments, and was formulated primarily with that in mind."

Therefore, the principal reason for the bank for international settlements is not, as has been charged, to "put something over" for the selfish ends of the moneyed interests of the world. It is rather to assure Germany that there will be but one institution holding all of her obligations—an institution whose interest and duty it will be to see that these obligations are paid.

TURNING THE SPOTLIGHT ON MEN—AND WHAT THEY WEAR

Last week we promised to go further into details regarding patterns, colors and fabrics for Fall shirts.

Probably the most important style tendency is in the direction of cluster and broken stripe effects. The stripes are very fine, usually in two colors on a white or colored ground. First seen in London custom-made shirts they were taken up by well-dressed Englishmen, following the lead of the Prince of Wales.

Fine checks, minute patterns, and neat geometric figures will be very much to the fore; solid colors and white will retain their popularity.

Blue, which has always been a favorite color for men, holds its own, but with the added attention that men are giving to the color factor in their attire there is a demand for new shades — pale blue, a fairly dark blue, and a blue-gray. These will be available in plain, striped and figured materials, and harmonize with blue and gray suitings.

Green will be good for it furnishes a pleasing contrasting note for the brown suitings of Fall, while tan, golden brown, biscuit, the wine shades, and beetroot, will provide happy blends.

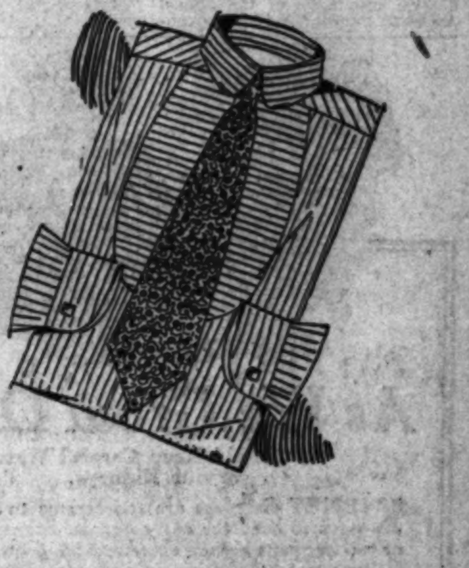
To list all the new shades would be a hopeless task, for every shirt maker seems to have given full rein to his imagination in naming his particular creations. We can say, however, that closer co-operation between the shirt makers and the clothing manufacturers this season has resulted in the production of shirts that blend or contrast correctly with the shades of Fall suitings.

In materials, woven madras has staged a decided come-back, a move we are in favor of, for it has always seemed to us to be a particularly desirable fabric for shirts. There are stripes —corded, hairline, and cluster; gingham checks; all-over figures; in fact, a scintillating array of new ideas both in colors and patterns.

We can only mention briefly other fabrics that will be included in the Fall shirt wardrobe of smartly dressed men. White broadcloth is, as always, in evidence. Then there are colored end-and-end madrases; striped, white, and colored oxfords; striped, white and colored poplins; and colored chambray.

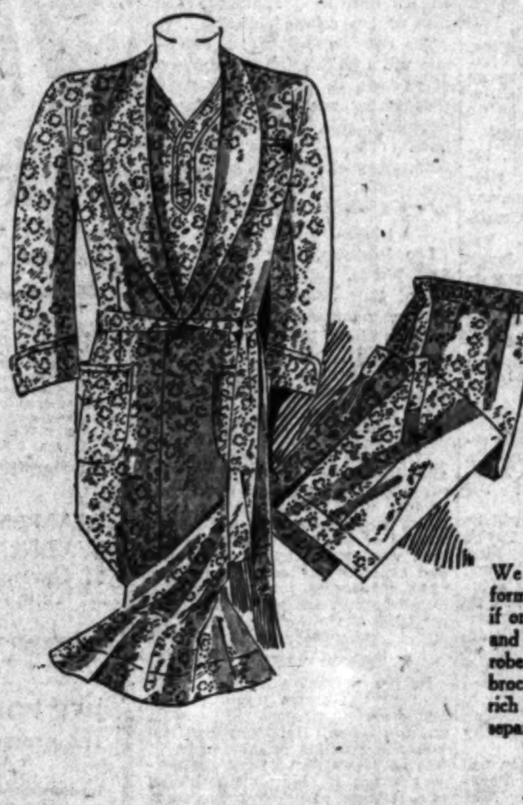
Shirts for tennis, golf, polo and riding should be of fairly heavy oxford or cheviot, and French flannel will also be popular. Fairly bright shades of blue, green, brown and tan will be seen, but white will undoubtedly be the choice of the better dressed sportsmen.

The Chevalier



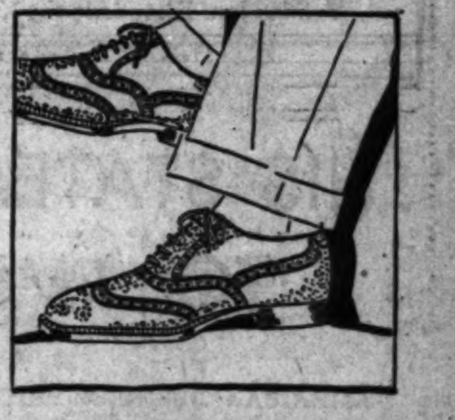
Demi-bosom shirts are going to be popular this Fall in either vertical or horizontal stripes. The shirt sketched shows the new smaller bosom and cutaway cowheel cuffs, both innovations, and very smart. May be had in either the collar attached style, or with two collars to match. $3.50 and $5.00.

At Harris & Frank



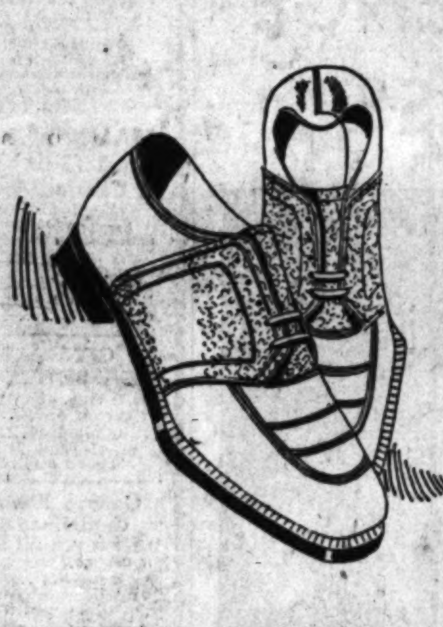
We made a discovery this week when we were informed that it's none to early to think about Christmas if one is going to give custom tailored shirts, pajamas, and robes. We chose for our sketch a pajama and robe ensemble that may be had in Japanese or French brocaded silk. A gift that will combine utility with rich luxury. The ensemble, $54. Pajamas or robe, separately, $27.

At Machin's
Custom Shirtmaker



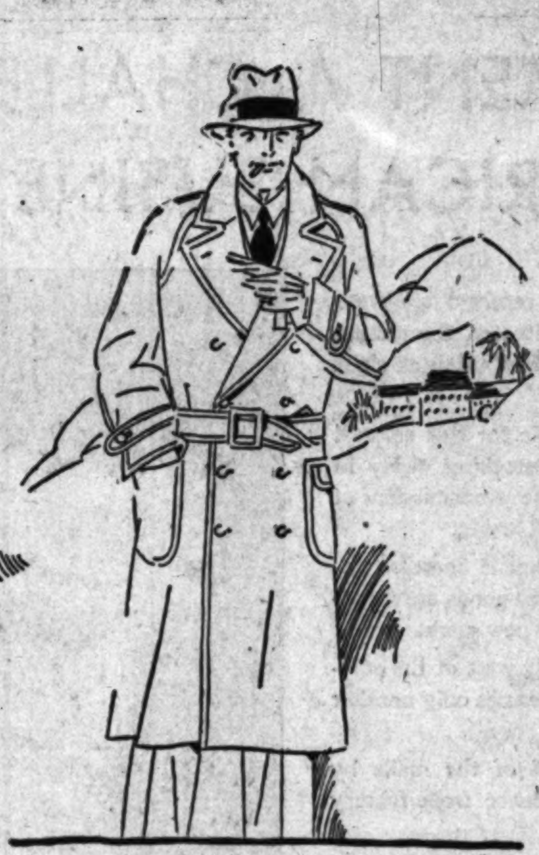
Typical of the college style for Fall is this oxford built on the Highland last. Has heavy soles with liberal extension wing tips, and decorative punching in abundance. Especially smart in a new dark tan shade of imported Scotch grain. $18.50.

At Wetherby-Kayser



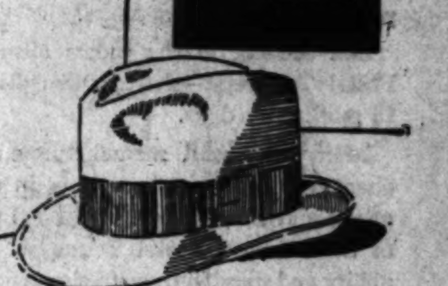
Here is a light, flexible, moccasin type oxford, with a soft toe and counter, by Walk-Over. Especially built for comfort, yet smartly styled, in black, brown or blue calf, with a grain saddle. $8.50.

At Walk-Over



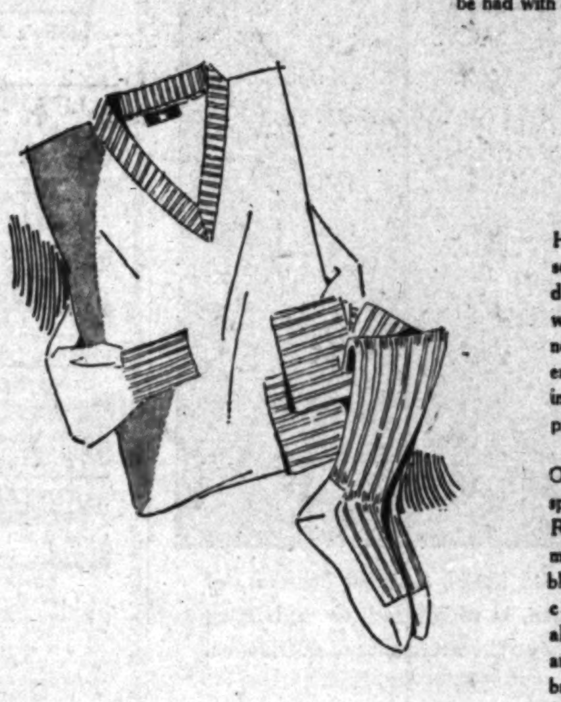
We have always considered Worumbo camel's hair polo cloth coats particularly smart, and we found this very swagger model among the Fall displays. It is tailored in the accepted double breasted style, belt all around, patch pockets, and man size horn buttons. In natural color, and may be had with either raglan or set-in sleeves. $135.

At Roos Bros.
Hollywood.



Take a snap brim hat with a correctly proportioned crown and you've a smart style that gives a decidedly youthful effect. Here is the Stetson version for Fall in the famous gold medal quality. Corona brown, tokay, golden tan, also shell, oyster, silver and natural pearl grays, are the favored shades. $10.

At Silverwoods



Here's a sweater set that has the dash college men want, and the novelty that golfers seek. Tailored in a new style approved for Fall.

Of fine French spun zephyr yarn. Ribbed hose to match. In royal blue, reseda green, canary, white, also cocoa, rust and chocolate browns. The set $10.00.

We can say positively that this is the latest idea in men's footwear . . . the midnight blue shade to be worn with suits of dark blue. A Bostonian shoe of medium-weight calfskin; conservatively styled with plain stitching and no perforations, it is in the best of taste for street wear. $10.00.

BANKERS READY FOR MEETING

American Association Will Meet in Bay City

Changed Financial Methods to be Discussed

Many Technical Problems on Program

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 15. (AP)—The "new day" in banking, brought about by recent rapid changes in the world of finance, will be discussed from many angles in the technical division meetings of the annual American Bankers' Association convention to be held here the 30th inst. to October 3.

Developments affecting the national bank system, trust investments and department work, group and unit banking and interbank co-operation are among the more important phases of the subject to be considered.

The national bank division meeting will be called to order by President Edgar H. Sensenich, head of the West Coast National Bank, Portland, Or., Monday, the 30th inst., in the Colonial Room, St. Francis Hotel. Arch W. Anderson, vice-president Security-First National Bank, Los Angeles, will speak on the "Investment Policy of a National Bank."

TRUST COMPANY DIVISION

The trust company division, led by President A. V. Morton, vice-president Pennsylvania Company for Insurance on Lives and Granting Annuities, Philadelphia, will meet Monday, the 30th inst. James Bacigalupi, president Bank of Italy National Trust and Savings Association, San Francisco, will discuss "The Growing Importance of the Trust Department in the Modern Bank." Hillsman Taylor, president Missouri State Life Insurance Company, St. Louis, will describe "The Business Insurance Trust," and Herman Phleger of Dunne, Brobeck, Phleger & Harrison, San Francisco, will talk on "Protect the Trustee."

The savings bank division will be called to order by President Taylor R. Durham, vice-president First National Bank, Chattanooga, Tenn., at 2:30 p.m., October 1. The principal addresses will be made by Jay Morrison, vice-president Washington Mutual Savings Bank, Seattle, Wash., whose subject will be "Leasehold Loans for Savings Banks," and Dr. Rufus Bernhard Von KleinSmid, president University of Southern California, Los Angeles, whose subject is "Today's Laboratory is Tomorrow's Industry."

The State secretaries' section will meet at 2 p.m., October 1. President Frank Warner, secretary Iowa Bankers' Association, Des Moines, Iowa, will preside.

HOBO KING CANDIDATE FOR MAYOR OF NEW YORK

NEW YORK, Sept. 14. (Exclusive) Among those announcing themselves candidates for Mayor of New York the hoboes' king, Dan O'Brien, is the only one who says frankly that he doesn't expect to win.

So sure of losing is Mr. O'Brien, whose headquarters are at Mr. Zero's Tub, the restaurant for the down-at-the-heel, that he has made plans for a trip around the world, or as far as he can get, following election day.

If victory prevents this the shock will be great, to him as well as to the city, for Mr. O'Brien always has found life too precious to fritter away at any routine. Only a stern sense of duty would keep him on the job at City Hall.

Despite this indifference Mr. O'Brien is promising the voter more good things than all the other candidates put together. The utmost they offer is a continuation of the 5-cent subway fare. He proposes free rides. He is out for fuller provisions for rest in the parks, libraries and museums, and he pledges to bring to New York "a sense of freedom and an earthly love of things of beauty."

Could the electorate ask for more? Yet it is conceded, and by Mr. O'Brien himself, that he has no chance.

HUSBAND HEADS CO-ED COUNSEL

Student Friends to Aid Case of Girl Bank Robber

Youthful Attorney Aged by Three Years of Worry

Liberty of Wife Staked on His Own Slim Experience

NEW BRAUNFELS (Tex.) Sept. 15. (AP)—Tired-eyed and with hair graying from three years of incessant worry, 27-year-old Otis Rogers, lawyer-husband of Rebecca Bradley Rogers, on trial for the third time for bank robbery, this time has declined more experienced counsel and has staked her liberty on his own legal knowledge and that of two college classmates.

The defense staff, which tomorrow will continue the presentation of alienists in an effort to prove that Becky was insane when in December, 1926, she robbed the Buda (Tex.) Farmers' National Bank—they assert, with an empty gun—probably is the youngest ever to try a capital case in Texas.

FRIENDS GIVE AID

Leo Brewster, 26 years of age, Port Worth, and J. H. Schleyers, 28, of New Braunfels, friends of Otis and Rebecca when all were students at the University of Texas only a short time ago, sit side by side in the little courtroom here as they try to shield the 24-year-old girl from a verdict of guilty which conceivably could bring the death penalty.

Meanwhile Rebecca, slight, sallow and seemingly utterly bored, reclines in her chair with closed eyes or toys with her hat and gloves.

Not until Rebecca, whom the world had not known he had married, was caught up by policemen and charged with robbery by firearms did Rogers, thin, austere and melancholy in appearance, fully understand the meaning of pleading against prosecution.

HUSBAND TAKEN SICK

In the university he was chairman of the men's honor council and dealt out student justice with an iron hand. He barely had begun the practice of law when it was necessary that he put the oratory which he formerly had used as a member of the campus debating society to the test before a jury sitting in judgment on his wife.

HARD-BOILED FLAPPER'S DAY IN OFFICES PAST

CHICAGO, Sept. 14. (Exclusive) The little hard-boiled flapper painted like a barber pole, with skirts so short they were little more than a girdle, bare legs and anklets, cigarettes and wisecracks, has had her day as far as office work is concerned. Her place is being taken by the neatly dressed, nonrouged girl, who pays more attention to business and less to rouging her lips and penciling her eyebrows.

Miss Ethel B. Price, an employment expert, said the "decorative" type of office girl is rapidly becoming passe.

"In May the employers wanted highly made-up girls. Today they are seeking above everything else neat girls who give attention to their business," said Miss Price.

"More than one girl lost her job this summer when she appeared at the office in bare legs and sockleta.

"Beauty is still much in demand, but it must be intelligent, neat and industrious beauty. Girls most in demand and who draw the best salaries are those with personality and they must have a business appearance. It still is difficult for a downright homely girl to get a position, but she has, if she is neat and capable, a decided edge on the careless flapper who comes to work looking like something dropped out of a masquerade party."

CATHOLICS HAIL FREEDOM DATE

Emancipation Celebrated at London Service

LONDON, Sept. 15. (AP)—The papal colors of yellow and white rippled in the breeze over Westminster Cathedral today, while 30,000 Roman Catholics celebrated a century of their political emancipation in England.

A pontifical high mass was celebrated in the grounds of the cathedral by Archbishop Williams of Birmingham. Cardinal Bourne, Archbishop and Metropolitan of Westminster, in flowing robes of scarlet, presided at the throne.

HIS STATEMENT A CHALLENGE TO AMERICAN BUSINESS

AMERICAN BUSINESS PRIDE received a severe jolt recently, when Julius Klein estimated the annual loss through inefficient selling and distribution at eight to ten billion dollars.

Not least of the factors responsible for this colossal loss is wasted time! Delay in re-stocking, delay in making sales contacts, delay in the transmission of orders, delay in shipments—all entail waste.

Goods finished and waiting shipment increase inventories—tie up capital. Not until the goods are speeding to the market is capital freed for new work.

Closeness to shipping points is only part of the solution. Speed in trucking out of warehouses only another part. These may save hours.

But sending in the orders ahead of the mails by Postal Telegraph—shortens the distance from factory to market by days.

Many successful manufacturers, jobbers and merchants are finding new economy in speeding the negotiations and transactions of their business by the use of the enlarged Postal Telegraph. To accuracy, reliability and speed in transmission is added the time-saving of the written record which prevents wasteful disputes.

Postal Telegraph has constantly increased its capacity to serve this growing demand. Now over 90% of its millions of messages relate to business transactions.

In speeding up our growing foreign business also, reliance is placed on Postal Telegraph

JUICE FOR RADIO COSTS MILLIONS

Great Outlay for Electricity to Run Sets Reported

Approximately 2,565,000 Receivers in Use

Tremendous Increase Seen by Power Companies

BY DR. RALPH L. POWER

The tidy sum of some $10,000,000 was added to the coffers of electric light and power companies all over the country last year through the use of current operated radio receivers.

This estimate comes from no less an authority than the National Electric Light Association which made a survey of the load and revenue factors of various household electric appliances.

Despite the fact that radio is, comparatively speaking, a new electric appliance, the revenue from current used by it a year ago was exceeded only by the returns from electric flatirons and ironing machines, refrigerators, vacuum cleaners and ranges.

A more widespread use of the electric set undoubtedly will bring it to be among the largest users of current with two years or so.

In the field of statistics, scaling down all estimates of the number of electric sets in use in order to allow for duplication in all other counts, the association figures that approximately 2,565,000 were in regular service last year.

This made an average of sixty kilowatt hours of current at an average cost of 6.55 cents a kilowatt hour, or a total cost for current of $10,080,000 for the year. The per set average thus was $3.93.

Power officials estimate a tremendous increase in revenue from this source. They point out that the number of sets in use last year represented less than 10 per cent of the number of homes wired for electricity, which is estimated at 28,808,000.

In point of numbers, it is declared that radio sets were the seventh most popular of electric appliances, the number in use being exceeded only by flatirons, vacuum cleaners, washing machines, fans, toasters and percolators.

In point of current consumption, the radio set was exceeded only by ranges, refrigerators, ironing machines, oil burners and flatirons. But the consumption by refrigerators, ranges and oil burners is induced by a rate which approximately is one-half of the regular rate through the provision of reduced charges for current used for power. Radio takes the regular rate charged against current for lighting purposes.

The report says nothing about house current used while the anxious fan peers furtively over the dial to tune in the Thanksgiving ceremonies from Westminster Abbey, the arrival and departure of the Graf Zeppelin, the midnight frolics, Easter sunrise services, distant stations and everything else.

In addition to the current used directly to operate the set, the amount used to illuminate the family abode, while listening to night-time programs, probably looms up into amounts the size of war debts.

TELLER DUE FOR SENTENCE

After a plea of guilty, Arthur Vernon Dudley, formerly teller of the National Bank of Commerce of Los Angeles, is scheduled to appear today before United States District Judge Jacobs for sentence.

Dudley pleaded guilty to misapplication of funds of the bank. It is reported the shortage amounted to more than $22,000. The Dudley case has been continued from time to time.

RADIO SHOW TO BE PART OF POMONA FAIR

POMONA, Sept. 15.—Part of the exhibits to be displayed at the County Fair at Pomona, from the 17th to 22nd inst., will be in the form of a radio exhibit. In past years radio sets have been scattered throughout the industrial exhibits, but this year they will be grouped together, according to the show management.

GOVERNORS TO RECEIVE RADIO SETS

Forty-eight governors' mansions will house Sparton radio sets, according to Walter M. Fagin, president of Pacific Wholesale, who is authority for the statement that the airplane, Sparton, will visit each State Capitol. Each governor will be presented with a Sparton. A new set will then be taken aboard and transported to the next State.

Leave Granted for Jail Term

Two months' leave of absence for a city employee to go to jail has been granted by the Civil Service Commission to Ignatio Martinez, a laborer employed in the engineering department.

Martinez, in his application to the commission, explained that he is held in the County Jail on the charge of battery and that the indications are that it will be two months before he comes up for trial. Whether he is unable to furnish bail or declines to leave the jail, the board was not informed.

The board, in granting the permission, provides that if he is acquitted, he shall be restored to duty, and if found guilty, he is automatically dismissed.

Reo announces a revolutionary new transmission with a silent second gear...!

You can shift gears at any time, at any speed—without grinding, without "feeling your gear in"!

You can shift from second to high at any speed—or from high back to second, at 40 miles an hour—easier than you can with any other car at 10 miles an hour!

You can go more than 40 miles an hour in second if you care to—as smoothly, as quietly, as silently as with the ordinary high!

This new Silent-Second transmission—the product of four years' research and development by the Reo engineers—the exclusive property of Reo—is available on no other automobile—and will not be unless and until Reo permits its use.

GET behind the wheel of the Reo Master Flying Cloud—and we promise you a thrill you've never had in any other car you ever piloted—yes, a dozen thrills—and one of them before you've gone a hundred feet!

You know the noise you always hear from the second gear of the ordinary car.

But listen to this second gear—why you can scarcely hear it! The old second gear grind you've been accustomed to isn't there! You hear no grinding, no growling—none of the old second-gear noise. This Silent-Second gear takes you along as smoothly, as quietly, as silently as the ordinary high!

And what a pick-up!

Steer this car into traffic. Nose right up behind a truck that's dawdling along at 5 miles an hour. Want to go around him? Flick that gear lever into second. Tap that gas pedal—and you'll flash ahead of him in one meteoric swish! Reo's new Silent-Second transmission gives you lightning-like acceleration where you need it! You can do things with this car in traffic that you can't do with any other car under the sun!

Slip up to a red light and stop. Then slide that gear-lever into second. At the first flash of green give her the gas—and you'll be up and away like a streak of light, leaving cars that were abreast of you a hundred feet behind! You'll be hitting 40 before the others can reach 15!

And at that speed—40 miles an hour—you can flip that gear-lever right from second to high without slowing down a tap—and without grinding, without clashing your gears! It just slips into high with one quiet "click" at any speed!

Let her skim along at 35 or 40—and make this amazing test. Throw out your clutch and just work that gear lever from high to second, back and forth, back and forth like a pump handle! You can do it with one finger. And all you'll hear is a "click," nothing more!

Try it on a real hill!

Start up the steepest hill you can find, with traffic coming down at you—and a milk wagon ahead of you. Just nose up behind him and go into second. You'll have to crawl till the coast is clear. But at the first break you get—step on that gas! That hill may be awfully steep—but you'll shoot around that milk wagon awfully fast! You can swoop over the crest of that hill at 40 or better if you want to, in second!

And when you start down a hill like that—a hill that drops off like a plummet—Reo's new second gear will be a revelation to you! Ordinarily you'd slow down before taking a drop like that—you'd want to take it in second. But with the ordinary car it's a lot of trouble to get into second. You have to slow down to 10 or 15 miles an hour to do it. So often you won't bother, you'll chance it in high—and perhaps ruin your brakes.

But start down that hill as fast as you like in the Reo! When you're ready, just flick that gear-lever into second—and you'll go down that hill at a crawl, or as fast as you care to! You can choose your own speed.

Reo's new Silent-Second Transmission is the most revolutionary engineering achievement that has happened in motordom for years. But it is only one of the things that make the Reo Master Flying Cloud a revolutionary car. See it—at your dealer's showroom. Drive it—and learn what a car this is!

VALENTINO . . . greatest lover the screen or stage has known

The SCREEN'S GREATEST LOVER

Lost the One Woman He Wanted!

VALENTINO! Even yet the name spells romance . . . Even yet, though the world forgets quickly, the memory stirs at recollection of this dashing, darkly handsome youth. Already his fiery, impetuous lovemaking is a deathless tradition of the screen.

Valentino! The greatest lover the stage or screen has known was unable to hold the love of the one woman he adored . . . Why? . . . What was the tragedy that stalked his brief, glamorous career?

Adela Rogers St. Johns has written The Life of Rudolph Valentino for LIBERTY.

They are all here: the women who threw themselves at his feet . . . the one woman who meant life or death to him . . . the men who helped him to fame—or hated him for his success. With sympathy but with frankness, the author paints a picture of the young Italian lad whom the motion pictures transformed into a figure of mystery and madness . . . and whose untimely passing threw screen lovers into an hysteria of mourning. Look for Adela Rogers St. Johns' great feature.

MILLS REPLIES TO ACCUSATION

San Diego Mayor's Charges of Bribe Attempt Denied

Proponent of Rescinding of Border Regulations Talks

Real Estate Man Offers Sum to Charity for Proof

SAN DIEGO, Sept. 15.—Following assertions made yesterday by Mayor Harry C. Clark that an indirect attempt had been mvade to offer him a bribe of $50,000 to swing his influence to the political side of the fence to keep the international border between the United States and Mexico open twenty-four hours daily, John P. Mills, local realty man, made the following statements today:

"To begin with, I take exception to the Mayor's claim that anyone offered him $50,000 to wire President Herbert Hoover that the border between here and Mexico should be kept open twenty-four hours daily.

"Of all the people in San Diego, I was the only one who came out in the open and championed the changed border regulations. Because of that his remarks must have been directed at me, though they were indirectly put.

"If Mayor Clark can prove that I or any of my agents or representatives made any such overture to him or even hinted at such an overture, I'll give $25,000 to any local charity and let the newspapers select the charity to which the money should be donated."

Mills also declared he had "another $25,000" ready to spend on an election to recall Mayor Clark and that he might start a recall soon.

"Miracle Man" of Chino Held Guilty by Jury

CHINO, Sept. 15.—It's a peculiar world after all, according to Armanda Dominguez, the "miracle man" of Chino Valley, who since 1915 has crashed the public prints of the nation because of his asserted startling cures and healing results.

In the past whatever Dominguez told any one to do, was done with promptness. He tried to tell the Superior Court of San Bernardino county he was not guilty of practicing medicine without a license, but the court and jury held otherwise. Dominguez was found guilty.

Today he faces the task of raising $200 to pay his fine for illegal practice of medicine. The court imposed the $200 fine on him, along with 180 days in jail. But the judge knocked off the jail sentence. The miracle man was denied probation upon recommendation of Probation Officer George E. Larmore, who told the court the man of miracles had told him he was guilty but intended to fight the case hoping the jury would either acquit him, as they have done in the past, or would disagree.

BRINGS BACK VIEW OF VESUVIUS ERUPTION

OWENSMOUTH, Sept. 15.—Hugo Carlson, prominent business man here, has just returned from a trip through Europe. He brought back with him 2500 feet of film taken with his motion-picture camera. In the "footage" is a prolonged view of Mt. Vesuvius in eruption. While Carlson and his family were away they visited Lapland to see the midnight sun.

SANTA ANA LEGION POST ELECTS HEAD

Commander Otto Jacobs

SANTA ANA, Sept. 15.—Otto Jacobs, Santa Ana attorney, will head the local post of the American Legion for the coming year, assisted by Hunter Leach, vice-commander; Lester Steinkopf, second vice-commander; Ed Kilbe, adjutant; William Penn, sergeant-at-arms, and Gene Douglas, chaplain.

At the annual election held last night Jacobs won over William Iverson by a comfortable majority. The following were elected to the executive committee: Charles Van Wyk, Ed Struble, Robert Walker, Elmer Schaniel and William Iverson.

The new commander, who succeeds Franklin West, enlisted with the Fourteenth Aero Squadron, Rockwell Field, San Diego. With his unit he left for France in October, 1918. He returned to the United States with the One Hundred and Forty-eighth Aero Squadron in April, 1919. Immediately after his return he joined the American Legion. He was a member of the executive committee of Santa Ana post for two years, later serving as second vice-commander and first vice-commander.

Commander Jacobs and his fellow-officers will be inducted into office next month, the ceremonies to be followed by the annual commander's ball.

Data Requested on Boulder Dam

CALEXICO, Sept. 15.—Prof. Adams of the United States Reclamation Commission arrived in El Centro Saturday and will remain in the valley the rest of this week to gather additional information concerning the Boulder Dam project.

Adams states no meetings have been called for his visit. He is merely gathering data on the local situation.

INGLEWOOD WOMEN WANT TO KNOW HOW

INGLEWOOD, Sept. 15.—So popular has the adult class in dressmaking and millinery at Inglewood Union High School become that the maximum enrollment was reached during the first week and now there is a considerable waiting list.

Mrs. Scott and Mrs. Heinecke are the class teachers. Sessions are held in the high school bungalows at 404 and 408 West Kelso street.

PASADENA SCHOOLS REOPEN

Educators Come From Far and Near to Study Effect of "Six-Four-Four" Plan on Pupils

PASADENA, Sept. 15.—More than 30,000 children, ranging from tiny kindergarteners to strapping 20-year-old junior college seniors, are expected to be on hand tomorrow when the local school district's machine starts the new semester's work of grinding out good American citizens.

Some of the pupils will be delivered at the school grounds by liveried chauffeurs, others will "creep like snails" along the sidewalks, but in the homes behind them will be parents, all happy that their own annual nine months' vacations have come at last.

An unusually large number of families have moved into this district since last fall, according to Courtenay Monsen, secretary of the Board of Education, who foretells a record enrolment. The total enrollment last year was 24,697.

The number of teachers this year is about the same as last, more than 800.

Due to the adoption last year of the "six-four-four" plan for the division of classes in the local school system, educators from all parts of the United States have come here to study the effect of the new arrangement.

There are now six grades in the elementary school, four in junior high school, and four in junior college. The idea behind this new grading system, which this city was one of the first to adopt, is that the elementary school will introduce children to the tools of knowledge, the junior high school will teach them how to use the tools, and only in the junior college will actual learning or "cramming" of facts begin.

LINDBERGH FIELD TO BE LARGER

Two and a Half Million Cubic Yards of Earth in Harbor to Add Acreage

SAN DIEGO, Sept. 15.—Dredging operations in the Lindbergh Field area will be completed by December 1, when 2,600,000 cubic yards of earth will have been removed from the harbor and dumped on tidelands to reclaim 142 acres of land, according to Port Director Joseph Brennan. Of the 142 acres, 125 will be on Lindbergh Field proper. The additional acreage is for the extension of Atlantic street and construction of valuable frontage on what will be the harbor's main thoroughfare.

Twenty blocks of land, valued at approximately $600,000, will be available to the city on completion of the dredging, Brennan said. The dredging job, he said, cost $650,000. In addition to this $600,000 item, the value of the 125 acres of land in Lindbergh Field must be added to compute the value of all the land reclaimed by the operation.

On the water side the dredging has resulted in the creation of a 3600-foot turning basin desired for the aircraft carriers, Saratoga and Lexington, for use when they come into port. In addition, the entire north side of the new mole pier has been made available to deep-draft vessels through construction of a channel 300 feet wide and thirty-four feet in depth.

The dredging operations are now being carried along the Embarcadero, where a depth of twenty-seven feet will be provided. This, Brennan estimates, is sufficient to accommodate lighter-draft vessels, which may discharge directly on the Embarcadero.

All dredging beyond the pier headline, as far as the Lindbergh dredging contract is concerned, has been completed.

Work of surfacing Lindbergh Field is being carried on as the land is filled.

New History of Montana Just Issued

The second and third volumes now in preparation are biographical in character and reveal the personalities of that great commonwealth.

Prof. Raymer who has produced this history is a graduate of Albion College and Northwestern University and has held teaching positions in Montana Wesleyan Intermountain Union College, the University of Oregon and Northwestern University. He is a member of the American Historical Association and is the author of "The Development of Christianity in the Southwest," "The History of Education in Oregon," and other works on the history of the Northwest.

ECHOES OF NEW YEAR'S TRAGEDY

Rose Tournament Grand Stand Site Owner Involved

Lockwood Must File Answers to Suits, Court Rules

Appellate Bench Decision May Bring Eighty Trials

PASADENA, Sept. 15.—Attorneys for Ernest H. Lockwood, wealthy local property owner, have been informed by the Federal court that Lockwood must file answers to damage suits totaling $2,000,000 filed against himself, this city, and Tournament of Roses Association, on behalf of eighty victims of the grand-stand collapse New Year's Day, 1926.

Lockwood owned the property at Madison avenue and Colorado street, ond which the temporary grandstand was erected. There were 300 persons injured, eighteen fatally, while the Tournament of Roses parade was passing.

Paul Mahoney, who erected the stand, was convicted of manslaughter and finished his sentence more than a year ago. It was contended that the structure was poorly built and that part of the blame for the crash lay with negligent inspection by the city building department.

Since that time, a stringent building code has been adopted, requiring that every stand be subjected to rigid weight tests several days before New Year's Day.

The damage suits filed by victims and their relatives are scheduled for hearing in the State courts early next month, it was learned today.

This city and the Tournament of Roses Association filed demurrers to these cases, the city's demurrer being sustained recently in Superior Court.

If the Court of Appeals decides the evidence in a stipulated test case constitutes a cause for action, the entire eighty cases will be set for trial.

SCHOOL BOARD BUYS SITE FOR BUILDING

ALHAMBRA, Sept. 15.—The purchase of 4.19 acres in the Midwick View Estates in the southwest part of the city for a new grammar school site has been authorized by the Board of Education. The purchase price is $27,500, which was included in a recent bond issue. The building is not to be erected until later.

Two lots adjoining the Ynez school in Monterey Park also will be purchased for additional playground space.

Contracts for additions and improvements at local elementary schools have been let, amounting to $51,047.20. This work includes improvements at Fremont and Granada schools. The general contract on both jobs was awarded Steed Brothers. New bids will be asked for the construction of a girls' high school gymnasium, the first offers being $15,000 in excess of the appropriation.

HUNTINGTON PARK TO BEGIN NIGHT SCHOOL

HUNTINGTON PARK, Sept. 15. The evening classes at the local high school will begin here on Tuesday night, when it is expected that this will be the biggest year in enrollment since the existence of the night classes. Enrollment for the year is to be made tomorrow night. There will be three terms of school for the night classes, the first beginning Tuesday and ending December 5; the second beginning January 6 and ending March 20, and the final period beginning March 24 and ending June 5. The growth of the night school is shown in the following figures when, for the year 1927-28 the enrollment reached 3342, and for the year 1928-29 the enrollment was 4501.

INGLEWOOD WOMAN'S CLUB REDEDICATED

INGLEWOOD, Sept. 15.—A notable occasion was the banquet last night signalizing the rededication of the Inglewood Woman's Club, following the closing of the spacious structure throughout the summer for alterations and repair.

Some 400 men and women gathered in the banquet room and heard an address by Mrs. Dan Campbell, Glendale club woman, and brief talks of felicitation from heads of various local service club and civic organizations.

A musical program included numbers by Miss Bunola Kucker, dramatic soprano; Tilman Lashbrook, tenor, and Mrs. Lucille Ramsey, pianiste.

HABITUAL CRIMINAL ACT WORKS

Two Counts of Burglary, Added to Three Prior Convictions, Means Life

UPLAND, Sept. 15.—A young man who thought he could "get away with it" will have to spend the rest of his life behind prison walls.

Claude Braswell, 28 years of age, will leave for Folsom prison to spend the rest of his life, as a penalty for entering several Ontario and Upland houses with the intention of committing burglary.

Braswell's plea for a new trial made before Superior Judge Charles L. Allison has been denied, and under the Habitual Criminal Act he faces the bleak walls of prison, without even hope of parole.

Recently the young man was convicted of two counts of burglary which, added to three prior convictions on felony charges, classed him with the habitual criminal element. He was shot down several months ago while trying to leave an Upland home which he had entered to rob. He was convicted of entering the homes of A. B. Burcky and John Batchelor in Ontario. It is said he had entered a score of residences in Upland and Ontario, but he was convicted on the two counts.

Braswell had entered a plea of not guilty by reason of insanity, but in a short time a verdict was returned by a jury declaring him sane at the time of the crimes in the two cities.

STATE OFFICIAL TO DISCUSS STATE PARK

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Sept. 15. Harry Whitcomb Shepherd, landscape engineer for the State Park Commission, will be the principal speaker at a dinner to be held at the Golden Bear Cafe in this city Tuesday at 6:30 p.m.

Shepherd will talk on the opportunity to secure a State park for the Orange county coast. The county or city has to match the State money, dollar for dollar, under the provisions of the act by which $10,000,000 was voted for State park purposes.

It is believed that Huntington Beach, rich in mineral taxes, will match Orange county dollar for dollar to secure a State park in the swamp lands and along the lagoons between this city and Newport Beach. It is proposed to spend a million dollars on the coast park and possibly more.

GARVEY SCHOOLS SHOW INCREASE

WILMAR, Sept. 15.—A substantial increase in enrollment in the Garvey school district was reported last week by Mrs. Minnie L. Rosenberry, new Superintendent of Schools for the district. The opening enrollment was 1593 pupils, which is expected to be increased by later entrants.

Mrs. Rosenberry succeeds Mrs. Lorraine M. Sherer as superintendent, the latter having resigned to accept an appointment as head of a new department with the county school system.

PIONEER PHYSICIAN OF INGLEWOOD DIES

INGLEWOOD, Sept. 15.—Last rites were held here today for Dr. Fred S. Haggart, pioneer physician of the Centinela Valley, from the Beaver and Matson chapel. Interment was in Inglewood Park Cemetery.

Dr. Haggart had practiced for may years in Hawthorne before establishing his home and office in Inglewood nine years ago. His wife died here two years ago. He leaves one son, Leland Haggart, a resident of Hollywood.

NEVILL MAYOR OF SOUTH GATE

SOUTH GATE, Sept. 15.—This city now has a new Mayor, Guy F. Nevill, who was recently appointed a member of the City Council to take the place made vacant by the resignation of K. C. Bryant, having been appointed acting Mayor for two months. He takes the place of Mayor Andrew J. Schoby, who has started on a two months' trip into Minnesota and other States in that section.

Mr. Chadwick was formerly sales manager for the Laguna Land and Water Company; is a director of the Bell Chamber of Commerce and has been a resident of this section for many years.

RARE LILIES TO DECK FAIR

Quality Blooms to Beautify Scene

Southland Buds Display Full-blown Blossoms

Young women pluck flowers as samples of colorful setting that will add beauty to gorgeous setting of Southern California Fair, which opens at Riverside on the 24th inst.

RIVERSIDE, Sept. 15.—Rare blooms of every description will delight the eye and waft their fragrance to the nostrils of the assembled thousands of the Southern California Fair, which opens at Riverside the 24th inst., as it is announced by the directors that the futuristic decorations in the various shows will be enhanced by exotic beauty in the shape of flowers and plants grown in the Southland.

Boys will be particularly interested in the announcement that Camp Richard J. Werner, the fifth annual boys' camp of the Southern California Fair, will open at 7 a.m. Friday, the 27th inst., and every high-school and junior high school giving instruction in agriculture is invited to send a delegation to the camp. The camp will be run on semimilitary lines, it is announced by R. J. Werner, general supervisor, and will be under the personal supervision of an executive committee composed of instructors and supervisors co-operating with the Riverside Young Men's Christian Association and Rotary Club.

The girl showing the best exhibit of canned foods at the Southern California Fair will receive a very fine wrist watch, it is announced, and the boy or girl standing highest in supervised club or project work, animals to be exhibited at the Junior Fair, will be rewarded with a valuable gold watch. This contest is open to all exhibitors in the live stock division, it is said.

According to E. I. Hammond, superintendent of the poultry, pigeon and rabbit division, the following men have been selected to act as judges: Poultry, E. L. Chase, Flagstaff, Ariz.; bantams, William Wise, Midway City; pigeons, J. A. Smith, Arcadia; turkeys, E. I. Hammond, Riverside; rabbits, Andrew Stodel, Los Angeles, and W. F. Gilbert, Ontario.

School children are grooming for the declamation contests which have been announced for Saturday morning in the industrial show. This contest will be decided in the class and grade in which the contestants ranked during the school year 1928-1929 and recitations will consist of three types of selections—patriotic, dramatic and humorous. City schools can enter contestants from grades fourth, fifth and sixth and contestants from junior high schools; rural schools from grades third, fourth and fifth and sixth, seventh and eighth. A gold, silver and bronze medal is offered for each of the classifications.

With the opening date of the fair rapidly approaching, interest in the "sweetheart" contest which will decide who is the sweetest girl in the Southland, is rapidly becoming universal throughout Southern California and entries continue to pour into fair headquarters, it is reported. Chambers of commerce of practically every city and community are scouring their districts for girls having the attributes of beauty and character which qualify them for this unique contest and it is expected that the fair grounds will be thronged on the afternoon of the opening day when the sweetest girl is chosen "queen" of the celebration by popular applause.

Swimming Pool Begins Summer at Fernangeles

SAN FERNANDO, Sept. 15.—While everyone else was donning their new fall clothes, summer really only began yesterday for folks living in the Fernangeles section of the San Fernando Valley. For yesterday was the first day of regular service of the new Fernangeles municipal swimming pool, for which residents of the district have been patiently waiting all summer.

As the hour struck 9 yesterday morning, Pool Director Walter Field gave the signal and dozens of happy men, women and children dived into the waters of the plunge. These were the people of Fernangeles who wanted a municipal swimming pool so much that they voted the sum of $15,000 for its construction, and turned these funds over to the Los Angeles Playground and Recreation Department, who made the project a reality.

Formal dedication of the pool took place Saturday afternoon under the direction of the City Playground Commission with a large crowd of San Fernando Valley citizens witnessing the ceremonies. The Fernangeles plunge is 30 by 60 feet in size, with an adjoining bath house, and is equipped with the most modern type of filtration system. It is the tenth swimming pool to be placed in public service by the city's Playground and Recreation Department.

UPLAND, Sept. 13.—If plans now under consideration by Upland and Ontario chambers of commerce are carried out in full, a great program will be arranged in observance of "Lights' Golden Jubilee," a world-wide celebration October 21, featuring Thomas Edison, Clair Kirk, secretary of Upland Chamber of Commerce, announced today.

The plans at present provide for a musical program at Chaffey Union High School amphitheater; a talk on Edison by Dr. Merton E. Hill, principal of the high school, and a number of other talks acknowledging Edison's service to mankind.

ULTRAMODERN HORSE THIEF

Up-to-Date Method Calls Automobile Into Use

TEMPLE CITY, Sept. 15.—Days of the Vigilantes! A horse thief! And using an automobile as an instrument in carrying out the crime!

The Temple City Sheriff's substation has its first recorded case of horse-stealing.

An automobile stopped near Joe Scanlon's place on Arden Road. With its departure went also Scanlon's bay horse, according to the report to Capt. V. J. Monteleone of the Sheriff's office. "They must have taken him away in the machine," muses the officer. "We are looking for an automobile with a bare-footed horse in the back seat. I suppose we'll have to hang the culprit to the nearest tree."

CUT IN VENTURA GAS INTERESTS

Operators Speculate on Ratio to be Apportioned

Matter Slated for Hearing at Meeting Saturday

Flush to Around 200,000,000 Cubic Feet Favored

Oil operators in the Ventura-avenue field, which is an area of exceedingly high gas pressures, are wondering what sort of gas ratio will be apportioned to them when State Oil and Gas Supervisor Bush meets with them the 21st inst. to consider the matter of bringing the Ventura field within the limitations of the new State oil and gas law.

The order which recently was served upon all operators in the Santa Fe Springs field placed oil production on the basis of 2500 cubic feet of gas per barrel of oil. It is expected that a different ratio will have to be worked out for each of the principal producing fields, because of the variation in their physical characteristics.

It seems to be the opinion of many operators that the Santa Fe Springs ratio would not be workable in the Ventura-avenue field. Such a ratio would allow Ventura-avenue a daily gas production of [illegible] cubic feet, whereas it now is putting out 260,000,000 cubic feet under rather orderly development.

The belief prevails that to curtail the present gas flow to the extent of 110,000,000 cubic feet a day would imperil many of the deep producing wells, because they might build up dangerous pressures. It is thought probable that the Ventura operators will favor a ratio which will permit of the production of at least 200,000,000 cubic feet of gas a day. That would call for an oil and gas ratio somewhat higher than that at Santa Fe Springs.

HOLE MAKES DEPTH AT WHEELER RIDGE

WHEELER RIDGE, Sept. 15. (Exclusive)—Steadily drilling ahead in its No. 26 on Sec. 27, 11-30, Wheeler Ridge, the Standard Oil Company is at about 5895 feet in hard sand. Casing is set to 4530 feet.

TEXAS OIL OUTPUT AT NEW PEAK

Bureau Data on August Production Show Total of 28,082,000 Barrels

AUSTIN (Tex.) Sept. 15. (Exclusive)—Crude oil production in Texas made a new high record in August when 28,082,000 barrels were gathered in August, according to Bervard Nichols of the bureau of business research at the University of Texas.

"These figures compare with 26,980,000 barrels in July and 22,801,000 barrels in August, 1928," Mr. Nichols says. "Output has increased consistently for the past year, each month showing a gain over the previous month until present production is nearly 25 per cent above that of a year ago.

"Texas now leads all the States in oil production. Daily average output in the State averaged 906,000 barrels in August, against 738,000 barrels for August, 1928.

"Field work continued to be active, especially during the first half of the month. Seven hundred and seventeen new wells were completed, of which 394 were producers, compared to 606 completions and 354 successful wells in August a year ago.

"Crude oil prices were unchanged during the month, due largely to the fact that the new law in California is expected to reduce the total United States production. Gasoline prices were reduced in eastern States, but this section of the country was not affected."

Rains Handicap Chloride Area Mining Activity

CHLORIDE (Ariz.) Sept. 15. (Exclusive)—Summer rains have played havoc with roads in the Chloride area, and several mines are shut down as a result. It was necessary to repair the road to the Pay Roll mine twice in one week, and the second time the work amounted to rebuilding. This road affords access to the Redemption group of the North Star Company, and new machinery for the Redemption was held up several days.

The road to the Lucky Boy was destroyed completely and must be rebuilt before operations at that property can be resumed.

OIL CONCLAVE PLANS TOLD

Tentative Program of International Exposition and Congress at Tulsa, Okla., Announced

TULSA (Okla.) Sept. 15. (Exclusive)—Tentative outlines of the important meetings to be held during the International Petroleum Exposition and Congress season in this city, which includes the two pre-exposition dates of October 3 and 4, and the regular October 5 to 12 period, have been submitted to the general manager, William B. Way.

Early arrangements furnished by President E. B. Reeser of the American Petroleum Institute provide for separate meetings of the A.P.I.'s committees on the code of ethics on the morning of October 3, at Hotel Mayo. In the afternoon the committees will meet together to prepare a report for the board of directors of the institute.

On October 4, the board of directors of the American Petroleum Institute will meet at Hotel Mayo. Highlights of the exposition and congress will be presented to the directors at this session.

The petroleum division of the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers will also hold their sessions on these two days. J. P. Umpleby, president of the division, will have charge of the meetings.

Four technical sessions of the A.I.M.M.E. are being arranged, and a dinner will be given by the Midcontinent division on the evening of October 3. Problems of production engineering will occupy a large part of the program.

Interesting papers to be read in the A.I.M.M.E. session are: Joseph E. Pague, a summary of the existing economic condition of the industry; W. P. Haseman, on principles controlling spacing of oil wells; Stender Sweeney at Long Beach, and Paul Rudeman, on spacing of gas wells.

Well spacing in particular fields of Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas, Louisiana, Arkansas and the Appalachian States, will be covered in the papers. The October 4 sessions will take up general topics. Flowing wells will be given particular consideration.

The A.I.M.M.E. program is being arranged by President Umpleby, A. W. Ambrose, C. V. Millikan, Charles E. Beecher, W. W. Scott, associate vice-chairman, and L. G. E. Bignell, chairman of the Midcontinent section, and Messrs. Brandenthaler, George Whiteford, Power, Bennett, Goodrich, Porter and Rudeman of the local committee.

On October 7, the Midcontinent district, division of development and production engineering, American Petroleum Institute, will open its two-day session. J. R. McWilliams, chairman, will be in charge. The program is to be announced by the 15th inst.

The American Association of State Geologists will present a general review of conditions and the principal formations in the States of the Union, in the auditorium, on October 8. A. I. Levorsen and Dr. Charles N. Gould, will be in charge.

On October 9, the Pioneers of the Oil Industry will hold their organization meeting. A charter will be drawn up and the plans which have been made to aid unfortunate veterans of the industry will be announced. Barney E. Horrigan is chairman of the old-timers' committee.

On the night of October 9, the Midcontinent Oil and Gas Association will hold its banquet, at which Homer S. Fox, United States Board of Trade representative at London, Eng., will be the speaker.

The organization meeting of the Independent Producers' Association, of which Wirt Franklin is president, will be held at the exposition grounds on October 10. This association is expected to wage a stiff fight for a tariff on crude oil, and to give the independent producer a powerful voice in conservation parleys.

READY TO OPERATE

Gold Road Mill Waits Only Few Finishing Touches

OATMAN (Ariz.) Sept. 15. (Exclusive)—With the arrival of a few pieces of delayed machinery, the Gold Road mill will be ready to resume. It is to handle both raw ore and tailings from the dump.

The coarse ore will help to regrind the tailings, releasing the gold that is held in the insolubles. Enough material is in sight to keep the mill operating for a year or more without further development.

BURIED METEOR BELIEVED FOUND

Arizona Operator Sights End of Long Search

Crosscut Project Expected to Open Up Deposit

Former Attempts Defeated by Quicksand Layer

WINSLOW (Ariz.) Sept. 15. (Exclusive)—Arizona's famous buried meteor, sought for more than a quarter of a century, is believed to have been discovered.

At a depth of 1400 feet the shaft which is being sunk at the south end of Meteor Crater, under the direction of D. M. Barringer, passed through what is apparently the edge of a great mass of meteoric iron. The shaft has been continued to 1600 feet and a crosscut will be run to the south with the expectation of coming up under the metal.

First attempts to reach the meteorite failed, say the miners employed by Barringer, probably because they were too far north. A shaft sunk many years ago about the center of the crater entered fine quicksand and had to be abandoned.

Barringer began working on a new theory that the meteorite struck the earth at an angle and lay off to the south. Latest reports indicate that his theory was well founded.

The crater, lying twenty miles west of Winslow, is about four-fifths of a mile in diameter. Its bottom is composed of rock flour so small that it will pass through a 200-mesh screen. Scientists say that white sandstone was ground to powder by the impact of an aerial visitor which must have weighed between 1,000,000 and 10,000,000 tons.

Apache Silver Lays Plans to Open Property

SUPERIOR (Ariz.) Sept. 15. (Exclusive)—Equipment that includes a compressor, hoist and jackhammer drills has been hauled out to the Apache Silver Mining Company's property in the Silver King section. The shaft, 175 feet deep, is to be sunk at once to the 300-foot level.

This shaft has been sunk by hand in the last six months. At 105 feet it passed through a ledge that ran 149 ounces silver, 9 per cent lead and 5½ per cent copper.

Richard Loeb of Superior is in charge of development. Most of the stock is held in Los Angeles.

Chunk of Gold Ore Sent From Pilgrim Mine

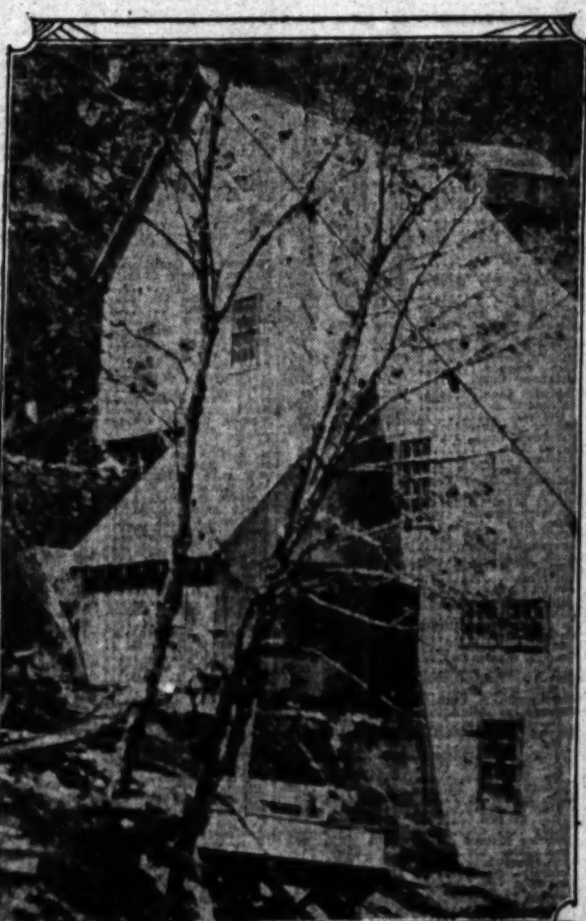
KINGMAN (Ariz.) Sept. 15. (Exclusive)—One of the richest chunks of gold ore ever mined in Mohave county was brought to Kingman a few days ago by M. B. Dudley, and taken to Los Angeles by plane.

It was from a body of high-grade just opened on the 350-foot level of the Pilgrim mine, which the Treasure Vault Company has under development.

A drift is now being run along the shoot, which is all of good milling grade with streaks of very rich ore shot full of heavy gold.

YELLOW JACKET MINE ACTIVE

Electrical Energy Aids Quest for Gold



Modern Mill on the Alleghany Property

Above, the Yellow Jacket mill nestling in the mountainside. Below, miners bringing out the gold quartz from mine owned by Secretary of State Jordan and a group of Los Angeles investors.

CONSIDERABLE interest is shown here, by those who are familiar with mining conditions along the Mother Lode, in developments at the Yellow Jacket mine of the Alleghany El Dorado Gold Mining Company, in Sierra county, near Alleghany. Frank C. Jordan, Secretary of State, is president of the organization.

The property adjoins the Sixteen-to-One mine, one of the outstanding mines of the State. It consists of four patented claims and one unpatented, all adjoining. Equipment is complete, including a heavy ten-stamp mill, and all of it is electrically operated. Present mining is done through drifts, but it is contemplated that sinking operations will start in the near future. There are about 5000 feet of lateral development.

The main objective is to encounter the ore shoot which was cut at a higher level in the Osceola claim. The engineer reports that this should be reached in about 100 feet of lateral work through the Yellow Jacket claim. This work is being prosecuted with one shift working continuously.

In the No. 2 stope twelve feet of ore is showing. This is in the vicinity of a known ore shoot, and the management is expecting high-grade at any time. Conditions are identical in this property with those of the big producers.

The mill is running one shift on mediocre ore, being run mainly for a test. The ball mill for the handling of high-grade is set up and ready for operation.

MIDLAND REFINERY SHIPPING ASPHALT

MIDLAND (Tex.) Sept. 15. (Exclusive) — Manufacture of asphalt for paving has been started at the Midland refinery. Four carloads per day are being shipped to Minneapolis for use in street work.

Gold King Vein Gains Width and Values Hold Up

KINGMAN (Ariz.) Sept. 15. (Exclusive)—The main vein at the Gold King has now widened out to sixteen feet, and the values found near the portal of the tunnel remain unchanged.

This tunnel encountered a "squeeze" in the vein and some apprehension was felt that the ore would pinch out, but a few feet farther ahead it came in stronger than ever.

The tunnel is to open at depth an ore showing far up on the hillside which has been partially developed by an eighty-foot shaft and other workings.

DAY OIL FISHING AT SHALE HILLS TEST

SHALE HILLS, Sept. 15. (Exclusive)—In the Shale Hills area the Day Oil Company has a difficult fishing job. The bit is lost at 1430 feet.

WILDCAT RIG BUILDING AT ROSEDALE

General Petroleum to Make First Attempt on Lease in District

ROSEDALE, Sept. 15. (Exclusive) The General Petroleum Corporation is laying foundation for its first wildcat hole on Sec. 13, 29-26, near Rosedale.

The General Petroleum Corporation is said to have leased a considerable acreage on surrounding sections. The land was obtained from the Kern County Land Company a few weeks ago.

The well, it is said, will be located in the center of the section and will be known as the KCL No. 1.

The only other wildcat operator in the district is the Elmer Company, on Sec. 33, 29-26, drilling Houghton No. 1. This hole is in sandy shale at around 4700 feet.

Rig and equipment for the General Petroleum's prospect in the Rosedale territory was obtained from the company's abandoned hole in the McFarland area. This hole, the KCL No. 1, Sec. 25, 26-25, suspended because of poor showings. The McFarland wildcat crews will drill the Rosedale well.

Tunnel for Tapping Casi Shows Progress

Completion of Project Du at Early Date

The general situation on t north dome of Kettleman Hi which came to a climax two wee ago with the unexpected blowing of the Continental Oil Company Elliott No. 12-8, has shown sligh improvement.

Starting on its third week of b ing entirely out of control crews a attacking from two angles the pro lem of safely capping this unru well. They are working unde ground and at the mouth of t casing, where approximately 35 barrels of oil and 60,000,000 cu feet of gas per day are pouri forth.

More than a week ago cre started digging a 140-foot tunn and still have about fifty feet to to tap the casing. Should no u foreseen difficulties arise within t next few days workmen should so be draining a portion of the outp into traps and tanks, thereby le sening the danger of fire whi would undoubtedly wreck at lea for a time the possibilities of shu ting down the well.

DERRICK DISMANTLED

The huge steel derrick was di mantled late in the week to pr vent sparks from igniting the g and oil. The "Christmas tree" w removed and a clamp attached b low the broken flange preparato to tapping the casing.

Offsetting the Milham Explor tion Company's Elliott No. 2, whi suspended drilling at 7054 feet tw days ago, Continental's Elliott N 2-13 started to come in yesterd from a depth of 6182 feet whi swabbing for a water shut-off, b it was killed with heavy mud a preparations are being made to c ment it.

Since Continental's well came the only change noted in that ar is in the Milham Exploration Co pany's Elliott No. 1 discovery we whose output dropped from 34 barrels to 2900 barrels, althou the flow of gas remains at 70,000, 000 cubic feet, 30,000,000 of whi is being turned into the complete section of the Pacific Gas and Ele tric Company's natural gas pipe li running from Kettleman Hills San Jose.

WORK SUSPENDED

About two and one-half miles the northwest of Continental's fir completion, Milham's Kennedy N 1, deepest well in that area h been suspended at 7377 feet to co form with the government's poli of conservation. It will not be com pleted until compelled to. The Be No. 1 is redrilling at 5803 feet aft er having reached the original dep just before a fishing job tied u operations.

NEW CINNABAR MINE TO OPEN

Angeleno Group Starts Work on Nevada Property

Plans for Rotary Furnace at Site Already Made

Shamrock Mill at Ione Again on Operating List

TONOPAH (Nev.) Sept. 15. (Exclusive)—The Raymond Van Ness Mining Company of Los Angeles announces that arrangements have been made for the installation of a forty-ton rotary furnace on its cinnabar properties, twelve miles southwest of the old town of Belmont, and that production will start early next year.

The corporation has just finished building a road to its holdings and is vigorously developing the deposits. Power for the plant and electricity for the camp will be generated by two Diesel engines. The management asserts that the ore runs high in quicksilver and that another furnace probably will be installed after production starts.

The Shamrock mill near Ione, controlled by E. L. Burney and associates of Los Angeles, has been placed in commission on silver-lead ores stored on old dumps in the district. A substantial tonnage of this material is reported to be available and good ore is said to be exposed in some of the old mines. Equipment for treatment of cinnabar ores is later to be added to the mill and large amounts of custom material treated.

With eighty-five men on the pay roll the Consolidated Cortez Company is operating steadily at Cortez, near Beowawe, and shipping silver concentrates. Good ore is reported to be showing in new workings opened from the Arctic tunnel.

The Majestic Mining Company, owning properties adjoining the Consolidated Cortex, reports that refinancing is progressing, preliminary to resumption of mining along broad lines.

Reports are current in Tonopah mining circles that the Treadwell-Yukon Company has acquired the Hearst & Haggin and other noted pioneer producers at Bodie, Cal. Local officials of the company have refused to comment on the report. The corporation is operating large silver-lead mines at Tybo, northeast of Tonopah, and ranks among the largest enterprises of its type in the West.

Operations in Fields of Kern Summarized

BAKERSFIELD, Sept. 15. (Exclusive)—A survey shows fifty-three different operators active in eleven proved and twenty-three wildcat areas of Kern county. There are 109 sites upon which drilling activities are going on, rigs are being built upon, wells are suspended, are idle, or have been abandoned during the past week.

According to the report, there are seventy-two drilling jobs going on at present, five rigs are idle, two are suspended, nine new locations are staked, fifteen rigs are going up and one is abandoned.

On the eleven proven sections there are forty-nine drilling jobs, three idle wells, eight new locations, fourteen rigs going up and thirty operations active.

In the twenty-three wildcat areas there are thirty-one operators interested who have twenty-three drilling jobs, two idle holes, two suspended holes, one new location, one rig going up and one abandoned hole.

Promising Ore Find Reported From Tulare

TULARE, Sept. 15. (Exclusive)—W. H. Hart, pioneer prospector of this district, is reported to have discovered a fine gold, silver and copper property in Redwood Canyon, between Gen. Grant and Sequoia national parks.

This find was the result of years of prospecting on the part of Hart in the mountains of Eastern Tulare county. A streak of pay dirt was first located. Carefully following this, Hart is said to have uncovered a four-foot ledge of silver, gold and almost pure copper ore. The latter is declared to be one of the richest finds in the history of the State. The ore is said to average $350 to the ton, and to be well suited to smelting.

MARICOPA ADDS GOOD PRODUCER

Havenstrite Project on Reservoir Hill Flowing 2400 Barrels a Day

MARICOPA, Sept. 15. (Exclusive) Another big oil well has been added to the list of producers on Maricopa Flat. The addition this week is the Havenstrite No. 1 well on the Reservoir Hill Oil Company located on Sec. 17, 11-23. It is putting out 2400 barrels per day. The oil is said to be clean. It is flowing through the tubing under control and coming from a sand at 3352 feet. The ten-inch casing was set at 3293 feet. Completion of Havenstrite No. 1 proves up an area considerably beyond the old field.

Belief that the water trouble recently encountered has been overcome is expressed on all sides as a result of the new completion.

The California-Western Oil Company is erecting derrick for an offset to Havenstrite No. 1. California-Western's new hole will be Havenstrite No. 2 and will be directly west and adjacent to the new well.

The North American Oil Company, operating on Sec. 8, 11-23, has rig up on the north side of the new well and will spud in its offset immediately.

The territory on which the new producer stands is owned by the government, which leased it to Havenstrite & Baker. They leased 160 acres to the California-Western and forty acres to Kenneth Wallace, who leased it to the Rio Grande Oil Company. The Rio Grande turned the land over to its subsidiary—the Reservoir Hill Oil Company, which drilled the hole.

The California-Western Oil Company, in its Havenstrite No. 1 on Sec. 17, 11-23, is down more than 3900 feet. This is the deepest hole in that territory. Belief that the hole missed the sands from which Reservoir Hill's well is flowing is expressed by some operators. California-Western will core its deep hole thoroughly.

Compensation Cost Cut Aim of Mine Group

The newly organized Mining Association of California, which was created at a State-wide meeting of mine operators in Sacramento plans to form a reciprocal self-insurance corporation to combat the high cost of compensation insurance will be one of the principal activities in behalf of the membership. It was brought out at the meeting that the mines can insure themselves through co-operative effort at from one-third to one-half the cost of the State Fund Insurance. A committee headed by C. S. Brooks of Sacramento is working on this feature.

Other co-operatie measures include group buying of supplies and group selling of mineral products modelled after the farm co-operatives. The association will also be active in legislative matters of interest to the industry, and will carry forward the necessary publicity to acquaint the public with the problems of the industry and the need for encouragement by the State and Federal governments. Sacramento has been chosen as headquarters.

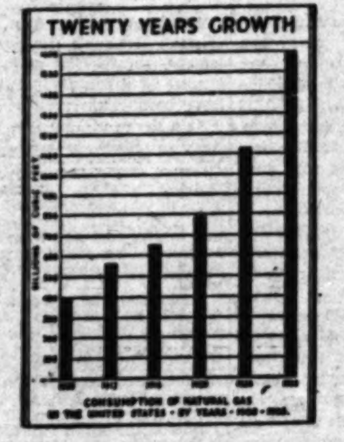
THE NATURAL GAS INDUSTRY

Consumption of Natural Gas has increased four times during past twenty years . . this important public utility now entering an era of wide expansion



THE United States—for domestic and industrial purposes—is now using four times as much natural gas as it did twenty years ago. The number of consumers has trebled in this period and the gross revenue increased five-fold. Used in the beginning only for illumination, today this necessary fuel has more than 1500 separate and distinct industrial uses. The marked growth of the natural gas industry—now proceeding at an accelerated rate—has placed it in a prominent and permanent position in the public utility field.

Industry Expanding to meet Broadening Demands

Since 1914, there has been a decided change in the relative importance of the sources of heat and power for industrial, commercial and domestic purposes. Fuel economy and efficiency of utilization are two requirements which have attained major importance. These natural gas fulfills readily. Providing fuel for heat and power at an economical cost, natural gas companies are meeting a broadening demand for their services. The extension of pipe lines to populous sections, industrial centers and established communities is adding many new and diversified outlets for natural gas.

Consistent Increase in Sales Volume

The accompanying chart illustrates the growth in the sales volume since 1908. The consistent increase in the revenue received from the sale of natural gas is shown as follows:

Year	Value at points of consumption	Year	Value at points of consumption
1908	$54,674,374	1920	$196,194,000
1912	84,563,957	1924	253,856,000
1916	120,227,468	1928	325,000,000*

*Estimated

Source: Bureau of Mines, Dept. of Commerce

Few public utilities are growing so rapidly or have attained such a leading position in the past twenty years as the natural gas industry. 78% of all gas sold in the United States is natural gas.

Sound Utility Investment

The natural gas industry, therefore, faces a future full of promise. The essential nature of the business gives to it the stability that characterizes other indispensable utilities. With revenues increasing substantially and many thousands of new customers being added year by year, the financial outlook for natural gas companies directly favors the purchase of their securities. The obligations and equities of such organizations merit a place in every investment fund.

Southern Natural Gas Corporation, a subsidiary of Tri-Utilities Corporation, will make available to the important and rapidly growing communities of the great Industrial Southeast the vast fuel resources of the Northeastern Louisiana gas fields. It will constitute one of the largest natural gas systems in the country and will serve one of the most profitable markets in the United States for the sale of natural gas.

Baryte

BARSTOW, Aug. 30. Question: I am sending you a sample of rock taken from cropping. Please analyze it and give classification. Found ROTH. near Barstow.

Answer: It is a fairly good grade of barium sulphate with some iron oxide and strontium indicated. Baryte is of vitreous luster and its streak is white. It is known to the mining boys in the hills as heavy spar; it possesses double refracting properties when held at certain angles, it is at times fetid when rubbed, and the mineral occurs with metallic ores in veins. When it is present it exercises an injurious influence in smelting operations. The pure white variety is ground after having been heated, thrown into water and used as a pigment alone or mixed with white lead. Very pure baryte is also used, to some extent, in sugar refineries. Many of its salts are highly poisonous and the nitrate is of value in pyrotechny for making green fire. The supply of the mineral is very great, and it calls for high-grade stuff to make profitable sales.

Altered Rocks

BISHOP, Aug. 30.—Q.: Am sending you samples of rock from the Sierra Nevada Mountains, near here, for analyses.

AN OLD SUBSCRIBER.

A.: One of the samples is altered garnetyte (garnet rock) carrying more or less aluminum silicate, and the other specimen is altered lime silicate in part wallastonite. Free gold not present.

Amorphous Graphite

NEWHALL, Aug. 31, Q.: I am handing you specimen of graphite on which I would like your report through "In the Earth" column. Locality, Los Angeles county and not many miles from Hughes Lake. H.

A.: The sample is not flake or other variety of crystallized graphite, nevertheless, mineral represented by the sample can be pulverized, thrown into water, stirred up, the waste matter allowed to settle, and the graphite collected from the surface of water by skimming. The product will be commercial graphite—but not of the highest grade.

Three Samples

DARWIN, Sept. 1.—Q.: Am sending under separate cover three samples, Nos. 1, 2 and 3, which I would like to have classified. W.

A.: Sample No. 1 is altered rock giving slight reactions for copper and zinc. No. 2 is a variety of conglomerate, and a mixture; zinc more or less present, lime carbonate and iron oxides in the mass, and not tested for magnesia. No. 3 is an altered conglomerated and amygdaloidal rock, (not lava.) All of the specimens to be more fully classified call for quantitative and microscopical work.

Travertine

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 4. Q.: You will find inclosed a piece of rock that I broke off a ledge on top or point of a hog-back in Ventura county. The cropping of the ledge covered about twenty-five feet in length and seemed to get solid as it went down. Will you please test same for commercial values, and oblige. H.

A.: Who knows but what a cave is lower down (in depth) from the point where you plucked off the specimen? The rock is similar to that found in caves where its like should hang from the roof of a cavern. (stalactite.) Travertine is the given name to the harder varieties of calcite (calcerous tufa, for instance) formed by the evaporation of water holding lime in solution on the sides of waterfalls, rivers, etc. Values of your find are problematical.

Earthy Hematite

PASADENA, Sept. 5. Q.: This sample comes from Nye county, Nevada, and it is reported to be Cinnabar. G. S. H.

A.: There is no mercury in the specimen. Simply a clay-like hematite.

Of Doubtful Value

ONTARIO, Sept. 2. Q.: Please tell me what the four samples contain and what values are indicated. No. 1 quartz. No. 2 white, soft deposit. No. 3 red soft deposit, and No. 4 rock with black center. All found near Pomona. From a sincere admirer of The Times. A.

A.: Sample No. 1 is not quartz—it is calcite (lime carbonite.) No. 2 is granular, low-grade sandstone. No. 3 is massive sandstone stained with red and yellow iron oxides, and No. 4 is shale stained in the center with a streak of iron oxide and manganese.

Flake Platinum Absent

VICTORVILLE, Sept. 2.—Q.: I am sending several samples of ore taken from a claim I hold. Would like to know, if in your opinion, it is worth working. Body of ore is eight feet wide. Have been advised that it probably contained platinum and gold. B.

A.: The samples are of hornblende rock mixed sparingly with base-metal sulphides. The sulphides of iron, zinc and arsenic, are more or less present. Galenite (lead sulphide) a trace only, and free gold absent. Cannot advise you further.

Clay

TIPTON, Sept. 3. Q.: Find inclosed sample of mineral. Please tell me what it is and value? The specimen comes from Kettleman Hills, Kings county, California. H. N.

A.: It is a mixture of potters' clay, iron present, and in part Fuller's earth. It is one of the hydrous clays occurring so abundantly in California and at other localities in the Far West.

Rock

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 4. Q.: This sample of rock found near Colfax, Cal. Does it contain sulphides enough to be worked profitably? A.

A.: The rock carries iron manganese silicate chiefly. Chalcopyrite present in traces only and a very low percentage of pyrite found. Unless similar samples would give fire assay returns for gold and silver it is doubtful if such rock would be profitable to work—surely not as a concentrating proposition.

Salines

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 5.—Q.: This sample of ore may carry gold, silver, lead, carnotite, platinum and vanadium. Found in Inyo county, California. McA.

A.: It is simply siliceous rock mixed with limonite. Sodium chloride, and sodium sulphate present. Both in low percentages.

Crystallized Gypsum

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 6. Q.: This rocks was found in Santa Barbara county. It was in a ledge and a general analysis is requested. S. S.

A.: Qualitative analysis only. The sample is one-quarter of an inch in thickness and appears to be a stringer product. It is coated and stained on both sides with some clay and limonite. Values problematical and it is of the Selenite variety.

A Mixture

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 6. Q.: Please find inclosed two samples of rock. There is a fourteen feet vein of similar rock showing more than 3000 feet on the surface. Locality—northeast of Silver City, New Mexico. I remain a constant reader of the best newspaper in California—The Los Angeles Times. W.

A.: Thank you! The samples are chiefly limestone and were not tested for magnesia. Pyrite (iron disulphide,) marcasite (white iron pyrite,) traces of molybdenite, and "Peacock Iron" all present in greater or lesser percentages. The sulphides might fire assay low in gold values, but even then the prospect for a paying mine is problematical.

General Rigs-Up for New Test in Fruitvale Field

FRUITVALE, Sept. 15. (Exclusive)—The General Petroleum is rigging up a rotary on its Hensley No. 4 well in the Fruitvale district, Sec. 22, 29-27. This is the company's second hole on that section. Its No. 3 is producing 750 barrels of 21 deg. gravity oil per day.

With General active in the field, four companies are engaged in drilling activities, with one company suspending drilling operations. Shell has one hole in the district, as well as Standard, while Western-Gulf has three jobs going. The Mohawk Oil Company is still idle. The Mohawk is producing nearly 2000 barrels per day.

NEW FIELD OPENED IN OKLAHOMA

Wildcat Well Blows in With 1400-Barrel Flow on Ramsey Holdings

Telegrams from Oklahoma City, Okla., yesterday indicated the discovery of a new oil field ten miles east of that city as a result of the blowing-in of a wildcat well which was being drilled by Ramsey Brothers, formerly operators in the Signal Hill field at Long Beach.

The discovery well is reported to be flowing at the rate of about 1400 barrels a day, with 2,000,000 cubic feet of gas. Depth is 6157 feet. The oil tests 39.6 deg. gravity. The well was drilled in the center of a block of 10,800 acres held fifty-fifty by the Midcontinent Oil and Gas Company and Ramsey Brothers.

The find is situated ten miles northeast of what is known as the Oklahoma City field. It is reported that the area will hereafter be known as the Ramsey field.

Announcing

Reliance International Corporation

Managed by Reliance Management Corporation

Reliance Management Corporation announces the formation of Reliance International Corporation—an investment trust, international in scope, of the general management type, having an authorized capital which contemplates an ultimate investment fund in excess of $100,000,000.

The world-wide investment of capital through the medium of investment trusts has taken place on a large scale in Great Britain for more than 50 years. During the past 10 years, the increasing surplus of capital available for investment has given rise to the formation in the United States of a large number of investment trusts with capital aggregating many hundreds of millions of dollars.

In the present era of high prices for common stocks and a rapidly mounting and confusing number of new security issues, the investor finds it increasingly difficult to select and supervise domestic investments giving him an adequate return on his capital, and having a satisfactory margin of safety and reasonable possibility for further appreciation in value. Furthermore, the average size of investment accounts and lack of time and adequate facilities, render it a practical impossibility for the individual to secure proper diversification of risk or to avail himself of the many favorable opportunities for investment in foreign markets.

Reliance International Corporation offers the investor an opportunity to participate in a world-wide investment undertaking in association with an experienced group of representative bankers, business executives and economists comprising the management, board of directors and national advisory committee.

The widespread affiliations of the Reliance group, having available the information supplied by trained economists and financial research experts, will tend to produce for the investor that selective, constantly supervised and diversified employment of funds which comprises scientific investment.

INTERCOASTAL OUTLOOK GOOD

Conference Chief Optimistic on Leaving for North

New Weighing, Inspection Bureau Success Cited

Harbor Engineer Departs for Convention Today

BY WALDO DRAKE

The future of United States intercoastal shipping, backbone of the American merchant marine, today appears brighter than at any time in the history of coast-to-coast trade, according to H. M. Runyon, Pacific Coast chief of the United States Intercoastal Conference, who yesterday departed for San Francisco after a week's survey of the Los Angeles shipping situation. His visit was occasioned by the recent return to the intercoastal conference of the Luckenbach Steamship Company and incidental inclusion of the Luckenbach Line in the Westbound Weighing and Inspection Bureau.

"Harmony is the keynote of the intercoastal conference today," said Mr. Runyon. "The tonnage outlook for the immediate future is excellent and as long as the various operators hold the present co-operative spirit there is no reason why the coast-to-coast fleet should not quickly attain its rightful place as one of the greatest factors in America's industrial scheme.

"Success of the four-months-old weighing and inspection bureau, by which all westbound North Atlantic cargo is inspected, weighed and classified at Los Angeles Harbor and San Francisco, has been so complete that we are opening bureaus at Seattle, Portland and Tacoma tomorrow and have decided to include all westbound Gulf freight."

Mr. Runyon added that he will confer in San Francisco today with R. C. Thackara, chairman of the United States Intercoastal Conference at New York, relative to inclusion of Pacific coastwise traffic in the weighing-inspection bureau. While at Los Angeles Harbor, Mr. Runyon held a conference with Morgan Huntoon, head of the local weighing-inspection bureau, relative to immediate expansion of the bureau's facilities here.

NICHOLSON GOING TO QUEBEC MEETING

George Nicholson, chief engineer for the Los Angeles Harbor Department, will leave today for the convention of the American Association of Port Authorities the 23rd inst., at Quebec, where he will be given the honor of reading the only paper by any delegate on the Pacific Slope.

His subject is "Uniform Port Practices and Terminal Rates," a study developed over a period of years under Nicholson's guidance for the Association of Pacific and Far East Authorities. Incidentally he is chairman of the eastern body's research committee, of which Col. C. T. Leeds, consulting engineer of Los Angeles, and two easterners are members.

He will be joined at Chicago by other western delegates for an inspection of port facilities at that city and also at Toronto, before proceeding to Quebec. Walter B. Allen, one of five directors of the American association, and Burt Edwards, port manager, who also is a delegate, have found it impossible to attend the convention.

The Isthmian Line freight steamer Knoxville City, while entering port from the north to load cargo for London yesterday morning, collided with the McCormick Terminal at Berth 178, causing considerable damage to the wharf and seriously damaging her port after section. Approximately sixty feet of the wharf was wrecked, while a survey will be made of the vessel this morning to determine repairs necessary.

The new British express freighter Penrith Castle, third of the uniform fleet of fourteen-knot refrigerator steamers which the Barber Line has chartered from the Lancashire Shipping Company for the New York-Los Angeles-Orient trade, arrived yesterday on her maiden voyage. She will sail early today for Manila and Japan.

Paradux, a forty-foot power yacht owned by C. F. Martin of Long Beach, went ashore early yesterday in the fog off Portuguese Bend with the owner, his wife and two guests aboard. The party succeeded in reaching shore in a skiff and last night a Merritt, Chapman & Scott salvage crew had succeeded in floating the waterlogged craft with pontoons, ready to be towed through the kelp into deep water today. Mr. Martin reported that the main engine broke down while the party was en route to Catalina; an attempt was made to reach port with an outboard motor and the outboard broke down. The yacht then was anchored, but the cable carried away and she drifted ashore.

In answer to persistent reports that she had been lost with all hands in heavy weather off Cedros Island, the eighty-foot auxiliary fishing schooner Progress yesterday safely made port with a fine catch of fifty tons of yellowfin tuna. She is owned and operated by George Sands and John Rawlins.

Deeper and broader channels for the ship of Modern Business

The Equitable Trust Company
and
The Seaboard National Bank announce today their consolidation as
OF NEW YORK

WHEN the mammoth ships of our generation began to move their unprecedented cargoes, channels had to be broadened and deepened to make arrival and departure safe and sure. So, with the growth in trade and industry today, tending toward larger single units of manufacture and distribution, the financial channels also must broaden and deepen.

The consolidation of two well-rounded banking institutions—The Equitable Trust Company and the Seaboard National Bank, reflects this trend. It creates a bank large enough to satisfy the financial needs of our great modern corporations, yet flexible enough to meet every banking requirement of the individual. The new Equitable Trust Company takes its place as one of the outstanding financial institutions of the country. Thousands of important banking affiliations abroad and large offices in London and Paris place it in the front rank of international banks. A great trust organization gives it supremacy in fiduciary fields. Men of established leadership in commerce, finance and law will serve as trustees for the company, lending their judgment and authority to the management of its affairs.

Through the broad experience of trained executive officers from both organizations, an uninterrupted usefulness is assured. Every customer will find in the atmosphere of all Equitable offices the same spirit of personal cordiality and friendly helpfulness which have characterized both organizations in the past.

PATRIARCH OF RUMANIA NEAR DEATH

Miron Cristea's Condition Arouses Speculation as to Successor as Regent

BUCHAREST (Rumania) Sept. 15. (AP)—Miron Cristea, Patriarch of Rumania and Regent, was believed tonight to have little chance of recovery from his present serious illness. His physicians have found that he suffers from leucocythemia (a blood disease) with a probability also of cancer.

The Patriarch has been living recently in a country house amid the mountains and forests of Dragoslavele, which was presented to him by the population of the Muscel district. He was born in 1867 in Toplitea, Transylvania, the son of a farmer. He became bishop of Karansebesch in 1910, archbishop in 1919 and in 1925 was nominated as first Patriarch of the Rumanian Orthodox Church. On the death of Kind Ferdinand he was chosen as a member of the regency council, on which he now serves with Prince Nicholas and former Chief Justice Buzdugan.

The probability that the Patriarch will be unable to exercise again cares of state has led to considerable speculation as to his successor on the regency. The party of Juliu Maniu is said to favor St. Ciceo Pop, Speaker of the lower house. The name of Dowager Queen Marie has been mentioned, but it is more generally suggested that if a member of the royal family is chosen it be the present exile Prince Carol, father of young King Michael.

CRASH KILLS DAIRYMAN

Loud Speakers to be Installed in Old Church

(Copyright, 1929, by the New York Times.)

LONDON, Sept. 15. (Exclusive)—Winchester Cathedral which dates from the fourteenth century is coming under the influence of the modern age. After tests with provisional apparatus the dean and chapter of the cathedral have decided to install microphones and loud speakers at a cost of more than $1500. For many years the difficulty of hearing services in the nave of Winchester, which is the longest cathedral in England, has caused much concern. Twenty-five years ago a soundboard was placed over the pulpit but this was far from successful. This has now been removed and microphones will be provided. Ten loud speakers will be fixed on each side of the nave connected with the pulpit microphone and others throughout the great edifice.

PLATICAS DE LOS LUNES

POR EL PROFESOR RAMON GUERRERO

Varias erratas se deslizaron en mi Plática anterior: 3er párrafo: "por la que" en vez de "por las que"; 4o: "(and)" en vez de "anda)"; 5o: "haciendo violencia" por "haciéndole violencia".

De "Gente Menuda", suplemento infantil que escribe Elena Fortún en el "Blanco y Negro" de Madrid, tomo el siguiente relato, que nos hace la niña Celia:

Tengo mucho que coser . . . Que no me hable nadie . . . Estoy terriblemente ocupada . . . No puedo atender a la muñeca ni al libro de estampas. Juana me ha dado una aguja; una aguja verdadera y unas hebras de seda verdes y azules . . .

Estoy cosiendo de verdad. Haciendo grandes puntadas sobre tela amarilla, que será una bolsa preciosa para doña Benita. ¡Qué sorpresa le voy a dar el día de su santo! . . . Se lo merece la pobre. ¡Es tan buena! . . . Yo he tenido la culpa de que se le estropee su bolsa de terciopelo.

Papá y mamá se marcharon a París y nos dejaron en la sierra con doña Benita y la perra "Dalila". La perra estaba gorda, gorda como una bola; y un día le trajeron siete perritos de no sé dónde . . . De dónde traen los perros. Manuel, el guarda, que es muy tonto, los quería tirar al río.

—¿Pero no ves que eso es una atrocidad?—Son muchos. ¿Para qué queremos siete perros? No sé cómo dice eso, porque él tiene nueve hijos y nadie le ha dicho nada de tirárselos al río.

—Bueno, pues no se tiran. Papá verá lo que hace con ellos cuando venga . . .

También doña Benita se opuso a que los tirara, y los perros se quedaron en casa. ¡Qué contenta está "Dalila"! Los lame, los acaricia, los da de mamar. Solo a mí me deja cogerlos, porque sabe que los quiero tanto como ella . . .

Todos tienen nombre. El mayor se llama "Napoleón"; el otro, "Barrabás"; el chiquito, "Benjamín"; y "Lucero", "Selim", "Dick" y "Teddy", los otros. ¡Qué trabajo me ha costado bautizarlos a todos! Manuel se lleva a "Dalila" de caza todos los días. Es una maldad, porque los perritos se quedan aullando y desamparados.

—No te la lleves, Manuel; ¿no ves que tiene que cuidar a sus hijos? —Tengo que llevármela sin remedio. El señor me advirtió que no dejara un día de cazar. Es una perra muy joven y hay que enseñarla. —Entonces, ¿es como si la llevaras al colegio? —Talmente lo mismo. —Vaya, ¡pobrecita! ¿Y no hay vacaciones para ella? — Cuando cierren la caza; ahora, no.

No he tenido más remedio que conformarme. Los pobres perros se pasan todos los días muchas horas perdidos en la huerta, andando a bandazos, como las barcas viejas . . . Ayer se pegaron mucho. "Barrabás" y "Teddy" mordieron las orejas a "Napoleón", que chillaba como una rata. María, la guardesa, salió con una caña, y a éste quiero y a éste no quiero (eso dice Juana), los molió a cañazos.

—¡Dichosos perros! ¡Me tienen aburrida! ¡Han estropeado todas las lechugas y me han roto un delantal!

—No los pegues, mujer; no los pegues, que son muy pequeñitos! . . . Los he cuidado todo el día para que no hagan travesuras; pero a la hora de salir de paseo no sabía qué hacer con ellos . . . De pronto he tenido una idea. María había tendido a secar los calcetines de su marido, que son grandes y fuertes. En cada uno ha cabidó perfectamente un perrito. Benjamín se hundió del todo y asomaba las narices muy apurado. "Barrabás" se quedó dormido en seguida, tan contento. "Napoleón" sólo tenía la cabeza fuera. Y los otros, con las manitas debajo del hocico, se parecían a los amigos de papá cuando vienen a tomar el café a casa.

Sólo quedaba uno sin funda. ¡No había calcetín para él! Entonces pensé que en la bolsa de doña Benita podría estar divinamente. ¡Yo no sabía que era tan preciosa como ella dice!

La colgué de los cordones, y metí dentro a Lucero, que parecía una señora con abrigo. Al volver de paseo, Juana me dijo que todos los calcetines se habían roto con el peso de los perros, y que la bolsa de doña Benita se había desteñido con las humedades que dejó dentro Lucero. ¡Qué cochino!

María está muy enfadada, y yo no le hago caso. Doña Benita se puso triste; pero me besó en seguida. Por eso le estoy haciendo una bolsa de seda amarilla . . . ¡Dios mío, lo que me he entretenido! Charlando, charlando . . . Pero se acabó. Estoy horriblemente ocupada. Tengo que concluir mi labor para el día de su santo, que es en Nochebuena . . . ¿Vosotras sabéis cómo se pasa el tiempo? No me es posible perder un minuto más . . .

El lenguaje infantil encierra grandes enseñanzas para los que estudian una lengua y desean conocer el estilo familiar. Penétrense bien mis lectores de la construcción y el valor de los modismos aquí usados, y vean de señalar dos o tres gordos solecismos que se le escaparon a la charlatána Celia.

Woman Jailed as Racketeer in Milwaukee

MILWAUKEE, Sept. 15. (Exclusive)—A woman racketeer was revealed here with the arrest of Mrs. Emma Wolters, who said she was the wife of a farmer living at Hayward, Wis.

According to police, she came here last June and since then, her story has been "I have been unable to get back home to Hayward."

She has obtained sums from banks, offices, stores and mistresses of palatial homes, police said. She told them she came here to do some shopping and exhausted her funds. To clinch the sympathy appeal she carried her 4-year-old daughter, Harriet, around with her.

Mrs. Wolters tried a bank and got $10 from the president on the story she came here to attend the funeral of a relative and did not have the return fare.

She tried another bank, but its president had in the meantime been to lunch with the first, who had told him the strange story. This banker called the police.

SEATTLE, Sept. 15. (AP)—The Seventh Pacific Foreign Trades Council Convention, which meets here Wednesday for a three-day session, will bring together business men from all parts of the Pacific Coast and from ten foreign countries.

The list of speakers includes Case R. Howard, manager of the foreign trade department of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, New York; D. A. Skinner, general secretary of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, Washington, D. C.; Carson Taylor, publisher and editor of the Manila Commercial Bulletin; Manual Rustia, commercial agent in New York for the Philippine government; E. D. Peralta, Mexican commercial attache in San Francisco, and E. A. Selfridge, American lumber trade commissioner in London.

Thirty officials of governmental divisions concerned with commerce will feature the trade adviser service. Capt. Robert Dollar will be one of the speakers at the banquet Thursday night.

The sessions will be presided over by A. P. Haines, senior vice-president of the Pacific Foreign Trade Council, and general manager of the American Mail Line.

It is expected that between 600 and 800 manufacturers, agricultural producers, bankers and other foreign traders will attend.

Old-Time Stage Favorite Expires

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept, 15. (AP)—May Mannary Dailey, San Francisco stage favorite of thirty years ago, died at her home here today after an illness of nearly a year. She was 58 years of age.

One of her noted triumphs was in the role of Camille at the old Morosco Theater. She was married at the height of her career to W. R. Dailey, San Francisco producer, and played the lead in several of his productions. Her active interest in the stage ceased about twenty years ago.

Drys Rallied for World Conquest

OAKLAND, Sept. 15. (AP) — The battle against alcoholism is an international one and presents a challenge for the Christian churches of America in foreign mission fields, Dr. Ernest H. Cherrington told the annual conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church here today. Today India is being set upon by international liquor traffic as never before in her history, Dr. Cherrington said, and added that if the present liquor program is permitted to go forward in Africa within a generation that continent will become "a drunken menace to the world."

Students and Faculty Work for Successful Start

Zest of Pride Triumphs Over Confusion of Newness

BY ALMA WHITAKER

[illegible] hallowed old campuses, [illegible] with ancient traditions, are [illegible] to be sneezed at, you under- [illegible] but oh, there is a zest and [illegible] about founding a new [illegible]—planting the seeds of the [illegible] traditions to come—that [illegible] century all its own.

[illegible] Saturday out at the new [illegible] campus at Westwood, [illegible] the dust is inches deep (and [illegible] surely be mud after the first [illegible] where everything is violent- [illegible] and liable to be quite un- [illegible] for months to come; [illegible] students are anxiously [illegible] how they are going to [illegible] their living or transportation [illegible] and good tempers are [illegible] continuously; where the [illegible] is having a hard time get- [illegible] organized and it seems im- [illegible] that things will be ready [illegible] Friday and Saturday, reg- [illegible] days . . .

[illegible] ZEST OF PRIDE

MEXICANS FETE INDEPENDENCE

Colorful Costumes Feature Event

Participants in Natal Day Celebration

Mexican children and elders celebrate anniversary of Mexican independence in colorful costumes.

Ten thousand former residents of Mexico, many of them dressed in the gay costumes of their native country, celebrated yesterday and last night in Lincoln Park on the 119th anniversary of Mexico's independence.

The program came to a climax at 11 p.m., the hour that independence was proclaimed more than a century ago, when the crowd raised its voice in chorus singing of the Mexican national hymn and of America.

All day long troupe after troupe of Mexican dancers, singers and acrobats entertained their countrymen on the outdoor stage at the park.

Tiny young senoritas and gay little dons, wearing miniature colorful suits and dresses of their forebears, whirled through lively native dances and clicked their heels to the time of castenets. They are the proteges of Edward Valencia, artist and teacher, and they brought cheers from the crowd for their part on the all-Mexican program.

Dr. Julio Marcias and Andres Fernandez sounded a formal note on the gala program for a few minutes in addresses on the happiness of the Mexican people in having an independent nation and in the advantages being offered to those who make their homes in the United States.

The anniversary of the first day of Mexican freedom will be marked at 6 o'clock this morning at the park with the hoisting of the flags of Mexico and the United States. Four hours later a parade, led by Consul F. Alfonso Pasqueira and his staff, will form at the Plaza and proceed to Lincoln Park. At noon Consul Pasqueira will speak and introduce Mayor Porter and Armando Vargas De La Maza. The program of music, singing and dancing will continue this afternoon, and the celebration will come to a close tonight with a dance in the Lincoln Pleasure Park skating rink.

ORCHESTRA ARRANGES HEARINGS

Philharmonic Invites Local Artists to Try for Place on Programs

Edwin H. Clark, chairman of the music committee of the Philharmonic Orchestra, announced yesterday that a series of auditions will be held, almost immediately, for local artists who wish to try out for an appearance at the popular concerts.

Dr. Arthur Rodzinski, new leader of the orchestra, is now making up his programs for the coming season, which begins October 24-25, and both he and Mr. Clark cordially invite all resident artists who feel they are competent to appear on a popular concert program, to come before the committee.

Applications should be sent to the Philharmonic Orchestra Audition Board, room 424, Auditorium Building. As only a limited number can be heard at each audition applications should be in as soon as possible, in order to assure an early hearing.

WOMAN'S PURSE SNATCHED

Mrs. H. Murphy of 376 South Burlington avenue was the victim of a purse snatcher late Saturday night, she reported to police yesterday. As she walked through the shadow cast by a large tree at Bonnie Brae avenue and Wilshire Boulevard, the thief, she said, leaped out, grabbed her purse, and ran. The purse contained $25 worth of valuables, she said.

MAIN STREET SHOW RAIDED

Three Men and Seven Scantily Clad Women Taken in Spectacular Door-Smashing Drive

Seven girls and three men were arrested and the "Girlesque" show at 541 South Main street closed yesterday afternoon following the matinee performance, when police investigators smashed through doors and dressing rooms in a sudden and secret drive on exhibitions that have been under question for several weeks.

The raid was ordered by City Prosecutor Nix, and some 1200 spectators looked on while Detective Lieutenant Church of the Central Station vice squad and a dozen men, and Investigators McGee, Hagerty, Horn, Fleming and O'Keefe from the prosecutor's office photographed the actresses in their scant costumes and then loaded them into the police wagon.

"This is only the beginning of a crusade we have planned," Nix declared, "not only on indecent shows along Main street, but also on clubs which make a practice of giving lewd dances. Our investigators are busy gathering evidence and we are going to ask the maximum penalty of the law, which includes both heavy fines and jail sentences."

The show, according to the reports of the investigators, is a succession of entertainments starting with an exhibition of serpents and living pictures with draped models. The initial admission, the officers said, was a dime, and progressed higher until the final attraction, after passing through a series of corridors and dark halls, was presented at a half-dollar door charge.

The performers and managers booked at Central station on charges of presenting an obscene and lewd show and the actresses are: Sam Lauderman, 38, Huntington Hotel; Minas Simon, 48; 541 South Main street; Arthur Penrose, 26, 541 South Main street, and Jean Guion, 24, 843 Maple avenue; Babe Perry, 27, 5123 South Figueroa street; Marie Ager, 22, 541 South Main street; Carroll Powell, 24, Huntington Hotel; Myrtle Parkhurst, 29, St. George Hotel; Helen Martin, 26, 719 West Ocean avenue, Long Beach, and Alice Parker, 831 Maple avenue.

FOKKER PLANE PLANT TO START

Thirty-three Acres Will be Used for Factory

First Ship Will be Turned Out in Three Months

Buildings to Cost $300,000, Hanshue States

Immediate construction of the Pacific Coast branch of the Fokker airplane factory on a thirty-three-acre tract adjoining the Western Air Express terminal in Alhambra was announced yesterday by James A. Talbot, chairman of the board of the Fokker Airplane Company and a director of the Western Air Express. The plant will be devoted exclusively to the manufacture of the DP-32 type of Fokker planes, Talbot said, and will turn out its first ship in three months.

TWO PLANES WEEKLY

Harris M. Hanshue, president and general manager of both companies, will have charge of the installation of the equipment and buildings, which will cost approximately $300,000. A production of two of the giant planes weekly is planned. This production probably will be doubled within the next eighteen months or two years, as the business increases, officials of the company said.

The DP-32 type plane, the largest of any passenger plane in the United States, received its first test a week ago and has been given the enthusiastic approval of the Western Air officials who witnessed the flights. The ship is ninety-nine feet over the wings, seventy-five in length and its highest point above the ground is eighteen feet. It has accommodations for thirty-two passengers for day-time flying and berths for sixteen. A kitchen, two lavatories and a complete set of safety and radio appliances, aviation experts declare, rate it as the most comfortable plane in use.

SIX SHIPS ORDERED

Six of the giant ships have been ordered for spring delivery by the Western Air Express and will be placed on the routes of the company between this city and San Francisco and Kansas City. The DP-32 planes will carry four motors of 550 horsepower each and it is said that two of them will sustain flight.

Hanshue said yesterday that approximately 500 men will be employed in the construction of the planes when the factory is opened and that this number will be increased to 1500 within a short time.

TIGHTER NET ON FRUIT FLY TO BE URGED

Supervisors to Consider County's Plea to Increase Precautions at Border

The County Board of Supervisors today will consider a resolution asking that the present State regulations against the Mediterranean fruit fly be strengthened.

While not criticising the present methods of inspection at State lines, W. D. Parker, chairman of the County Agricultural Commission, says he believes the regulations at the Mexican border should be made more stringent and he asks the Supervisors to take up with State authorities the matter of increasing the number of inspectors on duty.

Chairman Parker points out in his letter the generally known dangers of fruit fly infestation in California, and asks that facilities for searching the handbags and personal baggage of all travelers be installed. He recommends also that the inspection be extended to passengers on coastwise vessels disembarking from British Columbia ports.

City Pays Cost of Abandoned Improvement

Although the property owners in the assessment districts usually are forced to pay referees' fees and other costs when a street opening and widening project is abandoned, the City Council has appropriated $10,338.87 to pay such costs growing out of the proceedings to widen Fifty-fourth street between Vermont and Normandie avenues, which have been abandoned.

DEL VALLE HURT IN CRASH

Former Water Department Head in Auto Collision; Woman Dies as Result of Traffic Injuries

R. F. Del Valle, 74 years of age, former president of the Department of Water and Power, was injured seriously in a traffic accident yesterday morning. He was taken to the Georgia-street Receiving Hospital suffering from head lacerations, a severely wrenched back and shock.

Other traffic accidents resulted in the death of Mrs. Alice Ellis, 71, of 2125 Reservoir street, and serious injuries to five men and two children.

R F Del Valle

Del Valle was injured when the automobile in which he was riding with Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Dryden, old-time friends of 2110 West Vernon avenue, collided with an automobile driven by W. Westergaard of 217-A South Realtor Road, Beverly Hills. The accident occurred at Wilshire Boulevard and Highland avenue. The Drydens were slightly bruised, it was stated, and also were given emergency treatment at the Receiving Hospital.

Witnesses of the crash, according to Officer Slope, who made a preliminary investigation, declared Westergaard's car was traveling at about thirty-five miles an hour when it passed several other cars and crashed into the left side of Mr. Dryden's car. Westergaard's machine, it was stated, was going east on Wilshire Boulevard. Dryden had made the boulevard stop going north on Highland avenue and was about in the middle of the intersection when struck, according to Officer Slope's report.

Del Valle stated he had just been to church and was accompanng Mr. and Mrs. Dryden for a short trip into San Fernando Valley. His home is at 3506 South Figueroa street.

TAKEN TO SANITARIUM

After emergency treatment had been given him at the Georgia-street Receiving Hospital he was taken to the Chase Sanitarium where a special nurse was provided. At the hospital last night he was reported as resting easy.

Mrs. Ellis was struck down on the 8th inst. by an automobile driven by Lynn L. Anderson, 24, of 947 West Twelfth street, according to a police report. The accident occurred at Alvarado and Reservoir streets.

Anderson was arrested at the scene of the accident on a charge of driving while intoxicated. This charge later was reduced to reckless driving. Anderson is scheduled to be arraigned in Municipal Court today on this charge, but police yesterday announced they will seek a manslaughter complaint as the result of the death of Mrs. Ellis.

Fred Adams, 25, of 1234 East Seventh street, suffered a possible skull fracture in a freak accident at Ninth street and Grand avenue late Saturday night. After having

RELOCATION OF HIGHWAY LINK ASKED

Steps Taken to Reduce Heavy Grade on Coast Road Near El Segundo

Elimination of heavy grades on the Coast highway between Playa del Rey and Manhattan Beach by the relocation of a mile-long stretch is requested of the City Council in a communication from the Venice branch of the Chamber of Commerce. The matter has been referred to the Council's Public Works and Street Opening and Widening committees.

The section which would be relocated begins with a sharp dip from the bluffs to the beach just north of the Standard Oil Company pier near El Segundo and ends at Hawthorne avenue in Manhattan Beach.

The plan contemplates the abandonment of the present right of way and the moving back of the road to the bluffs about an eighth of a mile from the present road. This would keep the grade along the whole stretch of highway virtually uniform.

It is estimated that the cost of the project would be about $80,000, as the Chamber of Commerce is confident that most of the new right of way would be deeded to the city free. The Board of Supervisors will be asked to join the city in the project, as part of the highway runs through county territory.

MRS. BRIGHAM'S BODY TO REST AT PULLMAN

Funeral services for Mrs. L. E. Brigham, 4129 Griffith avenue, will be conducted today at 2 p.m., from the Ivy Overholzer funeral parlors, 1719 South Flower street. The body will be taken to Pullman, Wash., for interment. Mrs. Brigham leaves two sons, Dr. W. Curtis Brigham, and Dr. Harry Brigham, and one daughter, Mrs. Lawrence Bishop of Pullman.

AGE DECLARED STATE OF MIND

Nonagenarian Tells Why Years Rest Lightly Upon Her and Recommends Shunning Worry as More Beneficial Than Face-Lifting

If Mrs. Louisa Dreyfuss, who will celebrate her ninety-fifth birthday anniversary Thursday, knows anything about it, age is entirely a state of mind.

The mere fact that she has watched nearly a century roll by has little, if anything, to do with it. Her ninety-five years rest lightly on her shoulders because, she says, she has enjoyed every one of them. Early in life she resolved to take existence a day at a time, make the most of every hour, and let the future take care of itself. That is her philosophy, and she recommends it as vastly superior to face-lifting or other operations designed to ward off advancing age.

When Mrs. Dreyfuss first came to Los Angeles in the early fifties, the town was only a village. She was born at Nevada City and was married at Grass Valley, a few miles away. Her husband was County Treasurer there for six consecutive terms. They had twelve children, seven of whom are living. Her husband has been dead forty years.

Does she think the world is growing better or worse? That depends. Conditions have changed so greatly since she was a girl that comparisons are difficult. Personally she is not in accord with women smoking cigarettes and drinking liquor. Smoking, she believes, is bad enough when men indulge, but there

ANGELENOS SET ALTITUDE MARK

Drive Loaded Stock Plane Up 23,200 Feet

Excess Gasoline Prevents Higher Climb

Flight Made From Field on Western Avenue

Pointing the nose of their airplane to a height of nearly four and one-half miles, Jack Frye and Lieut. Paul V. Richter, Jr., president and vice-president, respectively, of the Aero Corporation of California, yesterday established a new unofficial American altitude record for stock-model commercial-type airplanes.

The story of their sky-scraping climb was told by their altimeter, which showed that a little more than an hour after leaving the ground at the company's field at Ninety-fourth steet and Western avenue they touched a "ceiling" of 23,200 feet, shattering by nearly a half-mile the previous American record brought down from a 20,820-foot level on July 26, last, by Waldo Waterman, veteran pilot and manager of the Metropolitan Airport. The feat was observed by Joe Nikrent, official timer of the National Aeronautic Association, who last night dispatched the plane's barograph to Washington for calibration by the Bureau of Standards. This is expected to result, within a week, in official recognition of the mark as a new American record. The plane used is a tri-motored Fokker.

TON OF SAND

Frye and Richter took off at 9:46:30 a.m., after a record-smashing run down the field, and returned to earth at 11:31, the record-smashing climb consuming 1 hour, 44 minutes, 30 seconds. The gross weight of the big ship was 12,500 pounds. This included the weight of oxygen equipment, and a pay-load consisting of sand-bags weighing 2200 pounds.

Sticking to no particular course, and aiming only to return with a mark for other commercial transports to shoot at, the pilots soared steadily upward. Although visibility to eastward was clear, their log revealed, the rest was shrouded in thick fog. At 8000 feet the flyers found themselves over Wrigley Field, which they left behind to wing their way over Beverly Hills and Culver City.

EXCESS GASOLINE

At an altitude of 18,000 feet they adjusted their oxygen-breathing apparatus, which had been provided by the Los Angeles Fire Department, and prepared to climb still another mile into the rarified air, where the temperature was recorded as 28 deg. above zero. Attaining 23,200 feet and unable to coax their winged charge another foot higher because of the weight of more fuel than they needed, they tilted the Fokker's nose earthward and began the descent in a slow spiral glide. They appeared within sight of observers on the field at 11:14 and touched the wheels of the ship to the ground at 11:31. An inspection of the ship, following the landing, disclosed 100 gallons of gas in the fuel tanks. Had they made a more minute calculation as to gasoline supply, the pilots said, they undoubtedly could have climbed considerably higher in their assault on Waterman's record.

An interesting sidelight on the flight was the precaution taken by Frye and Richter in releasing some of the air from the tires of the undercarriage prior to the take-off. This was done, it was pointed out, to prevent their bursting due to the thin air prevalent in the upper strata. It made the hop-off, however, not only extremely difficult but hazardous.

NEAR WORLD MARK

The new record established yesterday is considered spectacular by aviation experts, in that it is only 2741 feet under the world mark of 25,941 feet attained in 1928 by Reginald Schinziger, over Dessau, Germany. The foreigner, moreover, was aided by a supercharger attached to his single-motored Junkers plane, in which he made the flight. Frye and Richter were benefited by no supercharger.

The ship piloted by Frye and Richter yesterday is known as "The Arizonan." It is of 1275 horsepower and was christened at Phoenix, August 4, last, by Miss Ruth Phillips, daughter of Gov. Phillips of Arizona. Officials of the Aero Cor-

PLANE PASSES SECRET TESTS

Ship With New Type Tail Will be Built on Large Scale in Glendale or San Diego

A mystery monoplane which has been undergoing secret tests before navy officers at San Diego and which was designed by Donald A. Hall, builder of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh's plane Spirit of St. Louis, will be commercially produced in Southern California by a $5,000,000 concern now undergoing incorporation, it was declared last night by Seth T. Heney and Walter F. Parker, Hall's associates in the aircraft project.

Factory sites at Glendale and San Diego are under consideration and the first ship will get under way within four months, Heney stated.

The new craft is the result of nearly two years' research and testing by Hall, who spent $200,000 during this time working out engineering problems.

NO STABILIZERS

The plane is known as a low-winged tandem monoplane, and its outstanding departure from standard airplane design is the absence of both tail stabilizers. Where the ordinary plane has stationary horizontal and vertical planes on its tail with hinged flippers attached, Hall's plane has a movable wing half as large as the main forward wing and connected to the control stick for up and down control. Likewise the turn fin is one piece and is connected with the controls.

Hall says that the new tail arrangement nearly doubles the plane's load-carrying power as compared to similar wing surface of other planes, and that the ship is so stable it cannot spin accidentally.

Navy tests, Hall pointed out, showed that the plane will not take off at stalling speed, will maneuver faster than standard pursuit planes and will adjust itself to a load placed anywhere in the fuselage.

NO GROUND LOOP

Extra wide landing gear prevents it from turning over in a ground loop, the designer said. He de-

Miss Pola Negri is a lady of fine irony. Having moved away from Hollywood, where nearly all the waitresses and hat-check girls are countesses or duchesses, she is going back to Europe—and resigns her job as a princess of Georgia—via Paris divorce.

There is a saying in Russia that every one in Georgia who owns two sheep is a prince. Perhaps the Princess M'Divani also has sold her sheep.

SLAMMING CLEOPATRA

The unmarked grave of Cleopatra has been found in Paris.

She has been called "the woman who drove Marc Antony mad and ruined an empire."

Recent investigations show that Cleopatra was a gentle, refined, highly educated young girl who could converse with the officers of the forty nationalities which made up her army—each in his own language. She was sacrificed by politicians to Caesar—exactly as bones are thrown to vicious dogs.

THE BLOODY SHIRT

The Civil War broke out again at the G.A.R. convention. One delegate voiced the evidently approved-of opinion that the Confederate veterans "were wrong in 1861 and until they admit they were wrong, we will not join with them."

It seems impossible now to believe there could have been a war between the North and the South. This little row of the old veterans sounds like an echo of a dream.

Bull Montana's bride-to-be discloses the startling secret that Bull is a great lover and will, one day, take a leading part in a great love epic.

Just at the moment, I am not prepared for Bull as a quivering Romeo; but I can contribute this other state secret. I once worked with a professional psychologist and physiognomist who looked over all the stars in Hollywood and decided that Bull had the finest character and the most essentials of kindness and courage of any of the actors.

Bull has a more modest idea of his prowess. He says he is good in talkies because he can make "the terrible noise."

BOOTLEG

One obstacle met with in all cases like the Pantages trial is that no one knows whether or not any one is drunk. Except the party most interested. And even she—or he—isn't always quite sure as to the source of the exuberant feeling.

SUGAR DIAMONDS

Prof. Willard Hershey proved to the American Chemical Society on Thursday last that real diamonds can be made with a little sugar and a ten-ton weight. This last badge of glory having been taken from the fat wives of the newly rich, nothing remains for them but to fall back on building more "Mediterranean houses." Every flapper has a sugar bowl. We know now what the gold diggers really mean by "sugar daddies."

DOOR-SLAMMING CHARGED

After testifying that her husband slammed a door on her mother's arm, causing a painful injury, Mrs. Merle McCusker was granted a divorce from Byan McCusker by Superior Judge Guerin. The wife said McCusker slammed the door while her mother was attempting to protect her from him during a fit of rage. She also accused her husband of associating with other women.

Scores of Police with Bloodhounds in Arroyo Seco Man Hunt

DRAGNET SEEKS OUT FUGITIVE

Man Who Shot Patrolman May be Hidden in Brush

Auto Used to Make Escape Also Found There

"Ready for Bulls" Was Word Given by Suspect

Spurred by a report that a man believed to be Clarence C. Connor had been seen in the Arroyo Seco, seventy-five policemen from Pasadena and stations here surrounded the vicinity, closed all roads through the area and late last night a special detail was using blood hounds in searching through the underbrush.

Connor is a fugitive and wanted on a charge of shooting Patrolman Harry C. Kailey outside the home of L. H. Truesdale, at 5232 Baltimore street, Highland Park, last Thursday morning. The hunt was started early yesterday, and several men were detained, but Connor had not been located at midnight.

Belief that the man seen there is Connor was strengthened by the subsequent finding of an abandoned automobile believed to have been the one in which the fugitive not only made his escape from the scene of the shooting, but also eluded police and detectives Friday after they thought they had him in their grasp outside the residence of his sister, Mrs. W. E. Bedall at 514 Hawthorne street.

CHECK ON AUTO

The car found in the Arroyo, according to Captain of Detectives George Smith of the Highland Park division, who is in charge of the man hunt, is a De Soto sedan, registered to the Hills Auto Rental Agency at 6139 Hollywood Boulevard. In the machine was found a necktie, an exploded .32-caliber Colt cartridge and a Los Angeles map on which the intersection of Hollywood Boulevard and Cahuenga Terrace had been marked.

Finding of the car followed a report telephoned to Capt. Smith by Andrew McCray, 230 South Hudson street, Pasadena, a negro city employee, that a man answering Connor's general description had made his appearance in the Arroyo Seco.

READY FOR "BULLS"

According to Capt. Smith, McCray said a stranger approached him early yesterday afternoon, in the vicinity of the dump-heap near the Pasadena Rose Bowl, and inquired if there were "any bulls" around there. When the negro told him he didn't believe so, the man remarked: "Well, if there are, let them come around . . . I'm ready for them!" Then he borrowed a cigarette and asked for a drink of water and walked away.

The stranger, it is reported, was unkempt, with several days' growth of beard on his face, and walked with a pronounced limp. Recalling that police attributed a limp to Connor, due to an artificial leg, the negro city employee became suspicious and telephoned the information to Capt. Smith.

Capt. Smith at once asked for all available officers from Central, Lincoln Heights and Boyle Heights police divisions to augment his own Highland Park forces. Descending into the arroyo, the vanguard of officers came on the abandoned automobile. Capt. Smith said he believed the capture of Connor was only a matter of hours.

SOUGHT SINCE THURSDAY

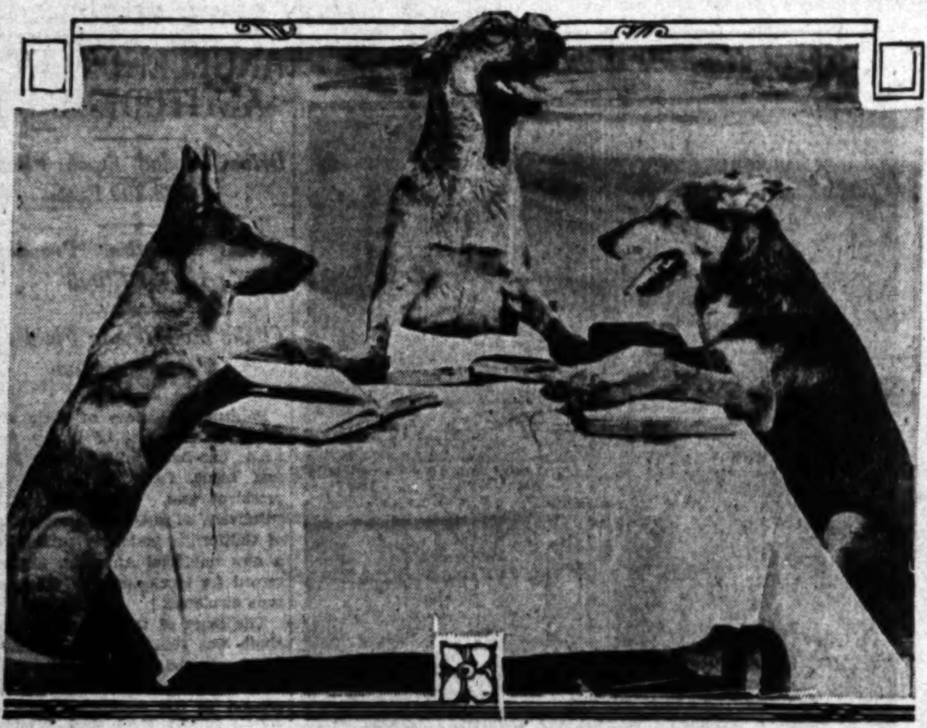
Connor has been sought since daybreak last Thursday when he is asserted to have wounded Patrolman Kailey, when surprised at the home of his sweetheart. Kailey had been posted at the Truesdale home at the request of Truesdale, who reported Connor had appeared at the house the day before, brandishing a gun and threatening to shoot his daughter Beatrice, of whom he is said to have been intensely jealous.

At the sound of an automobile stopping in front of the house, Kailey came out to investigate and fell to the ground with four bullet wounds, one in his cheek and three in his legs. He is recovering at Georgia-street Receiving Hospital.

MISSOURIANS TO FROLIC

Former residents of Missouri are invited to attend a program and dance to be given by the Missouri Society tomorrow evening at Moose Hall, 1621 South Grand avenue. There will be vocal solos by Louise Prien and Eugenia Ohlsson, tap dancing and readings by Dolores and Evelyn Henke, Spanish songs by H. S. Kebre and community singing led by Miss Reba Terry.

Dog-Eared Volume of Doggerel Should Please Them



Literature Gone to Bow-wows

DOG-EARED books are no novelty, but the palpitating world had to wait until now for dog-pawed volumes such as are handled in scholarly manner by Fritz, a police dog, and his sons, Fritz, Jr., and Blackie, police pups. The bookish dogs are owned by L. C. Haynes of 4784 Whittier avenue, and although it has not been proved that they actually can read, they like to pose with their favorite tomes. This permits some mad wag to observe that literature is going to the dogs.

Fritz is 3 years of age and wears spectacles while conning a book. Fritz, Jr., and Blackie, though only two months of age, dumfounded their owner by going through their papa's tricks without coaching. Possibly Fritz coached them in these tricks, although not a coach dog. In fact, the pups some times have to remind Fritz how to do his stuff, although never trying to teach him new tricks, having learned the futility of trying to teach an old dog.

Although the two pups are not a litter they are literary. When suitable reading was considered for them, they were given a book of poetry with lots of doggerel, and a volume on archeology, dealing with recovering of buried bones.

SURF CLUB MERGER LIKELY

Hermosa Beach Group Expected to Unite With Los Angeles Athletic Organization

The Surf and Sand Club of Hermosa Beach may be added to the list of organizations merged with the Los Angeles Athletic Club, according to officials of the latter club who yesterday declared negotiations are under way for the consolidation. Several meetings already have been held between representatives of the two clubs, the announcement said, and an agreement has been reached subject to the approval of the members of the Hermosa organization.

The Hermosa Club here was built seven years ago, the first of the beach clubs, and although it does not own its own beach, the clubhouse is located on a block fronting on the municipally owned strand at Hermosa Beach. The clubhouse represents an investment of approximately $750,000 and contains a plunge, dining-room, grill for bathers and recently has been remodeled and furnished. The club is seven stories in height.

A final decision on the proposed merger probably will be reached sometime this week when the directors of the Hermosa club are expected to put their offer in escrow for acceptance of the Los Angeles Athletic Club. If successful, the plan will open the doors of the Pacific Coast Club at Long Beach, the Los Angeles Gun Club in Kern county, the Santa Monica Athletic Club, the Hollywood Athletic Club and the Los Angeles Athletic Club to the members of the Hermosa Club and in turn the members of the other clubs will receive entry to the Surf and Sand quarters.

The officers of the Surf and Sand Club are: J. Lanterman, president; W. L. Stevens, vice-president; A. S. Haneman, secretary, and G. S. Thatcher, secretary.

TAX COUNSEL RESIGNS

George G. Witter Plans to Enter Private Practice of Law

George G. Witter, for five years special counsel for the United States in income-tax cases, has resigned to enter the private practice of law in this city.

During the past year Mr. Witter has been special counsel for the Bureau of Internal Revenue on the Pacific Coast. He took an active part in the investigation of asserted tax irregularities in the Hollywood motion-picture colony, resulting in the indictment of numerous film celebrities and their tax advisers.

In Los Angeles Mr. Witter will be associated with Marc F. Mitchell with law offices in the Petroleum Securities Building, specializing in Federal tax matters.

Plans for her birthday party are simple. There will be a family dinner at the Dreyfuss home, 1612 West Twenty-fourth street, followed by a reception in the afternoon. Pioneer residents of the city, most of whom are well acquainted with Mrs. Dreyfuss, are especially welcome, the family announced. The dinner guests will include all of her children, fourteen grandchildren and eleven great-grandchildren.

Her own children are Mrs. Emma Phillips of Los Angeles, Mrs. Fred Fleischman and Mrs. Madeline Berger, both of Tucson, Jacob and Julius Dreyfuss of this city, Moye Dreyfuss of San Francisco and Will Dreyfuss of Tucson.

The new company intends to produce mail, pursuit and cabin transport planes. Heney declared no public stock issue will be made, but that local, St. Louis and New York capitalists are backing the project.

Hall's plane was guarded carefully during construction and testing at San Diego and the navy tests never have been made public. Col. Lindbergh has flown the plane and is one of Hall's close friends, according to Heney.

The unique ship now is in St. Louis, but will be brought back here soon. Hall has designed aircraft for ten years and became internationally known when the plane he designed for the Ryan company successfully crossed the Atlantic.

While walking across Glendale Boulevard in the 3000 block Herman P. Furst, 54, of 3626 Seneca avenue, was hit by an automobile driven by Otto Demmart of 420 North Isabel street, Glendale, police reported. He was taken to the Georgia-street Receiving Hospital with a skull fracture. After emergency treatment he was transferred to the General Hospital where his condition, late yesterday, was reported critical.

Running into the street at Ninety-fourth street and Broadway, Jimmy Peterson, 4, of 421 West Ninety-seventh street, was hit by an automobile driven by Zigmot Sokolowski of 406 West One Hundred and Eleventh street, suffering a possible basal skull fracture. He was transferred from the Receiving to the Orothopaedic Hospital.

Run over by his own automobile when he cranked the motor while in gear, Robert W. Byon, 57, suffered a crushed chest and fractured left leg. The accident occurred in front of his home at 2668 South Vermont avenue.

Herman Furst, 51, 3614 Seneca street, who was injured in an automobile accident Saturday died last night.

Fred C. Allen, 38, prominent Long Beach attorney, is in a critical condition in the Long Beach Community Hospital, suffering from injuries received when he was struck by an automobile yesterday on a highway one mile west of Westminster.

An automobile in which two Mexicans were riding is reported by police to have struck Allen while he was changing a tire on his car, parked at the side of the highway. Allen is an active member of the Bar Association in the beach city. He resides at 1030 South Lake street, Long Beach.

Isaac Gillamuega, 3, of 443 North Concord street, was seriously injured when an automobile jumped the curb in front of his home and struck him while he was at play on the lawn. The car, according to police, was driven by Dario Ramirez of 4651 Dozier street. After a sobriety test, administered by police surgeons, he was booked on a charge of driving while intoxicated. The injured boy was taken to Georgia street Receiving Hospital, where he was reported suffering a possible fracture of the skull and a deep laceration of the scalp.

INDIAN FIGHTERS CONVENE

Five Hundred Veteran Soldiers and Scouts Meet Here for Annual Reunion

Colorful events of the Indian fighting days of the early "nineties" were re-enacted and related by those who actually took part in that part of the stirring history of the United States, at the opening session of the first annual convention of the United Indian War Veterans yesterday. The convention is being held for three days at the Disabled Veterans' Hall, 246 South Hill street.

More than 500 veteran soldiers and scouts of the Indian wars throughout the western frontier attended the opening session.

Mayor Porter was to have made the address of welcome when the session opened at 10 o'clock yesterday, but because of his attendance at church his speech was deferred to a later session. At the afternoon session the election of officers for the ensuing year was held and Charles M. Wooley of San Francisco was chosen as national commander. Horace B. Mulkey of Los Angeles is the retiring commander.

NOTED FIGURES

Among the interesting figures at the convention are scouts and Indian fighters renowned throughout the world in the days when Gen. Wallace, Gen. Sheridan and Gen. Crook chased and fought marauding Indians over the mountains and plains of the Dakotas, Arizona, New Mexico and Wyoming.

One of the noted Indian fighters at the convention is Charles Kaysing, 1416 El Centro avenue, South Pasadena, who is the youngest survivor of the Indian wars. He was a member of the Seventh United States Cavalry, which he said fought 32,000 Sioux Indians at the battle of Wounded Knee in 1890. He was wounded in the battle.

SKULL CRUSHERS

He recounted how the battle was a hand-to-hand engagement, with the Indians wielding "skull-crushers," described as weapons made of stones attached to hickory clubs.

Kaysing was one of the body guards of Gen. Phillip Sheridan's funeral cortege at St. Louis in 1891 and was a friend of Gen. Lew Wallace and frequently corresponded with the general before the latter's death. In 1892 Kaysing's company chased the notorious Indian marauder "Apache Kid" for two months through the mountains of Arizona before he was captured.

VETERAN SCOUT

Another interesting figure at the convention is William Taylor, who was 101 years of age last July. Taylor was a scout for the United States Army and was a much-feared frontiersman in the Indian-fighting days. One of his closest pals at the convention is 7-year-old William Kaysing, who has been appointed staff sergeant of the Gen. Crook Post, No. 1, of the organization. The convention will remain in session during the afternoons and evenings until tomorrow night.

PANTAGES CASE RESUMES TODAY

Two Ill Jurors Completely Recover After Outing

More Than Twenty Defense Witnesses Await Call

Both Sides Plan to Present Lengthy Rebuttals

Illness of two members of the jury hearing the trial of Mrs. Lois Pantages on a charge of murder will not delay the hearing, it was announced last night by Superior Judge Hardy.

The two jurors were reported as completely recovered from the sudden attack of Saturday when they returned yesterday with the other members from a day spent in an automobile ride and a picnic dinner, and on receipt of this word the convening of the court at 9:30 a.m. today was ordered.

The twelve jurors and two alternates have been confined and guarded at a downtown hotel during the nights since the start of the Pantages hearing, with only occasional walks under the supervision of Bailiff Ryan as their recreation.

OUTING ORDERED

Two of the fourteen were reported ill in bed late Friday night and their illness continued through Saturday morning. The matter was referred to Judge Hardy, who ordered the outing yesterday as a precaution against the illness being aggravated by continued confinement.

Eleven defense witnesses already have placed their version of the Pantages-Rokumoto automobile accident at Serrano avenue and Sunset Boulevard, which resulted in the death of Joe Rokumoto and the murder charge against Mrs. Pantages, in the record, following the close of the prosecution.

A new list of more than a score of witnesses, who are expected to continue the defense battle against the evidence introduced by the prosecution, will be in attendance when the trial gets under way today.

Dep. Dist.-Attys. Costello, Jones and Van Cott, prosecuting the case which began more than two weeks ago, rested last Thursday afternoon after the State's side of the legal battle had been presented by more than a score of witnesses.

REBUTTAL WITNESSES

Another dozen or so prosecution witnesses will testify in rebuttal when the defense has rested, according to information given out by the prosecutor, and then probably a like number of rebuttal witnesses will be called by Max Steuer, New York attorney, and W. I. Gilbert and Joseph Ford for the defense.

Little hope was expressed by either side that the case will be finished before the end of this week. Bitter cross-examination by the prosecutors, as well as the length of most of the direct examination, together with the list of witnesses expected to be called by the defense, the attorneys say, make an earlier ending of the sensational case improbable.

State and City Posts Will be Kept by Woods

Although James Woods will resign as managing director of the Los Angeles Biltmore he does not intend to give up his place on the health commission here or on the State Boxing Commission, it was indicated in San Francisco dispatches last night.

Woods is in the northern city suffering a slight illness, but his sudden decision to leave the local Biltmore as executive head is not due to ill health, the hotel man declared.

"I am arranging for partial retirement and a vacation trip around the world," Woods said. "Whether I shall retain my financial interests in the Biltmore I have not yet determined, but I have decided to give my total attention to the Woods-Drury Corporation of San Francisco."

Charles Baad, present manager of the Biltmore, probably will take over Woods's position here, it is understood.

NEW COURT FINDS WORK IN PLENTY

Appellate Division Rules on 207 Cases in First Week of Existence

Fifty-two appealed criminal cases from the Municipal Court will take up the time of the appellate division of the Superior Court when the newly formed tribunal opens for work tomorrow. It will be the first day of the second week of existence of the new court.

A total of 207 cases, 137 criminal actions and seventy civil, occupied the time of the court during its two-day session last week, according to the records of Jerry Williams, clerk.

On the 24th inst. the court will hear thirty-seven criminal cases and on the 26th it will dispose of twenty-one civil cases.

Up until October 1 Superior Judge McComb will preside in the absence of Superior Judge McLucas, now on a tour of Europe, who is the regularly appointed presiding judge of the new court. Superior Judge Shaw, another regularly appointed judge of the court, is absent because of illness. His place is being filled for the time by Superior Judge Doran. Superior Judge Bishop is the third judge of the tribunal.

SERVICES COMBINED

Coalition between the Standard's passenger line between Los Angeles and El Paso, and the Aeronautic Transport Corporation, which operates a passenger service in Mexico, was announced by Frye, yesterday.

Although there has been no financial merger the two companies have combined their passenger services into one organization to operate on a regular schedule between Mexico City and Los Angeles. The Standard Air Lines operates tri-motored Fokker planes on a daily schedule to Phoenix, Tucson and El Paso and return. The Aeronautic Transport Corporation operates Hornet-motored Lockheed planes between El Paso, Chihuahua, Torreon, Jimines and Mexico City.

The first through passengers for Mexico City are scheduled to leave the airport of the Aero Corporation of California at 8:30 a.m. today. Several officials of the company, including President Frye, also will be aboard for the first trip.

Death Calls A. L. Bagnall

A. L. Bagnall, Los Angeles philanthropist and president of the Chicsan Oil Company of Santa Fe Springs, died unexpectedly in Berlin last Saturday, according to word received by friends here yesterday. Death is attributed to cerebral hemorrhage.

Mr. Bagnall came to this city five years ago from Japan, where he was president of the Tokio Electric Company and known as the "Edison of Japan." He left here last June for a world-tour, accompanied by his wife. A son, Charles, is a student at Yale. The family residence is at 951 South Western avenue.

BLAZE IN REAR OF STORE

Fire of unknown origin gutted the rear section of the S. S. Livingston hardware store at 627 South Main street early yesterday, causing damage estimated at $5000. Prompt action by firemen prevented spread of the blaze to other sections of the two-story brick building and to adjacent stores.

Six Will Enter Their Pleas on Bribery Charges

More Indictments Declared to be Due Tomorrow

Numerous Witnesses Heard in Grand Jury Quiz

Six members of the Los Angeles police department accused of accepting bribes for protecting bootleggers, are scheduled to appear before Superior Judge Aggler at 2 p.m. today, to enter their pleas to the charge.

The defendants are at liberty under $10,000 bond each.

CHARGES LISTED

Ledbetter and Evans are charged with accepting $750 on October 15, [illegible], from Harry D. McDonald, to refrain from arresting him on a charge of receiving stolen property. Peterson, Hill and Sale are accused of accepting $600 from McDonald on January 25, last, for failing to prosecute him on a charge of violation of the Wright Act. The third indictment charges that Washburn accepted $600 to withhold a charge of violation of the Wright Act against McDonald.

MORE INDICTMENTS DUE

Additional indictments against certain other police officers are expected tomorrow. Since the indictment of the six officers now awaiting trial, the grand jury has continued its investigation, hearing numerous witnesses.

The inquiry was precipitated by Police Chief Davis whose information resulted in McDonald's arrest at [illegible] Gretna street, Whittier, [illegible] weeks ago. After his arrest, McDonald told Dist.-Atty. Fitts that he had operated as an illicit liquor dealer in Los Angeles for [illegible] years with police protection. As a result the six men already are under indictment and others are facing questioning.

LEVY MAPS APPROVED

THE FROG FOOTMAN

COSMOPOLITAN

Necessity a Virtue
Helen Eddy and Cyprian Beach at picturesque entrance to "The Frog Footman."

BY LANNIE HAYNES MARTIN

TWO motion-picture actresses, Helen Jerome Eddy and Cyprian Beach, forced out of work by the Equity strike and under the necessity of providing for a large family, have started a tea-room in Pasadena which they have named "The Frog Footman" from "Alice in Wonderland."

The family for which these two young women have to provide consists of four Siamese cats with unpronounceable names, one Persian cat named Scheherezade, a wire-haired terrier called St. Peter, two ducks known as Aloysius and Ignatius, and two monkeys that have earned the titles of Sodom and Gomorrah.

This herbiverous, carnivorous and omnivorous family, having to be fed at least three times a day, was what decided Miss Eddy and Miss Beach to launch their new venture and the varying tastes of the different animals dictated the cosmopolitan menu. For the Parisian-born cats will only eat French cuisine, the English terrier feeds only on roast beef and Yorkshire pudding, the southern aristocratic ducks crave Creole dishes and the Italian monkeys insist on rare Venetian and Florentine foods.

Miss Eddy, who makes her home in Pasadena, is known as a legitimate and screen actress and has given much of her time to the Pasadena Community Playhouse for the past five years.

information about the names of faculty, their classes and all necessary data about the campus,) and 100 cars will drive the newcomers around and show them the sights. Every sorority will keep open house that day.

LOOKS VERY STYLISH

Ah, yes, and "sorority row" looks very stylish—way ahead of "fraternity row," on the other side of the campus. Eight or nine houses are all ready for occupation on the girls' side, while but two register the achievements of the male of the species in this connection. Oh, but they are going to be charming edifices—modern to the minute, and garden enchantment will abound.

Here, too, is the Helen Matheson Club, which is unique enough to be copied by colleges throughout the country. Dean Helen Matheson Laughlin founded this for the girls who are working their way through college . . . honor students all, with scholarship above the average as the price of admittance. Dean Laughlin worked some high diplomacy here—winning the Janss company into providing the quite enchanted house, and persuading numerous angel-benefactors to furnish it. Here a girl lives in a charming and refined environment for $25 a month, under the chaperonage of a dear house-mother, Mrs. Christie. They do all their own housework, and even have a guest room . . . and by some stroke of magic provide good food for $2 a week per girl, which is included in that $25 a month. All the rooms have twin-beds and twin-closets, twin desks (with carefully shaded lights for study, so that if one girl is in bed, the other's light won't disturb her,) lovely bathrooms, and, most precious of all, enough wash-tubs and ironing boards so that Saturday morning holds no terrors. There's a dear little date-room here (which Dr. Ed Janss calls the "beau parlor,") and the girls can give dances, faculty teas, weenie bakes in a darling patio, exchange dinners with sorority houses, and generally enjoy a sorority standing.

Dean Laughlin also has invented what she calls a "democratic society of women" to take care of the dormitory girls. She calls them Phrateres, Greek word for "sisterhood," and they have a pin like the sororities. This provides for many girls who might otherwise feel lonesome, and gives them an organization that can officially take part in student-body affairs. It costs girls about $60 a month to live in the dormitories.

DEAN JEALOUS

In these respects the boys don't come off half so well and Dean Miller, dean of men, is jealous. He, too, wants to plan ways and means of providing the boys who are working their way through with inexpensive board and lodging. I suspect he will be doing a little coaxing with the Janss company himself presently. But you see Dean Miller hasn't been there nearly so long as Dean Laughlin so he hasn't had time to learn her enticing tricks.

All over the campus baby trees are giving promise of glory to come, the football team is busy in their new stylish field, the girls' and boys' gymnasium houses are being tried out eagerly, and students are working like galley slaves in the heat and dust to get things ready for the great day—Friday. Lovely tiled walks are spreading rapidly, and that bridge across the ravine stands forth as something beautiful and significant already.

One of the handsomest of the finished buildings is Royce Hall, which harbors the great auditorium. It was named after U.C.'s most distinguished graduate, Josiah Royce, the philosopher, and a collection of his twenty or more books and magazine articles is now being reverently made by Dean Rieber of the college of science and letters. So they already have a few traditions to work on.

BLUE AND GOLD

All the stately lamp-posts on the campus are decorated in the college colors, blue and gold, and, in fact, no matter how "barracksy" the campus may look from the boulevards, every detail of architecture and decoration has been carried out in excellent taste. It is going to be an enchanted and lovely spot when the lawns are in, the vines begin to sprout and the flowers to radiate their southern charms.

So, as one jolly little flapper remarked when asked if she was going to brave the wilds of Westwood this year. "You bet. I'll just get me some knee-high galoshes and love the mud. I even love every teeny-weeny speck of dust there now."

Drive Opens for Hospital

More than 300 volunteer workers, under the direction of General Chairman Ben Platt, will set out this morning on a city-wide drive to raise a $50,000 maintenance fund for the Mt. Sinai Home for Chronic Invalids, the only agency of its kind in the Los Angeles metropolitan area.

BEN PLATT

The institution cares for forty-eight patients and is building an addition to house thirty more invalids.

"Maintenance of the institution now costs more than $3000 monthly and only about $250 of that sum is paid by the patients or their relatives," said Platt. "The City Department of Social Service recently reported that 60.4 per cent of the patients in the home are maintained and given medical care without charge."

THE DANGER POINT

What Makes Food Spoil?

Foods spoil because of bacteria which become active when perishables are kept at too high a temperature. Too low a temperature is bad, also, causing foods to lose nourishment value.

Fifty Degrees the Danger Point

Perishable foods must be kept at an average temperature below 50 degrees to be fit for use and to prevent waste.

All Year Refrigeration

Modern refrigeration methods throughout the year are the only safe and economic way to preserve foods. Back porch, window sill, pantry and cellar makeshifts afford neither satisfactory nor safe refrigeration.

Danersk is not just Furniture!

In the American Wing of the Metropolitan Museum in New York there is one of the finest collections of early American furniture in the world. Thousands of people visit this exhibit every year and apparently find real pleasure in examining these splendid specimens of the work of the old masters in furniture making.

Many of these pieces have been reproduced faithfully and carefully by Danersk. Others have been the inspiration for designs that Danersk has adapted to the demands of present day life—in greater comfort and sturdiness. Ralph C. Erskine, one of the greatest authorities on design of the last century, has scoured this country and abroad for furniture pure in design and of such usefulness and beauty, that Danersk could take real pride in making reproductions for our homes of today.

Consequently there is much of interest in looking through our showrooms—both to the collector and connoisseur, and for those folks that make no pretense of a knowledge of period furniture, of finish and joinery, but have an inherent pride and joy in making their homes as beautiful and comfortable as possible.

As we said before we have now assembled the largest collection of Danersk furniture ever seen on the Pacific Coast—we have more than doubled our floor space, and we cordially invite you to come in and look around. There are chests of old walnut—and mahogany and pine; tables from the daintiest little satinwood candlestand to the massive oak refectory table; chairs of simplest Windsor design to the Essex lounging chair that we advise having two of to avoid family disputes; and there are lowboys and highboys and ships cupboards and Colonial dressers, all made in our New England shops by a colony of Scotch and English artisans the like of which does not exist in this country.

Do come in — whether you have a purchase in mind or not.

Today's Bible Text

"Now the end of the commandment is charity out of a pure heart, and of a good conscience, and of faith unfeigned."
I Timothy 1:5.

THE SAME THING

The man with a pull will still have a lot of push buttons on his desk.

GOING SOME

Col. Lindbergh and his wife flew from St. Louis to New York in five hours the other day. This is at the rate of better than 170 miles an hour and is the fastest time yet made between the points indicated. The bride must be a cracker-jack front-seat driver.

MEN OF METAL

The steel men are getting closer and closer to their goal. They think they have about perfected an alloy which will be as strong as steel and as light as aluminum, without being expensive. They will be able to find uses for it the same day it is perfected.

NOT TO BE MELTED

Now it is found that if ordinary paraffine is treated with cathode rays it becomes a tough and leathery substance which it is impossible to melt at a temperature of less than 1000 deg. It would seem that there should be a lot of practical uses for stuff like that, but of course there is the cost of treatment in the way.

A DOUBLE LIFE

According to some of the authorities present at the meeting of the American Chemical Society the hydrogen we have been bragging about for a thousand years has really been leading a double life. There is another—a parahydrogen, in its atomic heart, and we never knew or suspected it. There's no use in setting anything up on a pedestal any more.

A TAMMANY TRIM

A Tammany millionaire who is traveling abroad cabled from London to have his Broadway barber hasten across the pond to cut his hair. He was afraid that the British tonsors could not do justice to his crop. This is about as nasty a dig as Tammany could give the British lion. If King George is a game guy he will declare war at once. He must have a hick of a country if Americans visiting there have to send across the water every time they need a hair cut.

THE NEW PHOTOGRAPHY

A new idea in photography takes away the terrors of posing. The subject enters a booth lined with mirrors and equipped with the proper light. There are seven mirrors and the visitor may place himself in as many positions and poses as he likes. When he is sure he has the one he wants he presses a button, a camera acts and he has the thing he craves. The work is more natural and lifelike than when the victim is being harried by the photographer in person. It sounds good.

KEEP SMITH ON ICE

Certain politicians are said to be planning to place Alfred Emanuel Smith in the United States Senate. Senator Royal S. Copeland, who is a doctor, has a $25,000 job awaiting him as head of the New York Sanitary Commission and if he would resign and accept this the way would be clear for Gov. Roosevelt to name the Democratic standard-bearer for the vacancy. It is argued that in this way Smith would be preserved as a national figure for future use—if any. In this way it might be possible for the New Yorker and Tom Heflin to fight it out on the floor of the Senate.

ALASKA REINDEER

Looks as if things were working fine for Santa Claus. There are now more than 1,000,000 reindeer in Alaska and the shipment of their meat to the cities of the States is a real industry. Last year these shipments exceeded 2,000,000 pounds at better than beef prices. There were no reindeer in Alaska forty years ago, but the government introduced a small herd from Siberia in 1891 and they have been increasing ever since. Now they are capable of providing the territory with fresh meat at practically all seasons. They are also valuable for their milk and as beasts of burden. They are built for Alaska.

THE SIMPLIFIED CALENDAR

A report favoring the simplified calendar, which declares that a large body of American representative public opinion has gone on record for it and urges American participation in an international conference to bring it about, is now in the hands of Secretary of State Stimson for governmental consideration and possible Congressional action.

The report was prepared by the National Committee on Calendar Simplification, which, though unofficial, was suggested by Secretary of State Kellogg a year ago. George Eastman, the camera manufacturer, served as its chairman; Dr. Charles F. Marvin, chief of the United States Weather Bureau, as vice-chairman, and several government officials were in its membership. The report bears the official commendation of Secretary of Agriculture Hyde and has found favor with many organizations, including our own Chamber of Commerce and the Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

The report discloses that the civic and other bodies whose opinion was solicited by the committee voted 80.5 per cent in favor of an international conference for simplifying the calendar with only 19.5 per cent opposed, and that of those which expressed an opinion in favor of any particular plan, 98 per cent were for a fixed calendar of thirteen equal months with one or two intercalary or "blank" days to fill out the year while most of the remainder voted for a year of equalized quarters.

Similar committees are gathering sentiment, the report says, in Germany, France, Holland, Hungary, Peru, Ecuador, Costa Rica, Panama and Salvador.

The simplified calendar is, as its name suggests, simplicity itself. If it were adopted, one year's printed calendar would serve for any other year. Each date would fall on the same day of the week in every month, each month would be of exactly four weeks. Thirteen months of twenty-eight days accounts for 364 days, leaving a day and approximaately a quarter left over of each astronomical year, to be taken care of by "blank days" not to be named with any of the ordinary designations, one each ordinary year, two in leap years.

The advantage to banks and business houses, in simplified book-keeping, are obvious and enormous. Such a calendar could easily be memorized and the necessity of consulting frequently the product of the calendar printers would disappear. Custom and habit, it is urged, would soon change to conform to the new schedule.

The disadvantages are the disruption of custom and habit and the objections raised by certain religious groups, of which orthodox Jews, Seventh-Day Baptists and Seventh-Day Adventists are mentioned in the report. These declare the insertion of "blank days" in the calendar interferes with the regularity of their Sabbath observance and that to keep a private calendar on which every seventh day would be the Sabbath would cause them great inconvenience. The objection has real force, but since these groups already observe as the Sabbath a different day from the majority of the population, it may not prove insuperable.

The names of the days of the week have no religious significance now, it is pointed out, being mainly of pagan origin.

The present calendar, known as the Gregorian from the name of the Pope who had it devised and obtained its general acceptance, went into effect as recently as 1752, when the shift was made without any great disturbance and was adopted within the present decade by Russia, Turkey and other countries which previously had held to the Julian calendar, named for Julius Caesar. Except for the length of the day and the length of the year, the calendar is a man-made device and has been changed with relative frequency in the course of the world's history. Even the Gregorian calendar is not now universally used. Several countries have their own system. The reformed calendar advocates believe that these could be induced to adopt the simplified calendar and bring the whole world into line.

The year 1933, in which January 1 falls on Sunday, is suggested as the best date for the change by the committee. The time is short for discussion of such an important matter, but things get themselves done quickly nowadays.

HOW WE SLEEP

At the recent International Congress of Psychology at New Haven some old notions about how people sleep when they have retired for the night were rudely dispelled. H. M. Johnson and other investigators of the Mellon Institute presented motion pictures of the various attitudes assumed by different persons in their sleep and all the films gave the lie to Moore's line "Ere slumber's chain has bound me," as well as to the Shelley reference to "sleep and his brother death."

It appears that, according to the investigators, a typical sleeper on a typical night lies in nine different positions and shifts from one to another thirty-three times, remaining quiet for periods varying from two to fifty-six minutes. As the subjects whose sleeping habits were under investigation were necessarily persons of modern life there is just a bare chance that in thus contradicting Moore and Shelley the psychologists may have slipped a cog. This restless age may produce more restless sleepers than those of quieter ones. For slumber's chain to bind men who have been driving or dodging automobiles for hours at a stretch may not be so simple a process as it was in the days of ox carts.

Another curious conclusion reached by the investigators was that "to sleep curled up like a kitten is often to secure the greatest amount of relaxation," and that one who sleeps like a log is "deadened by overstrain." If this is the case no six-footer need hereafter complain of the shortness of his Pullman berth. Perhaps if our legislators had had in mind the desirability of people sleeping curled up like kittens they would not have fixed the length of hotel sheets at not less than eight feet, but would have prescribed circular beds with sheets of only a few feet in diameter.

The LEE SIDE o' L.A.

BY Lee Shippey

WE DON'T get a regular vacation. The best we can do is slip away somewhere every now and then and write something about what we see. In other words, we can take a lot of vacations, so long as we do our work seven days a week.

But we're certainly going to slip it over on the boss today, for we're going to grab a whole colyum out of the mail bag.

New Chance for Wealth

The first letter we open comes from L. T., the poet, who sings:

We used to boast that earmuffs
Were never needed here.
But now, alas, we need 'em
Through every time of year.

We thought them inexcusable,
Except 'midst ice and snows . . .
How flatters, courters, need 'em now
To shut out radios!

Many Have Admirable Habits

And Holly Woodlass writes us that she knows of some Hollywood equestriennes who haven't any really good habits except their riding habits.

How Thoughtful of the Management!

Lee: Have you noticed that some of the seaside hotels now have bathing caps, sealed in glazed paper, in their bathrooms?

The idea is that, given a 10-cent souvenir to swipe, a good many guests will be honest enough to leave the more expensive towels.—Seymour Seitz.

Not Room Enough

The makers of overnight bags also are doing their bit to put an end to the gay pastime of towel-swiping.

Hats Off to L. A.!

And here's one from a wandering Angeleno, in New York: A year ago your colyum scored an exclusive beat by announcing that New York was going Hollywood, a few daring young men here walking the streets bareheaded. This summer droves of 'em are doing it. My New York friends pointed it out to me as the very latest thing; but I told 'em in Hollywood now people will stop and stare at any man eccentric enough to wear a hat. And, of course, they believed it. They'll believe anything about Hollywood.—S. W.

Remembering Our Friends

Adam Sinnick says he has received forty-two postcards from people at beautiful vacation hotels or resorts, one from somebody who really cared about him and forty-one from people who wanted him to see what classy places they were visting.

Sewing Oats in Heyday

When youth is in its heyday
It's feeling of its oats
And doesn't care a straw about
The harvest or the groats.
It never finds the world a-rye,
For corn and hops it's keen—
When youth is in its heyday
And burning gasoline.

How to Keep Slim

Leeside: Join the fire department and preserve your silhouette. The laddies in the engine company on Van Ness, opposite Hollywood Cemetery, say that every noon their mid-day meal is interrupted by an alarm which takes them away when they've only had a bite or two. Families in that neighborhood have come to depend on the daily noon run and have substituted the engine bell for the dinner gong.—[Gaylord A. Partmans.

Supererogation

I hate the guy who loves to stop when heat waves heave in view, and chortle thus: "Hello, old top, is it hot enough for you?" I'd like to pulverize the mutt who tells me it is hot; I'd like to hit him on the nut, or slay him on the spot! When it's a hundred in the shade I don't need such advice, for then I'm wishing that I laid inside a cake of ice. I'm very apt indeed to know that when it's hot as sin, I need no guy to tell me so by shooting off his chin! When I am sweating at my task I hate such tommyrot; I do not need to have folks ask if I am plenty hot! I know it by the way my shirt is sticking to my hide, where'er I do a hiking spurt that calls for rapid stride. I am inclined to peaceful be, but murder's in my eye whenever someone says to me, "The mercury is high!" As if I hadn't sense enough to know it isn't cool without folks springing such bum stuff to make me out a fool! I often feel that murder is an act that I'd perform, when someone yells at me, "Gee gosh, but ain't it AWFUL warm!"—[E. A. BRININSTOOL.

A SNAPSHOT

What would vacation be without a camera? Without a snapshot of your frail form clinging to a pinnacle of the peak, how could you prove that you climbed the inaccessible mountain? Without a picture of his luck, even a fisherman would be sunk. A snapshot checks up on your visit to the most remote scenery and saves many reputations from attack.

By it you live the journey over again and bore your friends with your travels. You stop on a curve and hold up traffic and get the picture advertised just ahead. You are a consistent nuisance to the entire party and a pest to strangers en route.

The man who helped make this possible was 75 years old the other day. George Eastman is the personal friend of Henry Ford. And no wonder, for he helps the can to can the trip in pictures. He brings a breath of fresh air back to those who had to stay at home. He is the Boswell of every Johnson on the big road.

He bestowed $20,000,000 anonymously upon Boston Institute of Technology before he was caught at it. He does good deeds as stealthily as others commit crimes. Negro institutions like Tuskegee and Hampton have greatly profited by his generosity. His home town, Rochester, N. Y., has been made an art center by him.

As long as kodaks click and pictures blossom in dark rooms, he will be loved and honored by man.

TOWN AND GOWN

The corner-stone of the University of Southern California was laid on September 4, 1880; the site for the future city of Los Angeles was staked out on September 4, 1781. It is significant that the city and its university should celebrate the same birthday and that in size, strength and influence the growth of the one should closely parallel the growth of the other.

In both cases the most important part of this growth has taken place in the last two decades, and more strikingly still in the last ten years, though the city is ninety-nine years older than the college. A company of Spanish soldiers were the first occupants of the pueblo; the university opened with a class of fifty-five students. In its one hundred and forty-eighth year the city numbers a million and a half inhabitants while in its forty-ninth year the enrollment at the University of Southern California exceeds 17,000. Moreover, there are now a dozen buildings on the university campus, housing seventeen schools and colleges.

Since the founding of the university more than 50,000 men and women have received a liberal education through the opportunities afforded by this now world-famous institution. At the semi-centennial celebration planned for next year we may expect a great gathering of the clans to do honor to their alma mater. To be able to call oneself a citizen of Los Angeles is a proud distinction. But who would not feel an extra thrill of pride to be in addition an alumnus of the University of Southern California?

After the university has passed its fiftieth and the city its one hundred and fiftieth birthday it will be interesting to compare notes again on their respective growths, to measure the culture of the whole community in terms of the product of the two. Whether the city has grown because of the university or whether the university has grown because of the city is an open question. It could be made the subject of an instructive debate between town and gown.

THE BIG SHOW

There were more than 82,000 paid admissions at the State Fair on Labor Day, thus proving that a lot of folks are still interested in the heifers and the pumpkins. Anyhow it was a big day and a big show.

THE FOOLISH FLOUNDER

By James J. Montague

The flounder turns his beady eyes
Forever upward toward the skies.

Yet always flattened out is he
Upon the bottom of the sea.

The shark, a very wicked fish,
Athwart the foaming surge will swish.

Deprived of heart and evil eyed
He casts his gaze on either side

For some poor fish on which to sup
The while the flounder's looking up.

The flounder has no greed nor guile,
He wears a calm benignant smile,

As if to say, "Take no alarm,
I bode no other creature harm.

Quite safe are minnows, sprats and lings,
My gaze is fixed on higher things."

And yet the flounder never tries
Above the mud and sand to rise,

But on the ocean bottom stays
Through all his dull, eventless days.

And one should certainly not wish
To emulate that sort of fish,

Who seeks to fill ambition's cup
By lying low and looking up.

He'd vastly more deserve our praises
If he would swim the way he gazes.

TEN GREATEST ASTRONOMERS

BY FREDERICK C. LEONARD, Ph.D.
Of the University of California at Los Angeles

Several months ago I was requested by the head of one of our largest institutions of higher learning to furnish him, for a definite purpose, with a list of the ten greatest astronomers of all time, in the order of their importance. After considerable deliberation, I submitted a list made up of the following names arranged in the order of decreasing fame: Newton, Copernicus, Galileo, Kepler, Einstein, Hipparchus, Herschel, Kirchhoff, Ptolemy and Tycho. There was some doubt in my mind, and there still is, concerning the "order of merit" in a few cases, but not much as to who the ten are.

In making an enumeration of this sort it was necessary first to define what is meant by an "astronomer." It may be objected that a number of the preceding men were physicists rather than astronomers. Truly enough, several of them were; by an astronomer, however, I mean a person who has contributed to the advancement of astronomy, regardless of what his vocation may have been; and in my opinion the contributions of the foregoing scientists have been of sufficient import to entitle them to places among the ten greatest astronomers of all time.

If any astronomer who has ever lived deserves first place on such a roll of honor, undoubtedly that astronomer was Isaac Newton, who, according to the pre-eminent French mathematical astronomer, Lagrange, "was the greatest genius that ever existed, and the most fortunate, for we cannot find more than once a system of the world to establish." Newton (1643-1727,) to mention only his most superlative achievements, discovered the law of universal gravitation, was the first completely to state the three laws of motion, and detected the composite nature of white light—that is, the rainbow phenomenon produced when a beam of white light is passed through a transparent triangular prism. He invented and constructed a type of reflecting telescope still in common use today; and (independently with the illustrious German scholar Leibnitz) he contrived one of the most powerful of all mathematical tools, namely, the calculus. Whewell, an English writer on the history of science, pronounced Newton's law of gravitation "indisputably and incomparably the greatest scientific discovery ever made, whether we look at the advance which it involved, the extent of the truth disclosed or the fundamental and satisfactory nature of this truth." Newton's masterpiece, the "Principia," was published in 1687 and is generally conceded to be the greatest single work on science ever written.

Nicholas Copernicus (1473-1543) was the founder and the promulgator, if not technically the originator, of the heliocentric doctrine of the solar system—that is, the theory that the earth rotates on its axis and, in company with the other planets, revolves around the sun. His monumental book, the "De Revolutionibus," in which the Copernican theory and related subjects were given in full to the world, was published in 1543 and is said to have been handed to its author, in printed form, on the day he died.

Galileo Galilei (1564-1642,) often called the father of experimental science, laid the foundations for the science of dynamics, discovered the law of oscillation of the pendulum and the laws governing falling bodies and projectiles. He also constructed a refracting telescope built on the principle of the modern opera glass, was the first extensively to apply the telescope to astronomy and made the original telescopic discoveries. He enthusiastically advocated and defended the Copernican doctrine of astronomy in his greatest literary composition, a brilliantly written book entitled "A Dialogue on the Two Chief Systems of the World," published in 1632. He was one of the earliest experimental philosophers to employ the inductive and deductive methods of scientific investigation.

Johann Kepler (1571-1630) discovered the three laws of planetary motion which bear his name. The apprehension of these laws amended and completed the Copernican theory of the solar system by demonstrating that the orbits of the planets are ellipses rather than combinations of circles, as even Copernicus erroneously believed them to be. In the hands of the mighty genius Newton, Kepler's laws led directly to the discovery of the law of gravitation, of which, as Newton proved, they are necessary consequences.

Albert Einstein (1879- ,) the only living scientist whose name appears on this list, is the originator of the theory of relativity and of the so-called Einsteinian law of gravitation. It is impossible at the present time to predict what effect this theory will have on the philosophy of astronomy in particular, and that of physical science in general, and it is equally impossible to determine what position Einstein's name should occupy among those of the aforementioned scientists; time and time only will tell; but it is not too much to expect that the revolutionary character and far-reaching importance of his work will ultimately entitle him to a place among the ten greatest astronomers who have ever lived, if not to one among the first five.

Hipparchus (180-110 B.C.) is universally regarded as having been the greatest astronomer of antiquity. He developed spherical trigonometry; he constructed a catalogue of some 1100 stars, which was not superseded until the fifteenth century; he determined the lengths of the year and month; he made numerous observations of the planets; he investigated the peculiarities of the motions of the sun, moon and planets; and he devised a system consisting of a combination of circles to account for the apparent motions of the then known members of the solar system.

William Herschel (1738-1822,) known as the father of modern sidereal astronomy, discovered the planet Uranus, detected the motion of the sun in space, first perceived the true physical nature of certain double stars, explored the starry firmament with large telescopes of his own manufacture, investigated and speculated on the construction and extent of the stellar universe. He was the first astronomer to apply great telescopes to the study of the heavens.

Gustav Robert Kirchhoff (1824-1887) was unquestionably the foremost pioneer after Newton (who it will be recalled discovered also the composite nature of white light, in the realm of astronomical physics. Kirchhoff's laws of spectrum analysis constitute the very foundations of the science of spectroscopy. The importance of those laws can be appreciated from the fact that they in numerous cases make possible the determination of the physical state and the chemical composition of a self-luminous body, such as the sun, a comet, a star or a nebula.

Claudius Ptolemy (100-170 A.D.,) the most celebrated astronomical commentator of the ancient world, was the author of a famous treatise called the "Almagest," which constituted undisputed authority in astronomy until after the appearance of the "De Revolutionibus" of Copernicus, some fourteen centuries later.

Tycho Brahe (1546-1601,) the last of the notable pretelescopic astronomers, was the outstanding figure in the field of observational astronomy in the Middle Ages. He was a most prodigious observer. He compiled a catalogue of about 1000 stars and in the course of his long observing career he redetermined with increased accuracy nearly every important astronomical quantity. Indubitably the most valuable contribution which Tycho made to astronomy was his thesaurus of carefully executed observations of the positions of the planets.

WHERE CAN I LEARN Color Harmony?

BY LOUISE L. TEMPLE

[Prepared in co-operation with the Los Angeles evening high schools. Questions concerning free evening classes will be answered if stamped addressed envelope is inclosed. Address Louise L. Temple, care of The Times.]

On September 16, Polytechnic Evening High School, 400 West Washington Boulevard, will open a class in Composition and Color Harmony. It will meet on Monday evenings, from 7 to 9 p.m., in room 132. There is no charge for instruction and people of all ages are welcome.

The instructor is Mrs. Bertella Lane, an artist whose redwood paintings have received widespread praise. This course is recommended for students who are registered for Mrs. Lane's course in Oil Painting, which is also free to the public and is given at Polytechnic on Tuesday and Thursday evenings.

The course in Composition and Color Harmony is a fundamental course in the principles of composition, theory and harmony. It affords technical training necessary to prepare students to cope with the creative problems of advanced courses in painting.

SLOT MACHINE SALESMEN

Everything from chewing gum to penny books, from apples and sandwiches to weight measures and music is offered today by the silent slot machine salesmen. Some clever inventor devised the talking weighing machine which was a total failure because it announced to the world in clear, ringing tones that milady's dieting had served to add pounds of flesh instead of removing them. What woman, vying with her sister in a reducing contest, could endure to have her weight shouted aloud?

The Literary Digest tells us that there are 250 manufacturers of vending machines who produce about 400 different machines. There is the "Automat" restaurant where a nickel turns a stream of delicious looking coffee and exactly the right amount of cream into your waiting cup. There is the gasoline selling machine requiring 50 cents and an adjustment of the scale to today's price. There is even an automatic wheat cake machine with robot flipper and deliverer. There is a "Sodamat" in New York which sells all sorts of soft drinks in a variety of machines. Some hotels are equipped with autoradios where a coin brings a certain number of minutes of radio program, and they tell us that apartment-houses are equipping washing machines with slot devices for use by various tenants. The slot machine vender has one great advantage—it compels its customers to pay as they go! No credit asked or given! F. H. H.

Mr. and Mrs. Roland Porter Bishop of Beverly Hills, with their young son, Roland, Jr., and Mrs. William Mead, also of Beverly Hills, are leaving Thursday for the East, sailing from New York on a cruise around the world, planning to be gone for at least six months.

Roland, Jr., left several days ago for a visit at University of Virginia, but will join his parents in Gotham.

Many lovely farewell parties have been given in honor of Mrs. Bishop, among the hostesses being Mrs. William Albert Barker, who gave an evening affair in her honor several weeks ago, while Mrs. Dan McFarland gave a luncheon and card party for her Saturday afternoon. Thursday afternoon Mrs. William Howard Thomas (Elizabeth Bishop) entertained with a bon voyage luncheon at her home, 2500 Eighth avenue, twenty-five guests being bidden.

The Dresden motif was charmingly carried out in the decorations and appointments of the luncheon and bridge and mah jongg furnished the feature of the afternoon's entertainment.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas have just returned from an extended motor trip north, visiting in Vancouver and Victoria, B. C., as well as Seattle, Portland and San Francisco. Their two attractive young daughters, Caroline Jane and Barbara Ella Howard, passed the summer vacation in the East, where they were guests of their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Howard, at their home in New Harmony, Ind., and only returned home several days ago.

Farewell Luncheon

Honoring Mrs. Oliver P. Clark before she left for Washington, D. C., Mrs. Dora A. Stearns entertained with a luncheon Wednesday afternoon at the Women's Athletic Club, pond lilies in varied shades and roses being effectively used in the decorations. Those included were Mrs. Clark, Mrs. W. E. Evans, Mrs. Jack Maddux, Mrs. Herbert Cornosh, Mrs. Frank H. Brooks, Mrs. William Chick, Mrs. Sara J. Smith and the hostess.

Quiet Ceremony

Only a few close friends and relatives witnessed the pretty wedding which took place at 4 o'clock Saturday, the 7th inst., at the Pasadena Lutheran Church, which united in marriage Miss Hildur Elizabeth Carlson of Jamestown, N. Y., and Charles Edward Green of Maricopa, Cal.

The bride wore a lovely gown of pink chiffon with satin slippers and hat in same shade, and carried a bouquet of pink rosebuds, lilies of the valley and maidenhair fern. She was unattended. Mrs. Green has many friends in Los Angeles and vicinity, having taught in the Maricopa schools for several years. Mr. Green is also widely known, having played on the U.S.C. football team while a student there.

After the ceremony an informal reception was given them by Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Dahlquist of Huntington Park. They will make their home in Montrose after a wedding trip in the north. During her visit to her home in Jamestown, N. Y., this summer, Mrs. Green was entertained with many lovely affairs.

Since her return there have been others, among them a glassware shower, given by Miss Barbara Bishop of Alhambra, and Mrs. Les Remmers of El Monte.

Invitations Issued

Invitations are being issued by Mr. and Mrs. William Kelley Thompson of Alta La Canada Drive, La Canada, for the wedding of their attractive daughter, Miss Anne Thompson and Arthur Laurence Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Dean Smith, formerly of London, Eng., the ceremony to take place at the family home Saturday, October 5. Miss Thompson is one of the most popular members of the younger set. She attended Mt. Vernon Seminary, Washington, D. C., after being graduated from Marlborough School here. She is a member of The Spinsters.

Mrs. Paul Louis Corrigan will assist her cousin as matron of honor, other attendants including Miss Martha Marsh, Mrs. Virginia Bishop-McGarry, Mrs. Chaffee Earl and Miss Alexandra Oddie, while Chaffee Earl will serve as best man. The ushers include Odell McConnell, Joshua Jarvis of Louisville, Harold Beere, Cosmo Morgan III, Edwin T. Earl and Frank Gilcrest, and Mrs. Howard Grace. It is to be a garden wedding, the ceremony taking place at 4:30 p.m.

Many lovely affairs are being arranged in honor of this popular bride-elect, Mr. and Mrs. Seymour Thomas of La Canada giving an alfresco supper at their studio home yesterday, while Edward Erni is planning a breakfast for her next Sunday at his lovely home in Hollywood.

Mrs. Virginia Bishop-McGarry who is returning to her home in Bel-Air today after a summer with her young son in Hermosa Beach, is giving a luncheon and theater party for Miss Thompson Thursday afternoon. Col. William Eric Fowler is giving a dinner dance at the Biltmore the 30th inst. for Miss Thompson and her fiance, and Mrs. West Hughes will give a dinner for her niece at her home in Twenty-third street the 26th inst., and Miss Martha Marsh is planning an affair for Miss Thompson although the date has not yet been settled.

University Activities

Known on the Trojan campus as "sorority row," West Twenty-eighth street was the scene of unusual festivity yesterday afternoon, when the fall rushing season was opened at the University of Southern California with formal teas at each of the social sororities. During the first week of the fall semester, a period of truce is observed by the Greek letter sororities, and not until the 23rd inst. does the intensive rushing season begin, with daily events planned by each house in honor of the freshmen co-eds.

At the Pi Beta Phi Sorority house, 647 West Twenty-eighth street, Miss Martha Lounsberry, president, and Miss Louise Gates, rushing chairman, were in charge of arrangements for the formal tea, the hours being from 3 to 6. Miss Bonnie Jean Lockwood, president, and Miss Helen Pargellis, rushing chairman of Phi Mu Sorority, 801 West Twenty-eighth street, greeted approximately seventy-five guests at their chapter house Sunday afternoon.

Rushees were received at the Alpha Chi Omega Sorority house, 666 West Twenty-eighth street, by Miss Aleyne Ley, president, and Miss Jean Burke, rush chairman. At the Alpha Gamma Delta house next door, the hostesses were Miss Mary Beulah Moler and Miss Carolyn Colmery.

Among the Trojan sororities located near is Kappa Delta at 2711 Ellendale Place, where Miss Eunice Specht, assisted by Miss Alma Griffin and Miss Virginia Arnold, received the freshmen guests on Sunday afternoon. Miss Marjorie Snow, Miss Constance Vachon and Miss Helen Maule of Zeta Tau Alpha presided at their chapter house, 1023 West Thirty-sixth street.

Church Like a Ship

Every effort is made to make the worshippers feel entirely at home by the furnishing of the interior of the Seamen's Bethel at Falmouth, Eng. The pulpit is shaped like the bow of a ship and has port and starboard lights, which shine at the night services just as similar lights do on shipboard after sundown. The walls are hung with many interesting relics of the sea and the fixtures and furnishings all suggest the interior of the cabin of a sailing vessel.

HEALTH and DIET ADVICE

By Dr Frank McCoy
author of "The Fast Way to Health"

Dr. McCoy will answer personal questions on health and diet, addressed to him care of the Los Angeles Times. Inclose stamped, addressed envelope for reply.

THE HEALTH VALUE OF DRIED VEGETABLES

The American Indian was quite familiar with the methods of sun-drying fruits, vegetables, and meats to improve their keeping qualities. William Wood in a letter written in 1629 said that the Indians dried "gooseberries, bilberries, raspberries, treachleberries, hurtleberries and currants" which, after being dried in the sun, were but little inferior to the fresh berries sold by the grocers in England.

The early New England colonists followed in the footsteps of the Indians by preserving their food over the long winter months by drying it. Along the coast, the drying of fish became an important industry. A great impetus was given the drying of foods by the Klondyke gold rush in Alaska in 1896. There was a great demand for foods which were light enough to be transported on the back over great distances of barren country. Quantities of dried potatoes were imported from Germany, and almost over night many crude drying plants were constructed along the fertile areas of the Pacific Coast.

Wars have always had a stimulating effect upon the dried-food industry. During the Boer War Canada supplied the British army with quantities of a quickly prepared vegetable soup mixture. During the Franco-Prussian war of 1870 large quantities of soup made of powdered, dried green leaf vegetables and legumes were used. The World War also provided a tremendous impetus to the dried-food industry, especially in Germany, and it is believed that the large quantities of dried vegetables and potatoes in Germany explain why she was able to hold out so long in the desperate struggle without obtaining supplies from other countries. With the entry of the United States into the World War, numerous evaporating plants were established, and the United States Department of Agriculture spent much time and effort in experiments to perfect scientific dehydration. As a result of many experiments it was found that where the fruit or vegetables were exposed to excessive heat the vitamins were destroyed and the salts oxidized. The foods were discolored and robbed of their finest flavors. It was found that vitamin C is not destroyed by sundrying at a moderate temperature providing the dehydrated food is quickly sealed and kept in a cool storage place.

Some foods such as spinach can be reduced in weight on a ratio of 16 to 1. One ton of apricots, if canned, would weigh about 3500 pounds, while one ton dehydrated and packed will weigh about 350 pounds. This is an indication of the great saving in storage and transportation by the dehydrating method of serving food.

When properly performed, dehydration is simply the removal of water and does not impair the food value of the foods. So many different foods are dehydrated that it is possible to serve a complete dinner of these foods. For example, one might begin with a dehydrated soup mixture of pea or lentil soup, such as used by the German army. Next would be a salad of celery, lettuce and horse radish which had been soaked in water. For vegetables, one could use dehydrated corn, peas, tomatoes, string beans, beets, spinach, carrots, or asparagus, etc. If an egg dish is desired, there are powdered eggs to use. A cake would be prepared from the powdered eggs and powdered milk, and bread or crackers could be served composed largely of dried vegetable flour. Macaroni or dried beef could be used. If one desired a dessert one could use the dehydrated apricots, apples, peaches, bananas, strawberries, or even an ice cream made from powdered milk.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Drink Habit

Question: Anxious asks: "Is there anything that can be given a man secretly that will cure him of the drink habit? I wish I could find something that would make him dreadfully sick if he touched liquor."

Answer: There is nothing that I know of which will cure the drink habit unless the drinker is really willing to be cured. It is then very simple. A fast on acid fruits will in a day or two destroy all craving for liquor. The cure is then complete if the drinker really desires a cure.

Sugar and Starch

Question: H. M. asks: "Does sugar combine well with starchy foods?"

Answer: Starchy foods should be used only with the cooked and raw nonstarchy vegetables. Sugar should not be used at the same meal with starchy foods.

Exercises for Back

Question: W. G. asks: "What exercise will help a girl of 15 to straighten her back. There is a slight hump near the shoulders in the back due to bending over, reading."

Answer: All exercises which tense the muscles of the upper back will help you to straighten up and develop normally shaped shoulders. The best exercises for this purpose are taken while lying face downward. An excellent one to take while lying in this position is to clasp the hands behind the neck and raise the head, arms and shoulders as high as possible, relaxing to the floor and raising alternately from ten to fifteen times. Do this exercise two or three times daily and others similar which tend to strengthen the muscles of the upper back.

TEACHERS TENDERED HIGH TRIBUTE FROM PULPIT

Pastor Snape Lauds Pedagogues and Their Work in Sermon at Temple Baptist Church

"The strength, patience, humility, energy and tact required of public school-teachers is enough to crush ordinary mortals—but public school-teachers are not ordinary mortals," declared Dr. John Snape in his sermon yesterday at Temple Baptist Church.

The service was attended by hundreds of school teachers and members of the Board of Education, with Superintendent Boulle and Mrs. Susan Dorsey as specially honored guests. Pastor Snape preached on "The Incomparable Importance of the Teacher's Work."

"The teacher's world is the world of ideas, and ideas move the world," Dr. Snape said. "Ideas are fortunes and blessed is the man who is rich in them. Ideas are wings carrying men to heights of achievement. Ideas are bludgeons beating their own way to success. Ideas, like souls, are immortal. Teachers are transmitters of ideas, and ideas will survive long after the teachers are forgotten.

"There are young school teachers in Los Angeles who could make more money as book agents than they receive for teaching, but which of them knows the potential Lincoln, Roosevelt, Wilson or Hoover that stands up in her classroom every day? To have a share in the shaping of one such man is worth more than all the fortunes of the world.

"If we do our best in daily diligence and fidelity in the midst of our incomparable work, the hands of divine love will make over our feeble efforts until they shall bear the light of day, and be perfect through all eternity."

INDIA SEEN AS RISING TOWARD HAPPIER LIFE

"A Forecast of India's Future" was the subject of a sermon preached yesterday by Bramacharee Nerode at Mt. Washington Center. Excerpts from the sermon follow:

"Progress is the keynote of nature. Whether we wish it or not we have to progress. Even retrogression along certain lines is a sort of progress as every backward step brings some new asset to the fund of our experience. India's many misfortunes of today are nothing but the potential good fortunes of tomorrow. Her tears are the harbingers of her future smiles. Her political and economic catastrophes have awakened her out of her age-long torpor.

"India's discontent is the measure of her innate desire to find her complete self-expression."

KARMA DISCUSSED BY SWAMI DHIRANANDA

"Psychological and Ethical Aspects of Karma" was the topic discussed yesterday by Swami Dhirananda at the Figueroa Playhouse. He said in part:

"Karma in its widest sense signifies the law of causation and compensation operating in the physical universe and mental and moral realms. God does not use His laws, as Theism asserts. God is law. God is Karma. God is everything and also the law through which everything works. God's law and God's life do not stand over against each other—both are the same, though we try to interpret them differently. So if we obey physical, hygienic, aethetic, moral and spiritual laws, we obey God."

SAVIOR PICTURED AS MAN OF ACTION

"Jesus was a man of action," said Dr. J. George Dorn in his sermon yesterday at the Hollywood Lutheran Church.

"Buddha sits, Christ moves," said Dr. Dorn. "Christ commands us to 'go out into the highways and hedges and compel them to come in.' That means personal work and a lot of it. You may build a tabernacle with walls as long and high as the walls of Babylon and import the best preacher in the world, with the most skillful chorister and choir and the best-trained workers, but you will have nothing excepting a religious picnic unless you have a congregation of earnest Christian workers. More than 1,000,000 persons in our city do not belong to the church. What are you doing to help bring them into the fold?"

CUPID PUNCHING TIMECLOCK NOW

Bar Association Objects To Judges Marrying Couples In Court Hours

Dan Cupid, according to the Los Angeles Bar Association, has been enjoying entirely too much precedence over routine court affairs in the city. The association has passed a resolution condemning Superior and Municipal Court judges who take time from court affairs to perform marriage ceremonies.

The resolution requests that all marriages be performed either before or after the regular court hours. The association says one Superior Court judge is asserted to have performed 118 marriages during the last thirty days.

NEED FOR SPIRITUAL CULTURE EXPLAINED

"We are not Christian, personally or socially, until we move up to the high standards of the Christian religion, and stay 'moved up,'" said Rev. Meade E. Dutt in his sermon yesterday at University Christian Church.

"Our material culture is in danger of extinction because our spiritual culture is lagging," said Mr. Dutt. "Christians must work desperately to 'catch up.' We lag behind because religion is costly—not in buildings and programs, but in the discipline of body and soul. For example, the discipline of prayer is avoided, and yet there are scientific values in prayer which, if explored and released for humanity, would change the world. It is the attitude of the Christian toward this and other values that determines the richness or poverty of Christian experience, as well as the quality of Christian culture."

CHRISTIAN THEOLOGY REJECTED BY PASTOR

"A Heretic's Appreciation of Orthodoxy" was the subject of a sermon preached yesterday by Rev. E. Burdette Backus at the First Unitarian Church. Mr. Backus said in part:

"Reasoned conviction compels me to reject, in entirety, the Christian theology. I know that it is untenable in the light of modern knowledge, yet this fact does not obscure from my sight the rich values that are to be found in orthodoxy. The system of thought which has dominated the Christian centuries is a splendid, a noble creation of the human intellect. Its structure has been wrought out by minds of the first quality and it has been enriched and beautified by the contributions of generations of scholars. But now its foundations have been undermined.

"The march of progress compels men to think in entirely different terms. The old is a habitation in imminent danger of collapse. We must build the new home for the spirit of man. Those who shut their eyes to the fact and still call the people into the crumbling walls, however sincere they may be, are rendering a disservice to mankind and are setting the seal on their own doom."

JUSTICE PROMISED AT LAST GREAT ASSIZE

"Earthly justice sometimes is thwarted and the person who should receive little, receives much, while those who should receive much often receive little," declard Adjt. Frank Howell in his sermon yesterday at Salvation Army Temple.

"Too frequently the employer of labor and the laborer both forget that there is a law governing their standing and prescribing for their actions," said Mr. Howell. "However, there is a great satisfaction in knowing that God's justice at the last great assize will be impartial and His findings clear. Pure justice will be meted out to all who stand before that great bar."

GREAT TEACHER HELD KING OF ALL MANKIND

"There is an impassable gulf between Christ and all other men," declared Dr. Bruce Brown in his sermon yesterday at South Park Christian Church. "No one else ever has been able to perfectly exemplify in practice the justice and mercy, courage and humility, love, firmness and gentleness shown in the life of Jesus," said Dr. Brown. "Yet these virtues are normal in Him. He is the only one who could speak on any and every subject without experience.

"Brought up in abject poverty, Jesus laid down the fundamental financial principles that have bulwarked modern civilization. Living in an age of ignorance and superstition He rose above all lines of class and race and outlined the course of all subsequent history. Without an effort He compassed the whole field of human conduct and not a single new virtue has been discovered in 2000 years.

"As the candle is to the sun are the teachings of others compared to those of Jesus."

PASTOR DISCUSSES TRUE CHRISTIANITY

Dr. H. C. Culbertson, copastor with Dr. C. F. Aked of All Souls Congregational Church, preached at Plymouth Congregational Church yesterday on "Christianity." He said in part:

"Christianity is not a creed or a book or a church organization, but the personal influence of Jesus among men. The extent to which a man really believes in Jesus may be seen by the way in which he lives out, or sincerely tries to live out, the teachings of the Master and to follow the example of the Master's life.

"To believe that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God, means to believe that human nature and divine nature are so much the same in kind that God can reveal His character in terms of human life, and that human lives can become Godlike. Jesus sought to teach, not only that He is God's Son and that God is His Father, but that we may become morally God's sons and find God is our Father."

"TEST OF RELIGION" SERMON SUBJECT

Dr. Sheldon Shepard, pastor of the White Church, preached yesterday on "The Test of Religion." Dr. Shepard said in part:

"Creed is no test of religion, church allegiance is no indication of righteousness. Every persecution, from the bloody Inquisition to the twentieth-century slanderers of the soul, is a testimony that the persecutor knows nothing about the heart of religion. Better a hundred false creeds than a bitter heart.

"There is only one test for religion: How much of God does it let into humnan life—how much good will, kindness, happiness, power. One who knows God in that way needs no instrument of torture to make him feel secure, no unbrotherly denunciation to satisfy his heart. It is an empty heart that has to try to make itself seem full by declaring another's spiritual bankruptcy."

CHRISTIAN SCIENTISTS DISCUSS "SUBSTANCE"

"Substance" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon yesterday at all Christian Science Churches, branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass. The Lesson-Sermon consisted of Bible verses and correlative passages from the Christian Science text-book, "Science and Health With Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy.

Among the Scriptural selections were these assurances of Paul to the Corinthians: "For our light affliction, which is but for a moment, worketh for us a far more exceeding and eternal weight of glory; while we look not at the things which are seen, but at the things which are not seen; for the things which are seen are temporal; but the things which are not seen are eternal."

The Science and Health passages included these words of Mrs. Eddy: "How true it is that whatever is learned through material sense must be lost because such so-called knowledge is reversed by the spiritual facts of being in Science. That which material sense calls intangible, is found to be substance. What to material sense seems substance, becomes nothingness, as the sense-dream vanishes and reality appears."

"INTERIOR SAGACITY" LECTURER'S TOPIC

A lecture on "Insight, or Interior Sagacity" was given at Music Arts Hall yesterday by Dr. E. E. Thomas of the Universal Order of Occult Science. Dr. Thomas spoke in part as follows:

"Interior sagacity or that which may be discerned by the use of the 'inner eye,' can best be cultivated in the silence, which with the proper associations, will enable us to do far more and better work than we could hope to do by merely drifting along the lines of least resistance. In the silence we become receptive. Our associations are our magnetisms, the fruits of our permanent thoughts or character."

MOTHER WRITES OF SUCCESSFUL EXPERIMENTS IN CHILD REARING

Mrs. B. B. M. writes: "I have been reading your articles for a long time and have often wanted to write you of my experiences. First I want to tell you what I think may be the cause of night terrors. They may be caused by visiting unusual places and hearing terrifying tales. Although adults may not intend to frighten them, children remember these stories which cause them to have bad dreams.

"I always avoid discussion of a worrisome nature in the presence of the children. I noticed my children were always restless at night after they had been away from home. After I observed this I made an effort to get them home so they would have an hour or two in their usual surroundings before bedtime. Then they were ready to go to bed. They are of school age now and are never out later than 8 o'clock.

"Before they were of school age I used to let them play a game called 'Go fishing' with picture cards I made. There were four of each alike in a suit and these had on them pictures of common objects like balls, or milk bottles, or fruits and so on, and under each I printed the name. After they had played with these cards for six weeks I made new ones with only the name and not the picture and they recognized it at sight and the game went on as usual. They all read without trouble and it was no nerve strain as it was just a game.

"I have read everything I can find on the subject of children and so far have been successful with them. They are sometimes naughty at home, but I have the first time for them to embarrass me in public. And they are all boys, too!"

Answer: Your observation about children being upset and fatigued and naughty (usually) after a day away from home, is an accurate one. Too many happy days end up with a spanking for the tired child, because the mother fails to take into account that mischief and fatigue usually go hand in hand. And excitement and fatigue cause restless nights.

You are right, too, in attaching night terrors to frightening stories told to children either as stories or facts which adults accept without thought of their effect on children. But this is only one cause. Enlarged adenoids, glandular deficiencies, anemia and nervousness may all be responsible for night terrors in the young child long before he is old enough to be affected by stories.

Your reading game was a good one. This is practically the method used in schools today in teaching reading, the whole word being shown on cards and at the same time shown in the story, and with pictures to help identify it.

GERMAN DAY CELEBRATED

Park Throng Gathered to Observe Anniversary Hears Plea for Larger Immigration Quota

A call for German-American unity in demanding a larger quota for German immigration to this country was sounded yesterday by Max E. Socha, president of the local German-American League, during an address at the German Day celebration in Rose Hill Park.

Socha spoke in German and in English, pointing out the aspirations of Germans to make their marks in America and urging local persons of German descent to join hands in the movement for lowering the bars on German immigration.

Consul S. C. Hagen drew a word comparison between the American and German attitude at the close of the World War and at present. He said there now is an amiable feeling between the citizens of both countries and that the world flight of the Graf Zeppelin has done its part in bringing the two nations closer together.

Five thousand persons gathered at the park for the all-day program which commemorated the first landing of Germans on American soil October 6, 1683. These Germans were weavers from Krefeld, and settled at Germantown, Pa.

Forty gymnasts from the German Turnverein started the program with a display of exercises. Children's races, dancing and a noon-picnic lunch were followed by the addresses and massed singing.

Musical groups, the Los Angeles Festchor, a mixed chorus of fifty voices, and the Pasadena Maennercorp, comprised of thirty men singers, broadcast old-time German folk and national songs over an amplifying system during the late afternoon.

Church Economy on Edifice Not Penalized

Suit Singular in Defendant's Plea for Plaintiff

If a building is planned at a certain expenditure and then the builders, unable to finance it, decide to erect a cheaper structure, the architects who drew the specifications cannot base their percentage of pay on the first one contemplated. They shall receive their compensation on the percentage of cost of the actual building erected.

This is the opinion of Superior Judge Yankwich who handed down two rulings of importance to California architects in the case of Norman F. Marsh and DeWight I. Kindig, architects, against the Calvary Presbyterian Church of Wilmington. At the close of a short trial Judge Yankwich decided against the plaintiffs.

Marsh and Kindig brought suit against the building committee of the church for $3065.95, asserted to be due for architectural services.

CHURCH NONRESISTING

A novel feature of the action was in the answer filed by the church committee wherein it neither admitted nor denied liability but asked the court to grant the plaintiff such relief "as shall seem meet and equitable to the court."

The church did not offer any testimony at the hearing, but contented itself with the wording of the contract itself.

The two architects told this story of church building financing:

SIGHTS TOO HIGH

At first a mere sketch was made which contemplated a very pretentious church building. Unable to raise the necessary funds these sketches were abandoned. New sketches and plans were made which called for the use of the old church edifice. However, before anything could be done with these, the old structure burned. Of course the second sketches had to be abandoned.

Final plans then were drawn which were accepted and on which bids were awarded in the sum of $62,644.51. Alternate bids were also received, which were not accepted, calling for additional work which would have brought the cost of the church up to $81,649.

"MIGHT HAVE BEEN"

Work was begun on the church, according to the bids awarded. The building committee paid the architects $2500 on account. The architects brought suit contending that they were entitled to the reasonable value of the work done on the sketches which were not used.

"The agreement contemplated that these sketches should not be paid for separately but should be a part of the compensation on the completed plans," said Judge Yankwich in ruling that they were not entitled to $2000 for this work.

The architects then contended that their percentage should be based on the church as contemplated, not on the church as built. But Judge Yankwich held that the contracts actually awarded are the basis of compensation.

Clothing Firm Retiring From Business Field

Politz & McDowell, conducting a clothing store at 619 South Hill street, will retire from business, it was announced yesterday. Their Hollywood lease and fixtures have been sold to Hendrickson and Landstrom and the stock from this store has been moved to the Hill-street location, where a retiring-from-business sale has been announced, starting Wednesday.

Mr. Politz said he will enter the motion-picture world. Mr. McDowell plans to enter another business field.

STREET LIGHTS REQUESTED

The City Council has received requests from the Automobile Club of Southern California and from the Wilshire District Chamber of Commerce to place street lights on Wilshire Boulevard along the Lafayette Park frontage. The Auto Club's letter expresses the opinion that the absence of lights is a contributing cause to accidents at the intersection of Wilshire Boulevard and Benton Way. The matter has been referred to the Street Lighting Engineer and the Traffic and Street Lighting Committee.

DANCES AND RHYTHMS HIT

Carroll Revue Snappy Show in Ensemble Effects

Mitzi Mayfair and Other Steppers Applauded

Clever Talent Evidenced in Colorful Production

BY EDWIN SCHALLERT

Class in costumes—musical numbers that have a lilt—very clever dancing—and ideas—

All of these "Harry Carroll's Revue" evidenced at its opening performance last night at the Music Box Theater. It is a nice snappy little show in its general ensemble—the most promising of the kind that has opened here in months.

A capacity audience was on hand to witness the premiere. Harry Carroll's entertainment of other days is well remembered, and he has gone ahead several strides in the embellishment and quality of his production since then.

He presents a good-sized aggregation of talented people in his new show. The winners are mostly the steppers. Indeed, one of them, Mitzi Mayfair, is a tremendous hit. Just about the most pleasing little dancer that has been seen about here in a long time. It is her winsomeness that captivates as much as her work—the originality of manner that she displays. And she has marked gifts as well. She was by way of being the star.

The production is shy on good comedy. There are plenty of blackouts but some of them miss. Also the jokes . . . well that one about the mongoose is fine the first time you have heard it. There is need for rewriting and revising along this line.

Furthermore a real introducer is needed. There is no Will Morrissey of the good old days in this show. Will Ahern tries it, and Al K. Hall does fairly, but neither of them succeed in filling this vital spot.

Ahern makes up for his deficiency in the ceremonials of the introductions with some marvelous dancing, especially in the western episode. He is a versatile chap, and reliable. He might do better even with the comedy did he have better material, because he showed a capacity to win laughs with some of the smarter lines.

Hall has a broad line of comedy, which many will enjoy. The professional first-nighter is less responsive to his particular brand of entertainment than are the others on laughter bent.

Dancing dominates and singing. The Three Brox Sisters croon along through the show, and are liked. They also take part in a black-out or two. They lend an efficient charm to the musical side of the show.

Antonio de Marco and Arline Langan are artistic in their dances. They give a decided note of interest whenever they appear. Ann Greenway with her singing and acting in a semiserious sketch achieves attention. Gil Ray, Gladys Ahern and Vera Marsh are reliable. Miss Marsh is especially good in the Spanish burlesque dance with Hall. This was a special hit.

In its numbers Carroll's revue takes one here and there and everywhere as revues should. A novel opening chorus, with clever lines about getting into the movies, leads the way to the picturesqueness of an airplane ensemble, the Bronco Twist in the western setting; and a glorified Blue Step as the close of the first act. The second portion of the show presents Japanese and Spanish ideas, and a night club as a finale. The rope twirling in the western episode is a novelty that captures.

It is the variety, the colorfulness of the chorus work, and the excellence of the dancing specialties that augur well for the success of this show. With some polishing to its comedy it will be in the real hit class, and it is interesting and pepful and up-to-the- minute in its general results right now.

Harry Carroll himself appears on the stage, assisting as master of ceremonies. In collaboration with Ray Klages and Jesse Greer he wrote the lyrics and music, which are of an engaging sort. The dances and ensembles are credited to Antonio de Marco, and he deserves especial praise for these. Bud Murray is mentioned as authoring the idea for the rather clever blue number.

Famous Player Acts as Critic for Duffy Star

When Taylor Holmes first started on his stage career he appeared with E. H. Sothern in Shakespearean repertoire and with Richard Mansfield in "Cyrano de Bergerac" and other plays of the star's list.

Holmes was ambitious and one day he organized a company to present a special matinee of "Hamlet" with himself in the title role. Mansfield always carried a large company with him and the actor had no difficulty in filling the parts.

The star consented to watch the performance and afterward he went back stage and said to Holmes: "The trouble with most young people is they are not willing to work hard to learn how to act. You're the first young actor I've ever had who was willing to put effort into learning stage technic."

ORIENTAL MOTIF OFFERED

"An Oriental Fantasy" is the title of the new burlesque offering at the Burbank Theater, and is the initial offering of James Yeoman at this playhouse. Yeoman joins the Burbank burlesquers after a very successful season in Detroit at the National Theater. In "An Oriental Fantasy" Charlie Fritcher and Billy Mossey take comedy roles and provide plenty of action. Ensemble of forty-five young ladies in an array of oriental costumes is pleasing. Fay Norman, June Rhoads and Betsy Ross offer a number of specialties also of an oriental nature which are very well executed. Jane Hazelton, prima donna, is an outstanding feature of this week's entertainment. Yeoman, besides being producer of the Burbank company, is doing straight parts and demonstrates his ability as an actor.

PREMIERE PLANS REVEALED

Fireworks and the greatest array of searchlights, arc lights and colored spotlights ever assembled for any occasion will be a feature of the gala world premiere on Wednesday night of Will Rogers's first talking picture, "They Had to See Paris."

Walter Quinlan, chief engineer for Fox, and Ray C. Fitzgerald have completed the plans for the greatest electrical display in Los Angeles theatrical history, it is said. The Carthay Circle is the ideal spot for such a display and full advantage will be taken of that fact. With good visibility it is estimated that the Carthay lights will be seen by ships thirty miles at sea and as far north as Santa Barbara.

Radio broadcasting as well as talking pictures of the ceremonies both inside and outside the theater will be other features of the occasion. The Paris office of Fox Movietone at 22 Rue Pigalle, Paris, has made arrangements with the international broadcasting station in Paris to send a congratulatory message to Will Rogers from the Eiffel Tower station in Paris, to be received just as the premiere of "They Had to See Paris" starts.

PARAMOUNT WILL FILM "JEALOUSY"

Jeanne Eagles Portrays Leading Role in Noted Verneuil Story

"Jealousy," the widely discussed stage success with only two characters, has been made into an all-talking picture by Paramount, and will be the next attraction at the Paramount Theater. In making the picture, however, Paramount has used a complete cast of experienced stage and screen players.

Jeanne Eagels, noted stage star of "Rain" and many other Broadway hits, is seen in her second starring talking motion-picture role in "Jealousy." Her first picture, "The Letter," was recently seen here. Her unusually fine performance in that picture prompted Paramount officials to secure her services for "Jealousy." The selection came only after a long search was conducted in the theatrical field.

Frederick March appears opposite Miss Eagels in this new production. The roles that Miss Eagels and March portray were created on the stage by Fay Bainter and John Halliday. "Jealousy" was written by the celebrated French author, Louis Verneuil, and was directed by Jean de Limur.

BEATRICE LILLIE SAILS FOR HOME

Beatrice Lillie has departed for New York after a stay of some weeks in Beverly Hills and will immediately sail for her native England and a month's visit at home. According to Leo Morrison, her Hollywood representative, the noted comedienne will return here about November 1, next, to begin work on a series of pictures for one of the large film companies.

Definite announcement of the contract probably will be made within a fortnight, when several details of the proposed agreement have been settled.

FINE BILL AT FOLLIES

The original Billy Foster and his clever partner in comedy, Marty Semon, make "Tip Top Girls" one of the smartest and most hilarious burlesque shows presented at the Follies this season. It is a well-rounded cast that supports Foster and Semon through the merry round of specialties and scenes. Evelyn Ramsay, Nellie Ryder and Bell White, soubrettes, entertain in their customary original manner, while Beatrice Franklin, prima donna, has an excellent voice which she displays to good advantage in several numbers. Hal Ford, Mack White and George Crump complete the male cast. The ensembles are well staged and afford the forty attractive dancing girls, who make up that essential adjunct to burlesque, plenty of opportunity to display their talents. This ensemble offers two hours of pleasing entertainment.

NO WAITS FOR GRIBBON

Harry Gribbon's product is so popular, it is said, that Mack Sennett has decided to shorten the gaps between his productions. Gribbon has been making about two comedies a month, but the new average will be three. Story tellers and gag men will have two vehicles completed simultaneously, to insure against delay. The pictures are released to Educational. Gribbon's two last pictures are "The Lucky Niblick" and "The Movie Hero."

Spanish Show Received With Marked Favor

Saturday night was a night of Mexico and Spain at the Million Dollar, witnessed by a packed auditorium. The presentation was given for the benefit of the Mexican hospital and clinic of San Antonio, Tex. It was organized by Senor Ignacio E. Lozano, publisher of leading Mexican newspapers in the Texan city and here, and he should be congratulated upon the success and brilliance of the performance.

The salient features of the progam were among others: The presentation of Raquel Torres and Armida, prominent in the Hollywood Latin-American colony; the singing of Mme. Maria Grever, foremost Mexican composer of New York; the songs of Alma Real, Mexican dramatic soprano, and the character interpretations of Luisa Espinel of Spain.

An event of importance was also the premier showing of the first Spanish-talking motion picture ever made, the title of which is "Una Noche en Hollywood" or "A Night in Hollywood," presented by Carl Laemmle. It was enthusiastically received.

Singing Honors Awarded to Local Artists

Miss Flory Hamlin, coloratura, and Leroy Calvin Henderson, tenor, won the decision of the judges at the local audition of the Atwater Kent contest Saturday night. John Smallman was chairman of the audition. Over sixty contestants were heard at the Beaux Arts Auditorium before a committee of Los Angeles musicians.

The young singers were between the ages of 18 and 25, were nonprofessionals studying with a career in mind and the winners will contest at a State audition during October. The State winners will contest in a district audition and the finals will be held in New York in December.

Miss Hamlin has a flexible coloratura soprano and exact intonation. Mr. Henderson is a young blind musician who possesses a voice of appealing quality and a rare gift of style.

"Bad Babies" in Last Two Weeks

Only two weeks remain of the run of "Bad Babies," it was announced. The Figueroa Playhouse has not known such crowds since it was built, the management asserts. The fact that "Moon Madness," a musical comedy, has been booked, will force the "Bad Babies," company to leave for San Francisco. The 28th inst. is the closing date.

The cast of the drama includes Jobyna Ralston, Arthur Rankin, Elinor Flynn, Dario Shindell, Mervin Williams, Annette Westbay, Norman Peck and Dorothy Gould.

CAWTHORN FINISHES

Joseph Cawthorn will have another interesting release with "Jazz Heaven" which he has just finished for R.K.O. in the role of the German music publisher. Prior to this he filled a long engagement in the "Taming of the Shrew," which costars Mary Pickford and Douglas Fairbanks.

COMEDIANS INDULGE IN FUN FEST

Drollery Presented in Characteristic Style; Other Acts Please

BY MURIEL BABCOCK

A pair of comic gentlemen, named respectively Jack Benny and Bert Wheeler, enliven this week's bill at the Orpheum to the point where it becomes a wow of a show.

Mr. Benny is his urbane, droll self, strolling nonchalantly upon the rostrum at the beginning of each offering to pass ironic comment upon what passes before and what should pass before his gaze. Mr. Wheeler, ostensibly somewhat less poised, also saunters without apparent purpose, on and off the stage, pausing briefly to munch an ever-present apple and to complain bitterly of Mr. Benny's maneuvers and his sardonic tongue.

Aimless though their strollings and comments may be, they yet flash brightly with humor of such potency that the onlooker is reduced to helpless laughter. And for what better reward could any comic hope?

Following the intermission, each appears briefly in an individual offering, and each is careful to assure those present that the gags presented are totally different from those of the week before. I don't know that any one of their quips would win prizes in a 1929 joke book contest. Maybe Mr. Benny and even Mr. Wheeler are getting along in years, for what they say all seems reminiscent of other days, perhaps other years, but such is the manner of presentation that Mr. Benny particularly, and Mr. Wheeler, too, can come back to the Orpheum any old time the writer is there.

The entire bill savors of comedy. At the beginning after the Gilbert Brothers, "athletes extraordinary," strut their stuff, Doris Canfield and Jerry White come on to dance and poke fun. Miss Canfield, particularly, is rather clever.

Then arrived Harry A. White and Alice Manning. They are described on the program as "international dancing stars." The description may be true enough in a sense, although it connotes more of a highbrow performance than what occurs. What this pair really do is burlesque, in grand fashion, a hot Spanish number. They do a great job of it. Three black curly-headed lads dressed in smart military costumes like ushers at a ritzy motion-picture palace, start the act off with a display, in formation, of smart, rapidly rhythmic tap work.

The headline act is that of Lieut. Gitz Rice and his Northwest Mounties in an original song cycle. Lieut. Rice might be Irish. At least in manner and appearance he has the charm and the color of a warmly pleasant Celt. His "mounties," all dressed up in the bright red uniforms of Canadian officers, are robust, hearty looking chaps, who can sing and do. I liked them. Everyone seemed to. It only was a pity that the song cycle could not have been brightened with more variety. Some good old ballads would have scored a great hit, it seemed, although as it was, "Hinky-Dink," "Parley Voo," "Dear Old Pal o' Mine," Joyce Kilmer's song poem of "Trees" and one or two other selections sounded exceedingly well. Miss Gabrielle Tremblay, a "Canadienne" (whatever that is) danced.

The program came to a conclusion with a jazz orchestra program from the Maryland Collegians. They were a little "blah."

Chinese Staff Enlarged for Reservations

The announcement of the opening today of the sale of tickets for the western premiere, the 24th inst., of the William Fox Movietone production "The Cock-Eyed World," brings the statement from the management of Grauman's Chinese Theater to the effect that it has enlarged the reservation and box-office staffs to adequately handle reservations.

Coming direct to Los Angeles from its sensational run in New York, where for four consecutive weeks it broke all world's records, "The Cock-Eyed World" has stirred up more interest among people in all walks of life than any picture in the last five years, it is claimed.

"The Cock-Eyed World," adapted from a story by Lawrence Stallings and Maxwell Anderson, is a child of Raoul Walsh's brain, so to speak, for he not only directed the picture but wrote the scenario as well. Victor McLaglen and Edmund Lowe, who immortalized Flagg and Quirt in "What Price Glory?" are again seen in those characters, but this time via Fox Movietone.

Lily Damita and El Brendel, the Swede, are cofeatured with McLaglen and Lowe.

Sound Effects Add Realism to Chaney Picture

"Where am I? In a theater, or in the Grand Central railway station?"

So queried a patron of Loew's State Theater yesterday on entering the auditorium and hearing the clang of engine bells, the moan of whistles, the screeching of air brakes, the raucous puffing of giant locomotives and other familiar sounds of a railroad yards.

On reaching his seat, however, he discovered that the sounds, which reverberated noisily through the house, were synchronized with the action of Lon Chaney's drama of the roaring rails, "Thunder." The sound effects are declared to have opened up an entirely new thrill and fascination to this type of screen fiction, heretofore silent.

COMEDIANS IN FILMS

With two teams of professional ball players adding background to the principal players, Van and Schenck, noted vaudeville songbirds, are making their motion-picture debut in Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's new musical talkie, "Take It Big." Bessie Love is playing the leading feminine role in the picturization of the original A. P. Younger baseball story which Jack Conway is directing.

FOX ACQUIRES NEW THEATERS

Twenty-eight More Bought in Rockies' Region

Most of Houses Located in Colorado Cities

General Operation Will be Guided from Here

The William Fox organization has taken over twenty-eight additional theaters in the Rocky Mountain country, according to an announcement yesterday by General Manager Harold B. Franklin.

The theaters comprise the Consolidated Theaters circuit of motion-picture theaters in Denver, Rocky Ford, Delta, Montrose Fort Morgan, Sterling, Walsenberg, Boulder and Durango in Colorado; a theater in Sheridan, Wyo., and one in Rapid City, S. D.

Acquisition of the circuit together with the thirty-four theaters of the K. and M. circuit recently acquired gives Fox a total of sixty-two houses in that territory. It is the plan of Franklin to arrange these houses into separate divisions of operation, one to be known as the Northern Rocky Mountain Division and the other as the Southern Division. Gus Kohn and Rick Ricketson, Colorado showmen, will be in charge of the local operations for the new owners. A divisional operating office will be located in Denver, with the policy of the organization and the individual theaters determined through the Los Angeles office of Franklin.

Western Electric talking picture equipment will be installed in those theaters now running "silent" and the physical properties of the new houses will be changed to Fox standards.

BAY CITY HOUSE PURCHASED BY FOX

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 15. (Exclusive)—El Capitan Theater, the second largest in San Francisco, has been sold to Fox-West Coast and will be operated by that company beginning next Thursday, it was learned today. Ackerman, Harris & Oppen, who have operated the theater since its construction nearly three years ago, are the sellers.

El Capitan, until the completion of the Fox Theater, was the largest here.

The acquisition by Fox-West Coast gives it three large theaters in San Francisco. It already operates the Fox and Loew's Warfield.

PASADENA OFFERS AID TO HIGHWAY

City Will Put Up $25,000 to Build Extension of Colorado Street

Pasadena is so anxious that Colorado street in that city be extended eastward to connect directly with the Foothill and Valley boulevards at Arcadia, that the Board of Directors of Pasadena has offered to transfer $25,000 from its share of the gasoline tax quota to help pay for paving of the Colorado-street extensions in the city limits of Arcadia.

A large part of the territory in the city limits of Arcadia is in the Baldwin ranch, and through this holding routes for the Colorado-street extensions as well as extensions of Huntington Drive, have been surveyed.

Supervisor McClellan said that the county's share of State tax money was not allocated according to cities, but that it was applied wherever the need was greatest. He intimated that the Board of Supervisors will consider favorably such an important improvement as the extension of Colorado street, which now ends with a right-angled turn to a detour of the highway around the north side of the ranch.

Road plans approved by Arcadia propose that Colorado street shall be continued straight through the Baldwin ranch to connect with arterial highways already paved through Arcadia and Monrovia.

PARKING COMPLAINT FILED

Complaint has been filed with the Police Board by Principal George E. Larkey of Coronel school against the parking of automobiles on Decatur street, adjacent to the school, in violation of "No Parking" signs on the street.

TONIC MEASURE UP AGAIN TODAY

Werner to Notify Council of His Opinion

Holds Proposed Ordinance to be Unworkable

City Attorney Will Offer Legal Substitute

Although the City Council assumed it had settled the controversy over the indiscriminate sale of wine tonics in the city on Friday, it is due to be revived in the Council today through the receipt of notification from City Attorney Werner that he considers the Council's proposed prohibitory ordinance unconstitutional.

The Council finally agreed Friday on the outline of an ordinance designed to stop the sale of wine tonics and voted unanimously to instruct the City Attorney to prepare an ordinance with that outline. It took this action in the face of a verbal opinion from Deputy City Attorney Neal that his office could not attest to the legality of the Council's proposal.

Shortly after the Council transmitted its instructions in regard to the wine-tonic ordinance to him on Friday, City Attorney Werner said he will notify the Council today that he cannot approve it as to form.

DEFINITION ANALYZED

The main argument against the Council proposal, he said, is that it is unconstitutional, inasmuch as "the entire matter proposed to be legislated upon and restricted in the proposed ordinance is covered in an identical manner in the Wright Act."

In addition, he said, difficulty would arise from the Council's definition of wine tonics and other similar preparations as "preparations containing more than one-half of 1 per cent of alcohol, which have not been so medicated as to prevent their use as beverages."

FORM SUGGESTED

It is understood he will advise the Council it can meet both the legal and practical objections to its present proposal by outlining its ordinance as one "prohibiting the sale of preparations containing more than one-half of one per cent of alcohol in which wine is used as a base except upon bona fide physicians' prescriptions."

Such an ordinance, he pointed out, will not allow of evasion by argument over such disputable matters as whether the preparations have been sufficiently medicated to prevent their being used as beverages.

WALKER WILL REFUSE PERMITS FOR TONICS

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 15. (Exclusive)—Initial steps in the policing of grape juices as a factor in the rehabilitation of the industry, were taken today by Prohibition Administrator Walker.

The administrator announced he will refuse permits to wine tonic manufacturers unless than are able to prove their products are distributed legally.

The Federal Fruit Stabilization Corporation, California Vineyardists' Association, Fruit Industries, Inc., and other units in the grape industry, have taken preliminary steps to protect the distribution of juices.

Continental Air Express Puts on New Ford Liner

Continental Air Express yesterday announced the addition of a twelve-passenger Ford trimotor all-metal air liner to its fleet operating between this city and San Francisco. The new ship, which C.A.E. pilots have been testing for the past several days, made its first trip to the Bay district yesterday afternoon, carrying a capacity load. It will be kept on the regular run with the Fokker trimotors now in use by the company, although a change in schedule is to be anticipated, officials of the line declared.

The regular morning and afternoon ships of C.A.E. will stay on the run, leaving Los Angeles at 8:30 a.m. and 3 p.m., respectively, and the new Ford will be added to the afternoon run for the time being. A revised schedule of arrivals and departures is being prepared.

Norwegian Explorer to Sail for Ross Sea Today to Conserve Industry on World's Last Frontier

Conservation of the resources of the world's last frontier, the Antarctic, is the unique mission on which Lieut. Bernt Dingsor, explorer and officer of the Royal Norwegian Navy, will depart Los Angeles Harbor today for the Ross Sea aboard the Norwegian whaler Sir James Clark Ross. Lieut. Dingsor has been named Antarctic whaling commissioner by Norway, under an agreement with Great Britain, and his task will be to conserve for the future the industry from which Norway obtains revenues of $30,000,000 annually.

Coincident to Lieut. Dingsor's visit, the port yesterday had the distinction of supplying the world's two largest whaling vessels, the Norwegian steamers C. A. Larsen, which last October took Commander Richard E. Byrd and his party from the port to the Antarctic, and her sister, the Sir James Clark Ross.

THEY SAIL TODAY

Both are operated by the Ross Sea Whaling Company and stopped en route from their home port, Sandefjord, Norway, to load fuel, whaling supplies and food stores, to the value of $150,000.

Both will sail for the Antarctic today. The C. A. Larsen has aboard several hundred tons of supplies for the Byrd expedition, which the ship will deliver direct to the expedition's base in the Bay of Whales, Ross Sea.

A passenger on the C. A. Larsen will be Lieut. Harry Adams, United States Navy, retired, navy hydrographic expert, who is going back for his second season with the Byrd expedition in the study of weather conditions in the Ross quadrant, as the "incubator of storms."

Lieut. Dingsor, who, in addition to being foremost ordnance expert of the Royal Norwegian Navy, has made several Antarctic and Arctic expeditions to study the peregrinations of whales, explains that the Ross Sea, great body of open water several hundred miles south of the Antarctic ice barrier, is the scene of the last stand of the once-plentiful hordes of the tribe of Moby Dick for two reasons—first, because of the millions of small shell fish infesting the Ross Sea, natural food for whales, and second, the hitherto inaccessibility of the area prior to construction of the present 20,000-ton oil-burning, electrically equipped whaling factory ships.

A. Grove Knutsen, local agent of the Ross Sea fleet, who supervised loading of 56,000 barrels of fuel oil on each giant whaler, together with $75,000 worth of operating supplies and food stores, said that the C. A. Larsen probably will bring back a portion of the Byrd personnel and equipment next April when she brings back the oil and byproducts from her season's catch.

NEW BRUIN BACKFIELD THREAT

You are looking at Norman Duncan, a youngster who tips the beam at 185 pounds, is said to be some pumpkin of a football player. Duncan, who starred on the Bruin freshmen team last season, won quite a reputation in prep circles while he was at Santa Barbara High. Coach Spaulding expects to get a lot of work out of Duncan this season, either as a fullback or halfback. He can kick, pass or carry the ball with equal skill, the Bruin scouts claim. Duncan may have to carry a good deal of Bruin backfield burden this season, the experts point out. Photo by Paul Strite, Times staff photographer.

BRUINS WILL BEAR DOWN

Two Practice Periods Each Day This Week Set for U.C.L.A. Football Warriors

BY FRANK ROCHE

University of California at Los Angeles Bruins take the bit in their mouths in earnest this morning when they report for the second day's football practice at Westwood.

Head Coach Bill Spaulding will take advantage of the fact that registration does not start until Friday and classes on Monday by driving his gridiron candidates through two hard practice periods a day from now until Saturday afternoon. The Bruin football mentor realizes he has a tremendous task on his hands this year in shaping up a team for the schedule that U.C.L.A. has drawn up and that there is no time to be lost if anything is to be accomplished. U.C.L.A. opens its season on the 28th inst. at the Coliseum against the Trojans.

The Bruins have less than two weeks to get in condition for a game which will take a tremendous toll on them. Knowing this Bill Spaulding and his assistants, A. J. Sturzenegger and Hugh MacDonald, will use the whip so to speak on the boys in the practice sessions this week. The Bruins will more than likely start regular scrimmage work tomorrow. Today they will limber up with blocking and tackling

THREE MENTIONED TO SUCCEED A.A.U. PRESIDENT

Pressure of Business Duties Causes Official to Avoid Seeking Re-election

BY BRAVEN DYER

Robert S. (Bob) Weaver, for the past fourteen years president of the Southern Pacific Association of the A.A.U., will resign his position this week, he stated last night.

Mr. Weaver, formerly national president of the A.A.U., feels that the press of business duties is such that he cannot do justice both to his work or that of the athletic organization. In addition the veteran athletic official feels that he has served the A.A.U. to the best of his ability and that the time has come for somebody else to carry on in his stead.

BOB WEAVER

The annual election of officers for the Southern Pacific Association does not take place until next week (Tuesday night,) but a preliminary meeting is scheduled for tomorrow evening at the Los Angeles Athletic Club. This gathering will be attended by the Board of Governors of the A.A.U. and other officials and it is at this time that Weaver will tell his coworkers that his business demands more attention than it has received for many, many years, and that he will therefore not be a candidate to succeed himself.

Who will succeed Weaver as president of the local body is a question that the officials and delegates alone can answer. It is said that three men are being considered for the office, Warren Bovard, Kinter Hamilton and Leslie A. Henry.

Mr. Bovard is vice-president of the University of Southern California, a member of the Board of Governors of the A.A.U. and a man who would make an ideal president for the organization. He has long been identified with amateur athletics in Southern California, but is probably too busy to take the A.A.U. post.

Mr. Hamilton is one of the vice-presidents of the local body, is a trustee and chairman of the track and field committee. He is a school man and probably would not have

Root Hurls Chicago to 13-to-4 Victory Over Brooklyn

CHICAGO, Sept. 15. (AP)—Chicago trounced Brooklyn, 13 to 4, here today and moved within one victory of the National League pennant.

The Cubs can become mathematically certain if they win tomorrow or if Pittsburgh drops one of its two games with Philadelphia.

CHARLEY ROOT

Charley Root pitched his seventeenth victory of the season as the Cubs assaulted Newsome, McWeeny, Morrison and Ballou for eighteen hits. Hornsby drove out his thirty-seventh homer in the sixth. Tolson got four hits in five trips to the plate. Buck Newsome, the Robin recruit, was hammered from the box in the first inning, under a barrage of five hits, two bases on balls helping to score the six runs that were chased over the plate in that inning.

Johnny Frederick led the Brooklyn assault on Root with a home run, double and a single. His double gave him forty-nine, one under the league record of fifty held by Paul Waner.

UPLIFTERS WIN MALLET TILT FROM SAN MATEO

Well-balanced team play brought a polo victory to Uplifters' Club horsemen yesterday at Rustic Canyon Field. The Santa Monica mallet swingers' clock-like polo performance gave them a one-sided victory over the highly touted San Mateo riders by a 9-to-2 score. The victory was considered quite an upset as the northern team was a heavy favorite at post time to cop the game. Snowy Baker and Clair Brunson, the two Uplifters' safety men, made a sweet job of bottling up Willie Tevis, San Mateo star, while the Uplifters' forwards, Hal Roach and Scott Hackley, scored goals at random.

Hal Roach was the outstanding star in the scoring department. Roach rung up four goals. Hackley grabbed three digits and Baker and Brunson slipped across with one apiece.

Dana Fuller was the only visitor to break into the scoring column. He tallied two goals. Tevis played a fast game, but he was never able to get away from Baker and Brunson long enough to do any damage.

San Mateo will play the Uplifters again next Sunday in the final game of the series, which will also ring down the curtain on the summer polo season.

LANE PEDDLES ELI TO TIGERS

Purchase Price for Sheik Player Not Announced

Stars Have Two Men Coming From Bengals in Deal

Sale Made by Hollywooders to Prevent Drafting

Eli Funk, hard-hitting Hollywood outfielder, and popular favorite with Wrigley Field fans, has been sold to the Detroit Tigers it was announced last night by Bill Lane, owner of the Stars. The purchase price was not announced, but it was a fairly large sum and the Detroit club also agreed to delivery to the Sheiks two players agreeable to owner Lane.

Lane would have liked to keep Funk, whom he obtained from the New York Yankees in the deal that sent Gordon Rhodes to Miller Huggins's club, but was forced to sell his sensational left-fielder to prevent his being drafted. Funk is subject to the draft and would surely have been claimed by some major-league club had Lane tried to keep him. The draft season opened at midnight last night so Lane and the Detroit club just did get under the wire.

Since coming to the Stars late last spring, Funk has proved a sensation for Bill Lan's club, both in the field and at the plate. Just at present Eli ranks right up one-two-three in the race for Coast League batting honors. The fleet-footed little fly chaser hammered out six hits in eight times at bat yesterday to swell his average close to the 390 mark.

Funk will remain with Hollywood during the remainder of the 1929 season and will report to Bucky Harris's Tigers next spring.

While Lane is not now in a position to say which players the Tigers will send to Hollywood next year, it is known that the Star skipper is angling for an infielder and an outfielder to take Funk's place.

SOLD TO DETROIT

Hollywood fans will see Eli Funk, popular Hollywood outfielder, no more after this season for the Stars yesterday announced his sale to the Detroit Tigers for an unannounced purchase price and two players. Funk, who came to Hollywood from the Yankees, celebrated his returning to the majors yesterday by hammering out six hits in eight times at bat to help the Stars twice defeat the Missions and go back into first place.

Zuppke Anticipates Hotly Fought Battle for "Big Ten" Title; Notre Dame Rated Hig

DOES NOT FAVOR ILLINOIS TO RETAIN CHAMPIONSHIP

Minnesota, Wisconsin, Michigan to be Among Strongest Midwestern Teams; Illini Also Dangerous

BY BOB ZUPPKE,
Football Coach, University of Illinois
[Copyright, 1929, by the North American Newspaper Alliance.]

URBANA (Ill.) Sept. 15.—It's a wise region that knows its own football champion even when the season ends, let alone in advance.

Nowhere is this more true than in the Middle West, with its Big Ten, the largest organization of big universities in the country, whose teams for the most part are evenly matched and prone to ruin each other's aspirations.

I look for a closely contested season, perhaps comparable to last year, when, omitting Chicago from consideration, the largest margin of victory gained by one Big Ten team over another was Minnesota's 15 points against Purdue. In only three other games did the victors triumph by two touchdowns. The final Saturday four teams were possibilities for the championship.

Minnesota, Wisconsin, Michigan and Illinois, in the Big Ten, Nebraska in the Big Six and Notre Dame, at large, should be among the best teams.

Coach Thistlethwaite, Wisconsin, says the set-up is all wrong for Illinois, with two consecutive championships just behind it, and that undoubtedly some underdog will upset the Illini, which is not bad reasoning.

NINE LOST

Nowack, tackle, was the most important of the nine players Illinois lost. Seventeen letter men, only some of whom were regulars, are back from the 1928 champions. We should have an excellent nucleus in such linemen as Capt. Crane, Gordon and Wietz, and such backs as Timm, Mills, Walker, Humbert, Peters and Lanum, who was a good punter and passer in 1926.

It is absurd to say that Illinois' outlook is anything but bright, but don't forget the imponderables Thistlethwaite mentioned.

Minnesota has lost outstanding players, notably Gibson, Ukkelberg and Johnson, linemen; Haycraft, end, and Hovde, backfield flash. The Gophers say they lack line material, but they have such an abundance of backs that Dr. Spears may shift Bronko Nagurski to tackle, his old position.

Minnesota's fourteen veterans include Tanner, perhaps the best end in the Big Ten, and Brockmyer, a dangerous back. Although it is said their new material is only average, it is a good guess the Gophers will be formidable.

Michigan's losses, barring Pommerening, tackle, are unimportant, and fifteen veterans of the 1928 team, which pulled itself together so splendidly in the closing games against Illinois and Iowa, are an excellent foundation.

The Wolverines are popularly supposed to have many strong sophomores, but one advice from Ann Arbor holds that only two or three are worth mentioning. Nevertheless, Michigan's potential strength is always great, and under a new coach, Harry Kipke, who has fire and drive, the Wolverines will be dangerous.

MORALE GOOD

Wisconsin's heaviest losses were in the line, and included Wagner, Binish, Connor and Backus. The Badgers looked for a good backfield, but a weaker line, until at least half a dozen new linemen showed great promise in spring practice.

"Bo" Cuisinier, quarterback and dangerous open-field runner, is gone, but Lisby, Rebholz, Oman and Behr are back, and there are good sophomores. Wisconsin's morale is good and should strengthen its chances.

Northwestern's success will depend largely upon the development of sophomores, especially in the line, where new tackles are required. Coach Hanley has lost Holmer, best all-around scoring threat, but Calderwood, Bruder and Griffin head a group of seasoned backs. There are enough veteran players to give the poise of experience, and if the newcomers add sufficient ability and zip Northwestern may be the dark horse of the Big Ten.

Iowa is well fortified with experienced players, but needs tackles, a center, quarterback and fullback. Ingwersen will have at least fifteen letter men. Glassgow, captain, is one of the best backs in the Big Ten.

Suspension by the Big Ten, which takes effect January 1, may inspire a back-to-the-wall attitude in the Hawkeyes that will be hard for rivals to overcome, but Iowa faces a tough schedule—Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Michigan, Ohio State and Purdue.

SUCCEEDS WILCE

Sam Willaman, former coach at Iowa State, and assistant at Ohio State last year, takes charge of Ohio State, succeeding Dr. Jack Wilce. The Buckeyes lost heavily by graduation and Holman and Barratt may not be available. The outlook is not especially bright. Willaman's success will depend largely on whether the Buckeyes have forgotten the past and are united behind the new coach.

Purdue lost nearly all its regular linemen, and its outlook is not much above the average. However, Coach Phelan has high-grade veteran backs in Welch, Caraway and Harmeson, and some promising sophomore ball-carriers.

Indiana has at least fair prospects, with an array of nineteen letter men, including eight who have played two years. Bennett, Randolph, Harrell and Matthew, exceptional players, head the list of the missing.

Chicago, with any kind of break, will be better than last season, when thirteen of the best men were lost by injuries or ineligibilities before the season was well on. Chicago probably will be able to muster a fairly respectable first eleven, but will be shy in reserve strength.

The Big Ten will operate on the third season of the four-year schedule, which started in 1927. Contrary to popular belief this is not a rotating schedule, although it includes a few shifts from year to year. The Michigan-Wisconsin series lapses, but Michigan-Minnesota is restored. Iowa replaces Indiana on the Illinois card.

NOTRE DAME BETTER

All the Big Ten teams play five games with each other, with the exception of Iowa and Michigan, which list six conference opponents. Then there are the Army-Illinois, Harvard-Michigan, Princeton-Chicago, Pittsburgh-Ohio State and Washington-Chicago engagements, which make this the most important intersectional season in Western Conference history. Indiana, Northwestern and Wisconsin all meet Notre Dame.

Notre Dame should be much better than last year, when mishaps to just a few key men were damaging to team morale and the Irish bit the dust in four encounters. This year they will be better fixed for replacements. Rockne has lost his entire backfield, Brady, Collins, Niemic and Chevigny and Miller and Leppig, linemen. There is a plentiful array of linemen, including Capt. Law, guard; Moynihan, center, whose arm was broken in the Southern California game, is back.

Jack Elder, the sprinter; Leahy, a reserve, and Brill, a sophomore, are the best halfbacks, with Mullins and Savoldi, another reserve, fullbacks, and Carrideo and Gebert, quarterbacks.

Notre Dame travels to Indiana, Navy, Wisconsin, Georgia Tech, Carnegie Tech, Army, and Northwestern, and meets Drake, Wisconsin and Southern California in Chicago.

DETROIT STRONG

University of Detroit was one of the few undefeated teams in the country last year, and has won fifteen straight victories in two seasons. Only four regulars remain, including Lloyd Brazil, an outstanding back, but Coach Gus Dorais has sufficient replacement strength to insure an excellent team. A colorful schedule will close with Oregon State and Georgetown at Detroit.

Nebraska, which won the championship of the Big Six last year, the first season after the secession from the old Missouri Valley Conference, probably will retain supremacy. Ernest Bearg, after four years as coach, has left to direct athletics for his alma mater, Washburn, and has been succeeded by D. X. Bible, who made one of the best coaching records in the Southwestern Conference during his long regime as coach of Texas A. and M.

Blue Howell and other outstanding players are gone, but Nebraska has plenty of reserve strength. The Cornhuskers are hosts to Pittsburgh, at Lincoln, and travel to Syracuse.

Missouri and Oklahoma, which tied for second place last season, seem to rank next to Nebraska, with the Tigers probably a shade the better. Missouri will travel east to seek revenge from New York University, which repulsed the Tigers so decisively last season.

Kansas, where Coach Bill Hargiss will begin his second season, has a large squad of veterans, and figures for fourth place. The Jayhawkers finished below Iowa State last year, but have more old players.

DRAKE FAVORED

"Bo" McMillan's Kansas Aggies, who did not win a conference game last season, haven't much better prospects now.

A close race is in prospect for the championship of the Missouri Valley Conference—Drake, Creighton, Grinnell, Washington and Oklahoma A. and M.

Ossie Solem's Drake Bulldogs, who won the championship last year, lost few men. Nesbitt is a high-grade halfback. Chet Wynne's Creighton team probably will be on the heels of the Bulldogs. Grinnell should have another scrappy eleven and be somewhat stronger.

Washington should be improved. Dr. Al Sharpe, beginning his second year as coach, is taking Carnegie Tech to St. Louis November 2, for an intersectional contest.

Lynn Waldorf, former Syracuse guard and line coach at Kansas, succeeds Johnny Maulbetsch at Oklahoma A. and M., which had a poor season last year.

Marquette has lost good men, including Gebert, halfback, but has a fair nucleus of veterans and some promising sophomore backfield material. Coach Frank Murray will have as line coach "Tarzan" Taylor, former Ohio State player and assistant coach. Boston College, undefeated in 1928, will play Marquette at Milwaukee November 16.

Potsy Clark's Butler team, which lost only to Northwestern and Illinois last year, has a fair outlook. Butler will meet New York in the east and Loyola of New Orleans at home.

Ohio Wesleyan, which defeated Michigan and Syracuse last year, has a veteran squad. The battling Bishops will close their season against the Army at West Point November 23.

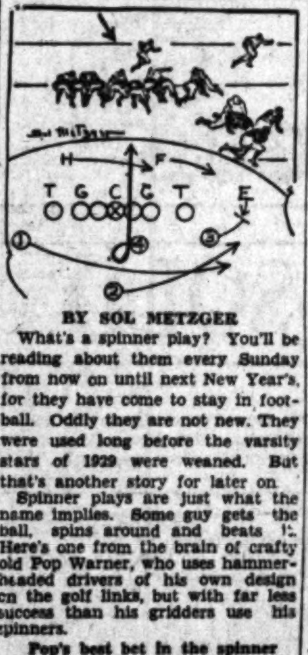
Pop's Spinner Play Favored



BY SOL METZGER

What's a spinner play? You'll be reading about them every Sunday from now on until next New Year's, for they have come to stay in football. Oddly they are not new. They were used long before the varsity stars of 1929 were weaned. But that's another story for later on.

Spinner plays are just what the name implies. Some guy gets the ball, spins around and beats it. Here's one from the brain of crafty old Pop Warner, who uses hammer-headed drivers of his own design on the golf links, but with far less success than his gridders use his spinners.

Pop's best bet in the spinner line is this play. Last fall that rangy, rugged Capt. Hoffman was at No. 4 position. He'd get the ball from center, turn halfway around and make a bluff at giving it to back No. 1, who swept around behind him as though to circle his own right end.

But after No. 1 passed No. 4 and bluffed taking the ball, No. 4 would complete his spin and buck straight ahead through the line. An opening could be expected and often a clear break for from 5 to 10 yards. You see the faked end run of No. 1 tended to hustle out to the threatened end the two defensive backs backing up the line. Tomorrow I'm going to show you just how the spinner is spun so you will know it ever afterward.

TROJANS MEAN REAL BUSINESS

weighs 200 pounds and is an aggressive player.

Right guard lies between Clark Galloway and Jess Shaw, both letter winners last year. The latter was a tackle during the early part of the 1928 season but went to guard when Galloway was laid up part of the time. He is a hard worker and it is our guess that the two will divide the time pretty evenly between them.

Jess Mortensen and Ernie Pinckert are due for a real battle at outside halfback. Personally, we think a lot of both these boys. Mortensen is particularly strong on defense. One of his finest plays last year was in the Notre Dame game. Knute Rockne sent in Johnny O'Brien, 6ft. 2in. Los Angeles boy, to snag passes. Howard Jones countered by replacing Lloyd Thomas, a short man, with Mortensen, who stands 6ft. 2in. tall himself. Jess lived up to expectations by intercepting the very first pass thrown to O'Brien. Jess has a habit of coming through in the pinches, as those who have followed his javelin throwing exploits are aware.

Pinckert, to our way of thinking, is one of the smartest ball players on the club. He is especially powerful when it comes to interference work and that's why Jones has him at the outside halfback post. Ernie can pass and run with the ball and under Jones's new offensive system will be much in evidence.

HILL SPEEDY

At present the fullback post lies between Jess Hill and Jim Musick. Hill made some of the most sensational runs of the season last year. He starts like the crack of doom, getting by tacklers before they can get their hands out to bring him down. Our idea of a good plan would be to use Musick in the early stages of the game and then shoot Hill, faster and quicker, at the opposition. This plan used to work very effectively with Morley Drury and Don Williams.

Of course, none of the other positions are the property of anybody at this time, but it will be hard to dislodge Capt. Barragar from running guard, Frank Anthony from right tackle, Francis Tappaan from left end, Russ Saunders from fullback or Harry Edelson from inside halfback.

Tony Steponovich will have to be at his best to keep his right-end job as this chap Garrett Arbelbide promises to make him step his fastest. The same goes for Edelson at inside half, where Marger Apsit is a pretty dependable performer.

It is by no means certain that Saunders will make a great quarterback, but it is unlikely that Jones will jerk him from the position until he sees what Russ does against the Bruins and Oregon State. Marshall Duffield lacked only experience last year and will be right on Russ's tail throughout the season. If Jones is not completely satisfied with these two it will not be surprising to see Pinckert shifted to quarterback, although it is against the Trojan coach's principles to employ a sophomore as his regular signal caller.

SONNENBERG TO QUIT IF BEATEN

Will Retire as Soon as He Loses Bout

Has Enough Money to Take Lifelong Rest

Says Stecher Sure to be Better Than Lewis

In a statement issued yesterday by Champion Gus Sonnenberg, world's wrestling king, through Jack Daro, brother and assistant to Promoter Lou Daro, the titleholder declared he would retire from the mat game if he were defeated at the Olympic Wednesday night by Joe Stecher, the big Nebraskan, in their finish title bout.

GUS SONNENBERG

The champion stated he was through with wrestling as soon as anyone came along who proved his superior, and that he had no intentions of ever re-entering the game after he had once retired. He intends to go into the practice of law in Detroit, Mich., where he finished his college career, as soon as he is beaten.

Three very good reasons were given by the champion for wanting to take this action. The first is that he entered the game on a dare, won the title in quicker time than any heavyweight who had ever held it before him, and set a record of having lost only one fall since he has been in the game, despite the fact he had met most of the proven topnotchers in the game. The second was that he had made enough money to be independent the remainder of his life, and thirdly because every time he went into the ring he took his life into his hands. Doctors who examined Sonnenberg's head injury after he landed out of the ring in missing a tackle at Ed Lewis in their first bout declared another injury of like character would probably prove fatal to him.

"I have been in the wrestling game for the past twenty months," according to Sonnenberg's statement, "and now I am ready to permanently retire as soon as I have been beaten, whether it is by Stecher or any other worthy challenger.

The champion is said to expect a tougher bout than any he has had with Lewis when he meets Stecher Wednesday night. He has scheduled a hard workout for this afternoon, and a light one for tomorrow. He is in perfect condition for the battle.

In addition to the title match, Daro has three other star bouts on the same card. Nick Lutze will meet Jack O'Malley in the special event; Marin Plestina will clash with Nick Velcoff in the second bout, while Steve Malco will meet Ad Herman in the opener.

MACK IS FAVORED OVER HESS IN OLYMPIC GO

Eddie Mack and Goldie Hess were both under 133 pounds when they took final workouts yesterday, leaving no doubt as to their being legitimate junior lightweights.

Hess was still a short-ender in the betting, although there seems to be more Hess money than Mack. They meet tomorrow night in one of the best naturals the Olympic has had for many weeks.

The beach district, which saw young Goldie come up out of the ranks, is naturally pulling for him. He draws practically every fan from Ocean Park to Long Beach.

CARTER BACK

Wildcat Carter, who figured in the dramatic tenth-round ending with Hess a few weeks ago, is back in town and will be introduced in the ring tomorrow night.

The Mack fight figures to be the acid test for the little sleek-haired Dutch-Irishman. He is 20 years of age today.

By coincidence he and Mack claim to have the same number of bouts. Both will be fighting their seventy-first battle tomorrow night. Mack claims a few more knockouts with thirty-five. Hess has scored thirty kayoes.

Fans are still in a quandary as to just how good Hess is as a fighter. He is going through much the same gauntlet that Ace Hudkins did here four years ago.

Many doubted that Hudkins would go far with his style, but he kept right on winning and Hess may do the same thing.

Judged on the figures Hess doesn't rate the short end of the betting because he has been beating better men than Mack had to face in his two Coast appearances.

Hess has clicked over Santiago Zorilla, Bud Taylor, Tod Morgan and Carter, while Mack has stopped Baby Sal Sorio and Doc Snell, one a youngster and the other badly shopworn.

GREAT STYLE

However, Mack has a splendid style. His footwork takes him in and out and he shoots the one-two punch to perfection much on the order of Gene Tunney. In fact, Mack claims to have copied the Tunney system of boxing and has written a book explaining it from the teacher's standpoint.

Mack has booked passage by plane to Denver and will leave the morning after the Hess bout. He boxes El Paso Joe Rivers in Denver Friday night and then is booked in Chicago with Tony Canzoneri.

Sid Torres and Charlie Sullivan meet in the Hess-Mack semi while Joe Noto and Frankie Arregon box the other six.

Joe Anderson is here from Portland and his manager, Jimmy Dougherty, will check in tomorrow morning.

The Anderson-Hudkins rematch is causing a lot of interest already. Hudkins returns from the springs today and will be taking his shots at the Main-street club the remainder of the week.

CAMPOLO TAKES RUNOUT POWDER ON SCOTT BOUT

BY JACK FARRELL

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—What has all the earmarks of the beginning of Victorio Campolo's expected runout on Promoter Humbert J. Fugazy in favor of the Madison Square Garden Corporation came today in the announcement from the Fugazy offices that the Phil Scott-Campolo battle, to have been fought at Ebbets Field, Brooklyn, this week, had been indefinitely postponed.

The postponement was at the request of the Argentine heavyweight, who recently got into line for a long-term contract with the Garden outfit. Campolo, according to Fugazy, stated his training had been interfered with seriously by an injury to his back, and he asked that the fight be set back to Monday, the 23rd inst., so that he could have a few more days in which to get in to shape.

Fugazy, his hands tied more or less by the South American's demand, announced he was agreeable to the later date and would ask the New York State Athletic Commission at its meeting Tuesday to approve the change. But insiders incline to believe Campolo's back may continue to ail until he sails for his scheduled vacation in his native land near the end of the month.

PHILADELPHIA BOUT TAKES SPOTLIGHT

NEW YORK, Sept. 15. (AP)—Another postponement of the Phil Scott-Victorio Campolo bout has robbed the national boxing calendar of its principal attraction this week. With this card off the books, Philadelphia will take the fistic spotlight for the week. Taylor and Gunwis have an all-star card at the Phillies' ball park on Wednesday night. Benny Bass, Philadelphia junior lightweight, meets Amando Santiago of Cuba in the ten-round main bout. Bruce Flowers, New Rochelle negro lightweight, is matched with King Tut, Minneapolis slugger, in the semifinal. Pete Mebom, Seminole Indian junior lightweight, tackles Johnny Farr of Cleveland, and Billy Wallace of Philadelphia meets Pinky Kaufman of Hartford, Ct., lightweight, in two other ten-rounders.

At the Chicago Stadium Friday, Tuffy Griffith, Sioux City heavyweight who knocked out Ludwig Haymann of Germany here last week, meets George Cook, Australia, in a ten-rounder. Al Fay vs. Al Friedman and Salvatore Ruggirello vs. Pete Wistort are the other feature bouts.

Bushy Graham, Utica, N. Y., and Andy Martin, Boston featherweight, clash in the Boston Garden's windup on Friday night.

Monday—At New York, Dexter Park: Jack (Kid) Berg, England, vs. Georgie Balduc, Lewiston, Me. At Cincinnati: Harry Fierro, Chicago, vs. Tony [illegible], Toledo, featherweights, ten rounds.

Tuesday—At Queensboro Stadium, New York: Harry Ebbets, Freeport, vs. Izzy Grove, Bronx, middleweights, ten rounds. At Portland, Or.: Lone Tom Hawkins, Los Angeles, vs. Del Wolfe, Bellingham, Wash., heavyweights, ten rounds. At Los Angeles: Goldie Hess vs. Eddie Mack, lightweights, ten rounds.

Wednesday—At Toledo: K.O. Morgan, Toledo, vs. Joey Richell, Chicago, and Chuck Feltman, Toledo, vs. Ray Kosky, Chicago, all lightweights, each eight rounds.

Friday—At Toledo: Henry Perlick, Kalamazoo, vs. Eddie Anderson, Chicago, and Herman Perlick, Kalamazoo, vs. Ray Newton, [illegible], O., all lightweights, each ten rounds. At Hollywood, Cal.: Young Nationalista vs. Clayton Gould, flyweights, ten rounds.

Comet Wins Elsinore Race

LAKE ELSINORE, Sept. 15.—Coming up from behind in both feature races of the first fall regatta of Southern California Outboard Association here today, the Crandall Comet, piloted by Johnny Adams of Newport Beach, carried off high honors and the O. K. Hunsaker Cup, a fine perpetual challenge trophy that brought more than twenty-five boats into the speedy contest.

The Crandall Comet and C. L. Covington's Diamond C ran close in the first ten-mile heat, Adams taking the lead by clever driving on the last turn. In the second heat Adams was away to a bad start, rounding the first marker in fifth place but passed the leaders one by one and went over the line two boat lengths to the good. His best time for ten miles was 16m. 42 1-5s.

Louisa Fox won the girls' race with Anita Martin second. Mildred Milde turned turtle in the first race while leading a field of nineteen male drivers.

Sunbeam, with C. R. Roche at the stick, took the honors in Class C, Division One races, while A. G. Martin in Salome was first in both heats of Class B races.

FINE FIELD FOR LOCAL TOURNEY

Eastern Professionals May Enter Southland Open

The Southern California open golf championship, which will be played over the Sunset Fields public courses the week of October 14-18 will draw by far the best field of entrants this event has ever seen, according to J. A. Patterson, secretary of the Professional Golfers' Association of Southern California.

Not only will all of Southern California's finest professional players; Willie Hunter, Fred Morrison, Olin Dutra, Charley Guest, Chet Beer and many another be among those present, but officials of the local professional association are confident that a number of the leading professional players of the East will be in Los Angeles for this tournament.

On Monday, October 14, an amateur-professional tournament will be played. In this event pros and amateurs may select their own partners and it is expected that every country club in Southern California will have at least two teams in the competition.

The tournament proper will start on Tuesday, October 15, and players who participated in the amateur-pro event will find their contestant badges good for admission for the entire three days to follow. The strength of this tournament is to be found in the large entry. Last year more than 140 players participated in the championship. This year an even greater field of players is looked for.

TIGERS WIN

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15. (AP)—Detroit and Washington battled eight innings to a 3-to-3 tie in the second game of a double-header today after the Tigers had won the first contest, 16 to 2.

Marberry and Uhle were in great form in the no-decision game, which was halted by darkness. The Senators rallied and took the lead after Detroit had opened with a two-run attack, but the Tigers evened the count in the last inning.

In the opener the Tigers hammered three Washington pitchers for sixteen hits, including Hargrave's home run. Scores:

Dr. Horsfall Swim Victor

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 15. (AP)—Dr. George Horsfall of the Olympic Club today won the fifth annual San Francisco Chronicle's Golden Gate swim. He covered the one-mile-and-three-quarters course across the entrance to San Francisco Bay in 46m. 34s.

Carl Stevenson, Olympic Club, placed second, the position he finished in last year, in 47m. 22s., while George Schroth, Olympic Club, 1928 winner, came in fifth.

Of approximately 150 starters, seventy-nine finished.

ANGELS DROP DOUBLE BILL

which was quite satisfactory to the house of Nick Williams.

The Great Mails has been pitching about fifteen years and his experience includes some games in a world's series, but he got the biggest thrill of his baseball career in the third inning of the morning game when he belted a home run with the bases all clogged with Seals.

The Seals had a couple of runners on in that inning when Wingo was sent to bat for McIsaacs. Manager Lelivelt promptly ordered Walsh to walk Wingo and bring up Mails with the bases filled.

The first two pitches were balls. "Take one," yelled Manager Nick Williams to the Great Mails.

Pitcher Walsh thought the Great Mails would obey orders, so he flung the next ball right in there. Unfortunately for him he put the ball right where the Great Mails was swinging and it was sent soaring over the Palisades, four runs scoring.

The Great Mails was laughing so hard that he could hardly circle the bases. He did fall down after reaching the home plate.

"Nick fined me $50 for disobeying orders," yelled Mails to a friend in the stands.

Mails pitched good ball in the morning and he did not falter despite the bad support he got in the third inning when the Angels scored three runs. After Mails got that home run with the bases loaded, it was just too bad for the Angels the rest of the route.

Curtis Davis, the tall, silent man from the wilds of Oregon, watched the Great Mails closely in the morning and got some pointers on hitting. As a result he hit a home run, a double and a single in the afternoon and batted in three runs. There was just no use of the Angels trying to win with Mails and Davis slugging so savagely.

In the afternoon six home runs were made. Carl Holling hit one and Earl Webb hit two for the Angels. For the Seals Suhr, Crosetti and Davis hit for round trips.

Peters, a southpaw, had bothered the Seals in two games when he acted as relief pitcher, started in the afternoon and the Seals belted him hard and often, nicking him for six runs in the six innings he pitched. They got the other three off Pliitt, the Chinese herb doctor, in the eighth.

Davis was hit freely, but he was steady. Scores:

STARS AGAIN LEAD RACE

Joe Marty, the third of Hollywood's hurlers, walked Finn to start the round and then Ike Boone belted one over the center-field barrier to knot the count. Hank Hulvey then replaced Marty and retired the side after Fuzzy Hufft had greeted him with a single.

That set the stage for Mr. Rumler and Big Bill made good use of the limelight by slapping a mighty wallop over the center-field fence to break up the old ball game.

Augie Johns and Harry Krause, a couple of left-handers, were the starting hurlers, but both were unequal to the situation and were followed by numerous other purveyors of the pitching trade. McQuaid and Caster followed Krause, while Wetzel, Marty and Hulvey were called upon by Vitt before the game ended. Hulvey was credited with the victory, while Caster was charged with the defeat, his second of the week.

After two were out in the first, the Reds got a run off Johns when Boone, Hufft and Sherlock singled.

JOHNS GETS HOOK

Johns didn't appear to be enthused about his work in that first round so Wetzel was pitching for Hollywood when the second started. Burns got by the second, but Finn kissed one over the left-field fence in the third for the circuit. That, by the way, was Finn's first home run of the season.

Hollywood got to Krause for a run in the third when Holley, Rollings and Funk singled.

The Stars took the lead in the fourth and drove Krause to cover. Rumler got his first homer of the game for a starter and Heath singled and Carlyle doubled to end Krause's tenure on the mound. McQuaid came to the rescue and disposed of Holley on a pop fly to Mulligan. Wetzel was thrown out by Finn, but Heath scored and Carlyle took third. Lee dropped a double on the left-field line to score Carlyle.

Wetzel was chased in the fifth, during which Finn doubled and scored on Boone's single and, after two were out, Christensen walked. Marty ended the inning by retiring Slade on a pop fly to Holley.

Hollywood had the bases filled with none out in the home half of the fifth, but some dumb base running prevented any scoring.

MARTY HITS HOMER

McQuaid retired for a pinch hitter in the sixth and Caster was greeted in the home half by Marty's home-run drive into the center-field stands. That stretched the Hollywood lead to two runs.

Marty walked Finn in the seventh and Boone followed with his homer to knot the count, but Rumler came through with another circuit clout for the Stars to end the game before a man was out in the Hollywood half.

Pillette, who tamed the Stars handily in last Tuesday's series opener, was anything but a puzzle to the Sheik sluggers yesterday. Big Herm lasted until the fourth inning and seven of the Hollywood runs were charged against him.

Eli Funk led the attack for the Sheiks by belting out a double and two singles in four trips to the plate. Carlyle, Rumler and Rollings also helped the Hollywood cause along by collecting two hits apiece.

The Stars took a three-run lead in the second, which opened with Rumler doubling to center and scoring when Carlyle's bouncer took a funny hop past Finn for another two-bagger. Heath and Bassler went out, but Holley worked Pillette for a walk. Hollerson then doubled off the left center-field fence to bring Carlyle and Holley over the plate.

Hollerson got into a peck of trouble in the Mission third, but got out of the situation with only one run scoring. After Pillette had fanned, Mulligan and Finn singled and Boone walked to fill the bases. Hufft was disposed of on a sacrifice fly to Funk, Mulligan scoring. Hollerson then walked Sherlock to again fill th base, but Hollerson tossed out Christensen to end the round.

Doubles by Funk and Carlyle, an error by Pillette and Heath's fielder's choice gave the Stars two more markers in their half of the third.

NEVERS TO RESCUE

Pillette got the first two Stars to face him out in the fourth, but then Rollings and Funk singled, Rumler was hit by a pitched ball and Carlyle walked to force in a run. Nevers here replaced Pillette and contributed a balk that forced Funk in with the second run of the round.

Nevers got by unscored on for two rounds, but Heath homed in the seventh and Hollerson duplicated the stunt in the eighth to make the score, 9 to 1.

Hollerson needed that lead in the ninth for Hoffman, Nevers, Mulligan, Hufft and Sherlock laced him for safeties in the final round to put across the final three Mission markers. Score:

UPSETS FEATURE JUNIOR MEET AT AMBASSADOR

Two surprising upsets featured the final rounds yesterday of the first semiannual Ambassador junior tennis tournament at the hotel courts. The victims were Clifton Robbins of U.C.L.A., seeded first in the junior singles and beaten in straight sets by James Babbitt, Pasadena, and Leonard Patterson, boys' favorite, eliminated by Marvin Woodside of El Monte, after three hectic frames.

Though Robbins was an odds-on favorite to capture the junior boys' crown, Bobbitt was given an outside chance to spill his more experienced foe, and this he did, and to perfection, winning at 6-3, 6-2. The victor matched the vanquished stroke for stroke, both off forehand and backhand, but his winning shots were drop balls just over the barrier, and brilliant net placements. Robbins fought hard in each of the two sets, but after games reached 3-3 in both sets, cracked under the strain.

Leonard Patterson was merely nosed out by Marvin Woodside in the boys' final 5-7, 7-5, 6-1. The El Monte star stormed the net, ran to every side of the court, and made an attempt for every ball and, retrieving a goodly portion of these placements by Patterson, was enabled to turn back his adversary's challenge for laurels and emerge the victor.

Several exhibition tilts held the fans' interest in the afternoon. Jack Tidball captured a single set from Ben Gorchakoff at 6-2 following which Gorchakoff paired with Art Kussman to down Lester Stoefen and Sidney Wood in two fast sets of 6-3, 6-3. Miss Midge Gladman and Gorchakoff split even with Jack De Lara and Mary Taylor at 6-3, 2-6.

Dorothy Workman of El Monte conquered Marion Wood of Santa Monica for the girls' junior laurels. The junior men's doubles went to Leonard Patterson and Jack Tidball who swept through Cliff Robbins and Orville Scholtz in two easy sets of 6-3, 6-4.

The first semiannual affair was originated and staged by Vernon Bud Campbell, Ambassador tennis pro, and Dick Charnock, A. G. Spalding tennis representative.

The summary:

Boys' singles, final—Marvin Woodside defeated Len Patterson, 5-7, 7-5, 6-1.

Girls' singles, final—Gracyn Wheeler defeated Helen Bouss, 6-0, 6-1.

Junior boys', final—Bobbitt defeated Robbins, 6-3, 6-2.

Junior girls, final—Miss Workman defeated Miss Woods, 6-0, 3-6, 6-1.

Junior doubles, final—Patterson-Tidball defeated Scholtz-Robbins, 6-3, 6-4.

OAKS CAPTURE DOUBLE-HEADER

Portland Swamped Twice by Acorn Crew

OAKLAND, Sept. 15. (AP)—The Oaks captured a double-header here today, winning the morning game from Portland, 10 to 2, and taking the Ducks into camp again in the afternoon by a score of 6 to 3. Howard's men hit the ball hard in the first session, cracking out fifteen safeties to the losers' nine. Kasich held the Ducks to six hits in the matinee affair, while his teammates gathered nine off the combined efforts of Chesterfield and Tomlin. Fenton, with three hits, led the Oaks at bat. Scores:

BRUIN GRIDMEN TO WORK HARD

practice, both in the morning and afternoon.

Spaulding must decide on a backfield this week. His line is pretty certain to be the same as last year with one or two exceptions. Stan Gould is missing and so is Tandy this year. Otherwise the front wall will look the same as it did last year. The line should average around 180 pounds as the Bruins have some big beefy looking guys geared for action this season.

TOUGH SPOT

The backfield proposition is the thing that will probably keep Spaulding awake at nights. Joe Fleming, Earl Fields and Bert La Brucherie have graduated and they left holes in the backfield that look bigger than some of those which they are filling in around the new Westwood buildings.

True enough the Bruins have a number of fine prospects from the freshmen squad and several regulars from last year who may fill the places of the departed stars to perfection but that all remains to be seen.

In Norman Duncan, 185-pound triple threat star from Santa Barbara, Spaulding has one of the finest looking fullback candidates in Bruin football history. Duncan played with the frosh team last season, in fact he captained the yearlings and he was by far the outstanding performer. Duncan has all the earmarks of being a "honey," the boys around Westwood say.

LIKELY PROSPECTS

Chet Smith, Howie Roberts and Aubrey Grossman, three lads from the frosh squad of last season, may also do things this season that may lighten Spaulding's worries a bit. Smith came to the Bruins from a little school in Imperial Valley. He is said to be a cracking good ball toter. Roberts was a mild sensation last season with his kicking performances. Fred Oster, Bruin frosh coach, claims Roberts has a real educated toe. Grossman played at L.A. High before going Bruin.

Spaulding also has a few good bets from the varsity squad of 1928. Buddy Forrester is back again. So is Cliff Simpson, Jerry Russom, Rubin Thoe, Ted Dennis, Ancil Brenlman and Rod Lillyquist. Forrester is a tiny fellow but he is a wow in an open field with a football tucked under his arm. He is the lad that surprised the Stanford Redshirts by running for a touchdown against them last season.

THOE EXPECTED

Thoe did not show for the opening practice session but Spaulding expects him on the job this morning. He may use him at fullback part time with Duncan. Simpson is very likely to get first call on the quarterback berth with Forrester doing the alternating.

A number of transfers from junior colleges are expected to check in this week and the Bruins may have a few surprises in store before they announce their regular line-up for the opening game.

The Bruins report at 9:30 at Westwood. They will work until 12 noon and then knock off for two hours. They return again at 2 p.m. and work until dusk.

How to Check Golf Swaying

More and more as Tolley takes his driver slowly back does his left shoulder and hip come down and around and his left knee bend in toward the right. The left heel also rises. What weight is on that foot is carried on the inside of its ball and big toe.

Now how does he check this transfer of his weight to prevent him losing balance by swaying too much to his right side? Note the line of his right side at the halfway mark of the backswing. It is a straight one from his right shoulder down to the heel. The check is the right leg. It straightens and takes the weight. And as his body pivot is about a stationary backbone, as we learned in a previous article, balance is thus preserved and swaying so prevented.

There must be resistance on the backswing to prevent swaying just as there must be resistance to the much more vigorous through swing, else balance is lost and the shot foozled. The legs and the stationary backbone offer this resistance in each case. Tomorrow: "Let Us Look at Tolley at the Top."

Your game is as good as your drive. Write Sol Metzger, care of The Times, requesting his free leaflet on "Driving." Inclose stamped, addressed envelope.

Wills Handed Unlucky Break

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 15. (AP)—Andres Castano, of Spain, successfully defended his Mexican heavyweight championship tonight when he won from Harry Wills, erstwhile "black menace" of American rings, on a foul in the first round of their ten-round bout.

Wills outclassed the Spaniard in the first round but made the serious mistake of hitting Castano on the jaw after the bell rang. Wills apparently had not heard the gong. Castano, after momentary hesitation, dropped to the canvas and then refused to proceed with the bout. The judges immediately awarded him the decision on a foul.

The crowd of 20,000 in the First National Stadium booed lustily, and threw seat cushions at Castano, who was escorted from the ring by police. Wills was given an ovation.

SENATORS TRIM INDIANS TWICE

Sacs Win Double-Header to Annex Series

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 15. (AP)—Sacramento took a pair of cuts at the lowly Indians here today to win the series by the odd game. The morning game at Stockton was won by the score of 7 to 2, and the afternoon game went 6 to 5. Larry Gillick, a rookie, hurled the first win but it took Bryan, Gano and Jones to get away with the second, opposing Earl Kuns, a former Senator. A five-run drive in the eighth of the nightcap drove Bryan to cover. The Sacs scored two in their half to eke out the victory for Jones. Scores:

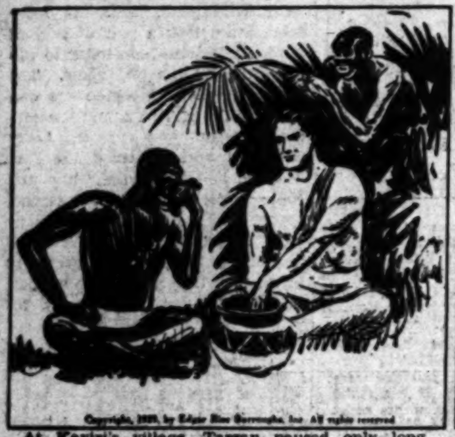
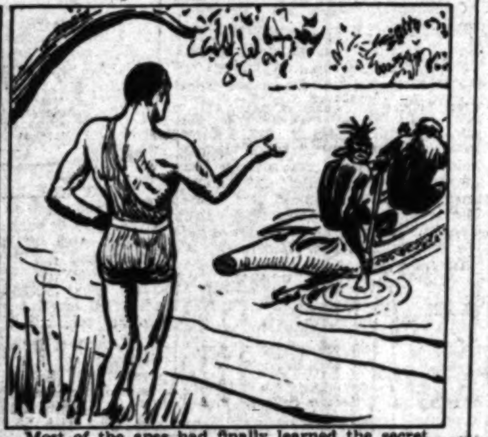
THE BEASTS OF TARZAN

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

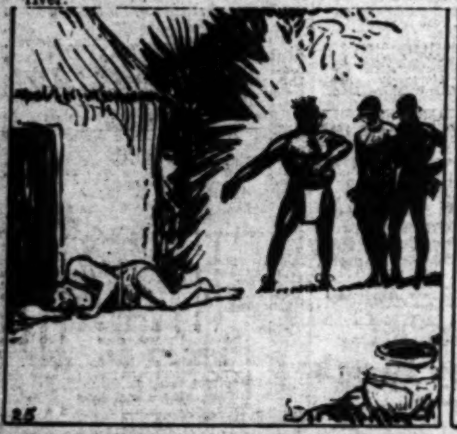


Copyright, 1929, by Edgar Rice Burroughs, Inc. All rights reserved

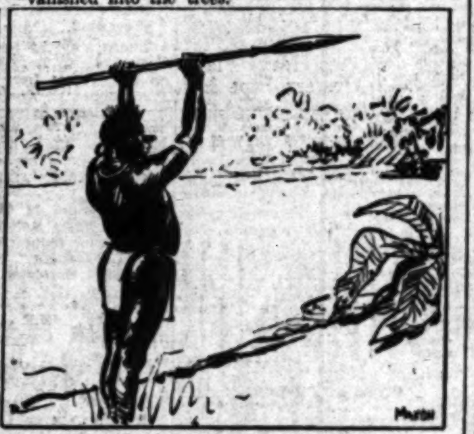
At Kaviri's village, Tarzan paused only long enough for food and to arrange with the chief for several strong warriors to help man the canoe in place of those apes who had been done to death. He had decided to follow the strange white people of whom Kaviri spoke. So it was with a sigh of relief that the chief saw Tarzan's canoe, with its weird crew, disappear up the river.



Most of the apes had finally learned the secret of the paddles. Three days the strange company continued farther and farther into the heart of savage Africa. Then Tarzan made a landing. He explained to Mugambi the thing he had in mind and bid the apes of Akut remain with the black man. "I will come back in a few days," he said, "after I find the very bad white men." Then he vanished into the trees.



Two days later Tarzan came upon a large village. From their wicked-looking chief he learned that Rokoff's party had passed up the river a week before. He decided to rest a few hours that he might be fresh and strong when he caught up with the white men. The sharp-filed teeth of this tribe denoted they were cannibals. But knowing no fear of man, beast or devil, the ape-man curled himself up and was soon asleep.



Scarcely had he done so than the chief called two of his swiftest warriors to whom he whispered a few instructions. A moment later these sleek, black bodies were racing along the river path, up-stream, toward the east. Three hours later several canoes came silently into view. Upon the river bank stood the chief, his spear raised in a horizontal position above his head, as though it were a signal to the boats.

ELKS' LODGE OF CITY TO CELEBRATE

Constitution Day Will Be Observed on Wednesday; Service Open to Public

Constitution Day will be observed by the Los Angeles Elks' Lodge on Wednesday evening. The ritualistic service is to be open to the public. This event is commemorated annually by each of the 1600 lodges and is attended by a total audience of more than 1,000,000 persons, being one of the few occasions when every lodge room is open to nonmembers.

Exalted Ruler Edward A. Gibbs has designated Henry B. Learned as chairman of the meeting, in the absence of United States District Judge McCormick. Rabbi Edgar F. Magnin of B'nai B'rith Temple has been chosen as orator.

The program follows:

(1.) Organ, medley of patriotic airs, Sibley G. Pease.

(2.) Ritual, officers of the lodge.

(4.) Solo, George Finney, baritone.

(5.) Address, "America's Challenge," Edgar F. Magnin.

Participating officers will include Mr. Gibbs, Maj. Frank S. Hutton, Charles J. O'Hara, Judge McComb, Harry Owens, J. D. Thomas, Judge Schauer, Frank W. Akers, Frank A. Gioia, Ralph J. Scott, Charles M. Morgan and W. Clayton Ward.

Elks' organizations which will appear on the program include Greater 99 Band, Harold William Roberts, director; Elks' orchestra, Harry Fredeen, director; chanters, J. Arthur Lewis, director; White Squadron drill team, Elmer Garrett, captain. The entertainment program, to follow the meeting, will be presented by Gavin Young.

Prior to the services at 8 o'clock the Slusher collection of art will be open to public view on the entrance floor of the temple.

LLOYD SOON TO EXHIBIT NEW TALKIE

Manager Fraser Goes East to Arrange Distribution of Comedy Picture

William R. Fraser, general manager of the Harold Lloyd Corporation, left last night for New York for conferences with executives of Paramount to arrange for the release of Lloyd's first all-talking comedy. According to present plans the picture probably will have its premiere in New York and Los Angeles the latter part of October.

Lloyd finished production on the picture, which has been titled "Welcome Danger," several weeks ago, and it now is ready for exhibition following several previews in and around Los Angeles. Before leaving last night Mr. Fraser said he had received reports from different parts of the world telling of the reception being accorded American-made talking pictures.

"The German boycott on American talking pictures is more than counter-balanced by the way England, Australia and Japan are receiving our product," Mr. Fraser declared. "It may seem strange, but Japan probably will develop into one of our greatest markets for talking pictures.

"Australia literally has gone mad over them, and, according to information I have on hand now, exhibitors in the British Isles are setting new records everywhere with American dialogue pictures."

Drifting Skiff Towed to Port

Either abandoned at sea or accidentally cut loose from its moorings, a thirty-foot skiff bearing the registration number 8593 was found adrift yesterday afternoon ten miles north of Avalon by Capt. J. H. Freedberg of the Charlotte F.

The skiff was towed into Los Angeles Harbor by Capt. Freedberg and an attempt to locate its owner will be made today. The cabin of the small craft was locked, but there was fishing tackle on deck which evidently had been used within the last few days.

RETIRED RAILROADER VICTIM OF APOPLEXY

He leaves a widow, Mrs. Edith Henry, two sons, John, Jr., and George, and four daughters, Mrs. C. E. Lowell of Berkeley, Mrs. George Rossel, Mrs. Milo Goodfriend and Miss Virginia Henry. Arrangements for the funeral will be made on the arrival of Mrs. Lowell from Berkeley. The body is at the Todd & Leslie, mortuary in Santa Monica.

FIREMEN UP TODAY FOR QUIZ

Four Face Investigation on Charge of Bootleg Activities

A hearing on the "bootleg" charges against four members of the fire department will be held at [illegible] o'clock this morning before the trial board of fire chiefs in the Hill-street headquarters, according to Deputy Chief Frank C. McDowell.

McDowell, who is investigating the charges for the department, states that outside investigators are working on the case. The evidence, he said, will not be divulged until after the hearing today. While other members of the department have been questioned in regard to the case, McDowell stated that interrogation of the four men is being deferred to the last.

The Fire Commission, while keenly interested in developments, is leaving the matter up to the trial board. When the latter makes its recommendations the commission will take any official action necessary, it was stated by commissioners yesterday.

THIEF DOESN'T PLAY FAIR

Handicapped by a baby in his arms, Ralph E. Pierce of 300 Laveta Terrace lost his wallet containing $27 to a pickpocket late Saturday night, he reported to police yesterday. The theft occurred in front of the postoffice, Pierce stated.

Pierce said he felt the thief lift the purse from a hip pocket, but was unable to stop him because of the baby in his arms. The thief escaped by dodging into the crowd entering the postoffice.

When a woman at Market Bosworth, Eng., recently started to put on her hat she found that it contained a wasps' nest.

OWNERS TO LEARN COST OF PROJECT

In order that property owners in the district which would pay for the improvement may know its exact cost before holding a bond election, the City Council has directed the City Engineer to prepare plans and the Board of Public Works to receive alternate bids for the improvement of Plummer street westerly from Santa Susanna avenue and portions of adjoining streets.

Wife Gets Job So She Won't Simmer Away

Mrs. Clara Foss likes to work but she refused to work around the house, Elmer Foss told Superior Judge Schauer, who granted him a divorce decree.

When Foss was married, he said, his wife agreed to stay home and attend to her domestic duties. But it was not for long. Soon she was out looking for a job and she told her husband she would rather work in an office than a home. She is an expert stenographer.

Attorney S. S. Hahn for the plaintiff introduced a letter from the defendant as corroboration. It read: "I can not break the harness habit—the habit of getting out into the world and doing things. If I stayed at home I would simply simmer away to nothing."

Artists to Have Home-coming Fete Thursday

The annual home-coming artists' dinner of the California Art Club is scheduled for Thursday evening. Roaming members of the painter-sculptor organization, many of whom have sojourned in art centers abroad during the past year, while others have been painting in the mountains and along the coast during the summer months, are expected to be treking back to their city studios in time for the event.

Those who will be honored at this Bohemian affair are those members who have traveled farthest and remained away longest from the fold. The artists will tell their adventures during the period away from home.

WIFE RESENTS SPANKINGS

Mrs. Elda McDonald sued her husband for divorce because he spanked her, it appears from Superior Court records where a complaint against Alexander McDonald is on file.

The complaint asserts that last Ma- 30, sixteen days after the couple was married, McDonald ordered his wife to go to bed, and when she wouldn't do it, he turned her over his knee and paddled her farmly.

"I'll show you who's boss in this house," he remarked as the slipper rose and fell, according to the complaint.

On another occasion he pulled her hair vigorously to teach her to "be broad minded and laugh at his jokes," the petition asserts.

PETITION RECIEVED FOR CONDEMNATION

A petition has been received by the City Council asking that steps be taken to condemn the necessary land to make Rosewood avenue between Vermont and New Hampshire avenues a forty-five-foot roadway between curbs. It has been referred to the City Engineer and the Street Opening and Widening Committee.

WIFE RESENTS ACCUSATION

Mrs. Eleanor Marshall greatly resented being called a "gold digger" by her husband, Joseph Marshall, she told Superior Judge Tappaan when granted a divorce. She also testified that her husband blackened both here eyes and would stay away from home for days at a time.

In memory of local men who fell in the World War, Lord Jellicoe recently opened a Garden of Remembrance in Broomfield Park, London.

Gas Patent Suit Filed in Court

Suit by the [illegible] Company against [illegible] Corporation, is on file in United States District Court. The plaintiff company asserts that the defendant company infringed on a patent owned by the plaintiff for the [illegible]ination of natural gas during the pumping of oil and gas.

Can Flaming Youth get away with MURDER?

Speed—speed—speed . . . "Let's go!" "Step on it!" "Fill 'em up again!"

Fast workers and loose morals . . . playing fast and loose with an age-old code . . . SOMEONE HAD TO PAY!

But when a gunshot writes "paid in full" on Patricia Stratton's debt of honor, the astounding thrills of "FAST LIFE" are just beginning.

"The pace that kills" had killed Rodney Hall. Was his life too much to pay for Life? Or can the younger generation get away with MURDER!

"FAST LIFE"

Thanks to Vitaphone, "Fast Life" emerges as the truest and most vital drama of our times. So startling are Vitaphone's life-like qualities that you will feel as well as hear every vivid scene in this supreme all-talking epic of today's unrest.

Notice how Vitaphone's perfect voice recording adds to the tenseness of the scores of "big moments" with which "Fast Life" is studded. Notice, too, how Vitaphone reveals hidden treasures of charm and talent in the many famous favorites in the cast.

No wonder Vitaphone pictures have become the favorite recreation of thousands who used to say "I never go to the movies." It will pay you to make sure that the theatre you attend displays the Vitaphone sign. That is the one way to avoid the annoyance of unsatisfactory imitations of this first and foremost of all talking screen devices.
